Rockefeller Blames Ave for New Tax Increases

Says Lack Of Facts Is Reason

Governor Begins TVBudgetAppeals

NEW YORK (AP)—Gov. Rockefeller has launched a television campaign in defense of his budget by charging that former Gov. Averell Harriman's budget policies make the proposed tax increases necessary.

The Republican governor told a statewide TV audience Thursday night:

"If we had had a full disclosure of the facts during the past four years we wouldn't find ourselves in the fiscal situation in which we are today because you wouldn't have permitted it."

Revenue Under Spending

Under his Democratic predecessor, Rockefeller said, state expenditures increased by 50 per cent but revenues by only 33 per cent. He also said the state debt had increased from the equivalent of $42 per person to $86 per person.

The 15-minute talk started a new phase in the governor's defense of the $2,041,000,000 spending plan he has recommended for the fiscal year beginning April 1.

The governor will defend his program of tax increases in another TV appearance tonight. He proposes an increase of 277 million dollars, including 150 million dollars in income taxes.

Rockefeller's spending and taxing programs have drawn fire from some Republican legislators as well as from Democrats.

After Rockefeller's kickoff TV talk, Democratic State Chairman Michael H. Prendergast said in a statement:

"Gov. Rockefeller's TV tax blitz proved once again that you can't sell taxes the way you sell soap suds. . .

"Instead of spending time on TV spectaculars, he might try listening to the people." . . .

Wilson Defends Program

At Utica meanwhile, Lt. Gov. Malcolm Wilson, defended the governor's tax increase program.

At an Oneida County Republican Committee dinner, Wilson said "I fear people are unduly upset" over the proposed higher taxes.

Asked about the tax protests by some Upstate Republican legislators, Wilson said they were merely exercising their power to act on the budget.

Rockefeller's defense of his tax program tonight will be carried over the Upstate ABC network from 6:30 to 6:45 p. m.

On the telecast, Rockefeller promised economies during the coming year.

In making up the current proposed budget, he said he had cut $231,000,000 from the $2,272,000,000 request made by the outgoing Harriman administration, and eliminated 9,000 proposed new jobs in the process.

"But even so," he continued, "with the past deficits and the essential increases in service we had to meet, the state is faced today with a gravely serious fiscal situation."

Rockefeller also said:

"I recommended a budget to provide these services and I have recommended taxes to pay for them. We have a tremendous responsibility to face up to the realities of where we are today..."

No Comment Given In Police, DA Case

District Attorney Raymond J. Mino discussed requested removal of a staff assistant from city court coverage at a meeting of the Board of Police Commissioners on Thursday evening, but today withheld any comment on his report.

Mayor Edwin F. Radel, president of the board, said today the police commissioners "at the insistance of the district attorney" were committed to keeping the entire contents of Mino's report "in strict confidence."

The board, in other action last night, discussed a grievance by the Kingston Patrolmen's Association dealing with the new work schedule; condition of present patrol cars, and unanimously praised Officer Myer Levy for his recent act of heroism in saving the life of a fellow patrolman.

Kept Confidential

District Attorney Mino told The Freeman today he had "no comment" on his discussion with the police board last night in the matter of Assistant District Attorney John E. Gotelli, stopped Jan. 8 by patrolmen after allegedly driving 70 miles an hour on Albany Avenue.

Mayor Radel said the district attorney attended last night's meeting at his invitation, but like Mino declined any comment, claiming the latter had insisted his report be kept in strict confidence.

Officer Is Fined

The controversy stems from the Jan. 8 incident when Gotelli was stopped on Albany Avenue for alleged speeding by Officers John Houghtaling and John Turck. Houghtaling was later fined for apparent failure to take proper police action when violation of the law was existent within his jurisdiction. He was fined two days salary.

Houghtaling was brought before the police on Jan. 17, and the matter was turned over to Acting Chief Robert F. Murphy to determine disciplinary action. A few days later the chief imposed the fine on the officer.

The officer, in a report filed with Acting Chief Murphy on Jan 13, said that while on a tour of duty on Albany Avenue about 2:10 a. m. he gave chase to a car operated by Gotelli.

'Starts Off' Again

Houghtaling claimed he clocked the car at about 70 miles per hour near Ten Broeck Avenue, stopped Gotelli at St, James Street and Broadway. The officer said when he "saw who the driver was he (Gotelli) just laughted and started to take off again."

Houghtaling reported he pulled the police car in front of Gotelli, got out "to check him out," approached Gotelli's car

Beck Convicted Of Tax Evasion; Faces 30 Years

TACOMA, Wash. (AP) — Convicted of cheating on his income tax, millionaire labor leader Dave Beck Sr., 64, spent time behind bars for the first time in his life Thursday night.

The former president of the huge Teamsters Union was found guilty on all four counts of income tax evasion—covering $240,067 for the years 1950-53 — and two counts of filing false returns. He could receive up to a five-year sentence and a $10,000 fine on each count.

Sentence Due Feb. 27

U.S. Dist. Judge George Boldt, who set sentencing for Feb. 27, was to hold an appeal bond hearing in Seattle today.

Beck's lawyers said the verdict would be appealed "all the way."

The one-time laundry truck driver, who prided himself on not smoking or drinking, appeared more shaken at having to spend the night in jail than by the verdict.

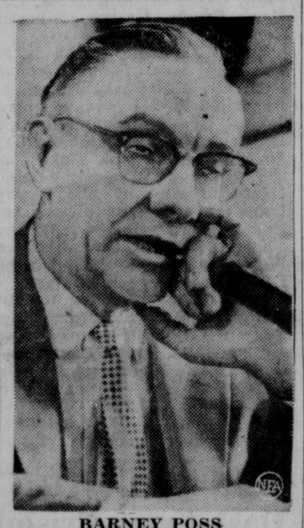

The portly Beck, nattily clad in a blue suit and polka-dot tie, gripped the edge of a table but showed little emotion as the clerk drawled "guilty" six times Thursday afternoon. Later he was heard to remark to a friend he just couldn't understand why he had to remain in jail.

$25,000 Bail Revoked

When found guilty, his $25,000 bail was revoked.

His quarters in the federal section of the city jail were a world apart from his lavish home in the so-called "Beck Compound" on

Russian Premier To Press

Would Keep Firm Grip on E. Europe

WASHINGTON (AP) — Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev apparently intends to press the Western powers hard in forthcoming talks to accept the present Communist rule of the countries of Eastern Europe.

U.S. officials said today that seems to be the significance of a blunt, little noticed section of a speech covering foreign policy issues which Khrushchev made Tuesday at Tula, a city south of Moscow.

Although Eastern European countries long have been under Communist governments, the Western powers have taken the line that Poland and Czechoslovakia, for instance, would some day gain freedom from what the West denounces as Communist tyranny.

Looking For Clues

Authorities have been analyzing the Tula speech here and in other Western capitals for clues to Khrushchev's immediate and long-range objectives in his campaign against continued Western occupation of West Berlin. They expect much better information on BANKS HOME AFTER FIRE—The above photo shows damage to the Richard Banks home, Creek Locks, caused by fire Thursday about 11 a. m. It is believed by firemen that a space heater exploded and turned the converted barn into a blazing inferno. Mrs. Banks and a son, 2, escaped. Six other children were in school. (Freeman photo).

Fire Almost Razes Creek Locks Home

Fire believed to have been caused by a kerosene space heater swept through the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Banks of Creek Locks late Thursday morning, driving Mrs. Banks and her two-year-old son into the street, and burning the two-story wooden dwelling.

Six other children were in school at the time—Alice, 17, Patricia, 15, Vicky, 11, Harry, 8, Sara, 7, and Ralph 6.

The family is staying with Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Banks 168 Downs Street.

Family in Need

The family lost everything in the fire which, fanned by high winds, swept quickly through the structure. Anyone who would care to donate clothing, furniture and household furnishings to the family may leave the items at the Bloomington Fire Department.

The fire broke out about 11 a. m. The home is located at the bottom of the hill on the Creek Locks Eddyville road in the hamlet of Creek Locks.

Enveloped in Flames

President Fred Sauer of the Bloomington Fire Department said that when Bloomington's three trucks reached the scene the home, a converted barn, was a "blazing inferno." It is believed that a kerosene heater on the first floor may have exploded.

Mrs. Banks ran out of the house into the front yard, then ran back into the house, grabbed two-year-old Chuck, and dashed out the back door.

St. Remy and Rosendale fire companies sent one truck to the scene. Tillson sent two.

Volunteers were under the supervision of Assistant Chief Vincent Finnerty of the Bloomington Fire Department.

Too Far Gone

They dug a hole in a small stream near the house and used it as a fire cistern. The fire had made too much progress, however, to save anything.

Firemen protected the stone home of Raymond LeFever on one side and a trailer home on the other side of the burning structure. The trailer is owned by the Sager family, it was reported.

Rent Control Due To Stay Despite Raucus Hearing

By CHARLES DUMAS
Associated Press Staff Writer

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—State officials pressed ahead today with plans for renewing the rent control law after a raucus and rowdy public hearing that apparently changed nobody's mind.

Most of the approximately 600 persons at the bi-annual hearing Thursday either loved or hated rent control with a passion.

The clash between landlords and tenants filled staid old Chancellors Hall with catcalls, boos, jeers and shouted insults.

Remain Militant

Even when the seven-hour-long session ended, the stragglers left in the audience still were militant.

One portly young man jumped to his feet and shook a fist in the direction of Assembly Majority Leader Joseph F. Carlino, who presided as chairman of the Temporary State Commission on Rents.

"Your hearing," the man declared, "was a fraud!"

A woman pursued Carlino into a corridor, berating him along the way and trying to press some papers onto him.

The darkly handsome Carlino politely asked her to give the papers to an aide, then took refuge in a men's room.

Big Change Unlikely

Indications were that, despite the outraged cries of landlords against rent control and tenants' pleas for stiffer curbs, the state law will be continued for another two years without major change.

The Republican-controlled Commission was inclined toward the plan proposed by Gov. Rockefeller—a two-year extension to July 1, 1961, and tightening of some

Vacancies To Occur In Spring

City, Rural Men Are on Committee

The Committee of Fifty appointed a nominating committee Thursday evening to recommend a slate of candidates for two vacancies due next spring on the Greater Kingston Board of Education.

Appointed for the rural areas were Chris Larios of Hurley No. 4, Clifford Every of Esopus No. 1, Al Holumzer of Woodstock No. 7 and William K. Wakely of Rosendale No. 2.

Named from the city were the Rev. Kenneth N. Alexander, pastor of the St. James Methodist Church, the Rev. Edward I. Farrelly of St. Mary's Church, John Schwenk, former alderman-at-large, and Attorney N. Jansen Fowler.

Serve as Advisers

The Committee of Fifty—25 from the city and 25 from the rural areas—serves the board of education in an advisory capacity on educational matters during the difficult transition to a consolidated district.

The members of the nominating committee, sitting jointly, will meet in the Kingston High School library at 7:30 p. m. Thursday, March 5. The committee will report its slate at the next full meeting of the Committee of Fifty at 7:30 p. m. Thursday, March 19.

Educational problems, particularly in proposed school construction, were extensively reviewed at the meeting last night attended by a large percentage of the Committee of Fifty, principals of the five attendance areas (Lake Katrine, Port Ewen, Chambers, Hurley and Tillson), James Tobin, director of Kingston High School pupil personnel services, several members of the board of education and other interested citizens .

Dr. Earl F. Soper, superintendent of schools, presided.

To Discuss Names

It was the feeling that the nominating committee might name about eight persons believed to have the requisite qualifications to serve efficiently as members of the board. It is believed that the Committee of Fifty will review these recommendations and reduce the number to about four.

Two members of the board of education will be elected in May, succeeding Harold Darling and Mrs. John D. Schoonmaker, Jr., whose terms expire at that time. They will be elected for five-year terms.

This is the first time that the members of the board will have been named on an elective basis. Heretofore, they have been appointed by the mayor. Two will be elected annually, with exceptions in certain years.

Favors Rural Candidates

John Vines, chairman of the rural group of the Committee of Fifty, said he felt the two members to be elected should come from the rural areas, since the remaining seven will all be from the city proper.

Vines said there is no longer any difference between city and rural districts, that there are no differences now that "we can't overcome together."

He said the candidates should be individuals willing to work—"good candidates that can win."

One District: Fowler

N. Jansen Fowler, chairman of the city section of the Committee of Fifty, said "we can all agree with John. We are one district, have the same problems, similar problems."

The Committee of Fifty will

Hull, furnishings and equipment committee and Harold Van Allen, plans and construction committee. Standing in the usual order are Lewis L. Gillett, general chairman of the drive; Arthur T. Pedersen, chairman of the finance committee and fund treasurer and Irwin J. Thomas, chairman of promotion. George B. Matthews, church moderator and George H. Dunbar, chairman of the heating renovation committee, also are members of the executive committee. The Rev. Harold J. Stephanz, church pastor, is ex-officio member of all committees. The campaign, which is expected to have a goal of about $60,000 for expansion of Sunday school facilities and a modernized heating plant, will be conducted later on in the year. (Freeman photo).

About 92 Per Cent of Rate Increases Asked by Utilities Granted Last Year

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — The Public Service Commission authorized approximately 92 per cent of the total rate increases asked last year by New York State utilities.

Utilities requested increases totaling $38,454,000. The PSC approved $35,485,500.

The figures, contained in the commission's annual report to Gov. Rockefeller and the Legislature, were made public today.

Increases in electricity rates outpaced those for other utilities, the PSC said. Electric companies were given $15,279,000 in rate increases — about 40 per cent of the total approved.

The commission said rising expenses were boosting the cost of nearly all utility services and this was being reflected in consumer rates.

The average rise in rates ranged from 1.5 per cent for Consolidated Edison Co. to 7 per cent for Rochester Gas and Electric Corp.

The cost of gas is going up again after a three-year lull.

Gas companies sought increases totaling $9,500,000 last year and were allowed $9,293,000. However, the Brooklyn Union Gas Co. reduced rates by $1,400,000 in March, 1957. This, along with smaller cuts by other firms, brought the net gain down to $7,745,000.

The commission reported that failures of small bus companies continued but declined during the year. Increasing attention is being paid to safety supervision, particularly of school buses, the PSC said.

The most pressing problems involved railroads.

The PSC said it had made "every effort, consistent with the needs of the traveling public to ease the financial situation of the railroads by authorizing discontinuance of passenger service on little-used branch lines. . ."

On the other hand, the PSC declared, it opposed vigorously enactment of the 1958 federal railroad law, under which the Interstate Commerce Commission may authorize discontinuance of losing passenger service in sections of states.

The most objectionable features of the law were eliminated because of the commission's protests, it said.

The PSC reported that it disposed of 1,779 cases during the year, held 1,470 public hearings and issued 6,222 orders to implement its decisions.

Name Holmes, 3 Trustees For Saugerties Balloting

Mayor George P. Holmes of Saugerties and three village trustees, all members of Saugerties Independent Party were nominated for reelection at the party caucus Thursday night in Saugerties village clerk's office.

Trustees nominated were: Frank Short, Elton L. Johnson, and Sheldon Longendyke, who serves as party chairman.

The village elections are scheduled for Tuesday, March 17 from 12 noon to 9 p. m. in the municipal building.

Holmes, an area monument dealer served for three terms from 1949 to 1955, prior to the present two-year term completed this month.

In March 1957 Mayor Holmes overwhelmed his opponent, the incumbent mayor at that time, Arthur F. Simmons who was running on the Citizens Protective Party ticket. The vote was 1,110 to 634 a majority of 476. Holmes swept the entire Independent ticket into office including his present running mates and Cornelius Cox, present police commissioner.

The Citizens Protective Party, the opposition in village elections has not announced a slate or caucus date, however Simmons, titular head of the party said today that party leaders were meeting during the weekend and an announcement would be made early next week.

Even when the seven-hour-long session ended, the stragglers left in the audience still were militant.

One portly young man jumped to his feet and shook a fist in the direction of Assembly Majority Leader Joseph F. Carlino, who presided as chairman of the Temporary State Commission on Rents.

"Your hearing," the man declared, "was a fraud!"

A woman pursued Carlino into a corridor, berating him along the way and trying to press some papers onto him.

The darkly handsome Carlino politely asked her to give the papers to an aide, then took refuge in a men's room.

Big Change Unlikely

Indications were that, despite the outraged cries of landlords against rent control and tenants' pleas for stiffer curbs, the state law will be continued for another two years without major change.

The Republican-controlled Commission was inclined toward the plan proposed by Gov. Rockefeller—a two-year extension to July 1, 1961, and tightening of some

Vacancies To Occur In Spring

City, Rural Men Are on Committee

The Committee of Fifty appointed a nominating committee Thursday evening to recommend a slate of candidates for two vacancies due next spring on the Greater Kingston Board of Education.

Appointed for the rural areas were Chris Larios of Hurley No. 4, Clifford Every of Esopus No. 1, Al Holumzer of Woodstock No. 7 and William K. Wakely of Rosendale No. 2.

Named from the city were the Rev. Kenneth N. Alexander, pastor of the St. James Methodist Church, the Rev. Edward I. Farrelly of St. Mary's Church, John Schwenk, former alderman-at-large, and Attorney N. Jansen Fowler.

Serve as Advisers

The Committee of Fifty—25 from the city and 25 from the rural areas—serves the board of education in an advisory capacity on educational matters during the difficult transition to a consolidated district.

The members of the nominating committee, sitting jointly, will meet in the Kingston High School library at 7:30 p. m. Thursday, March 5. The committee will report its slate at the next full meeting of the Committee of Fifty at 7:30 p. m. Thursday, March 19.

Educational problems, particularly in proposed school construction, were extensively reviewed at the meeting last night attended by a large percentage of the Committee of Fifty, principals of the five attendance areas (Lake Katrine, Port Ewen, Chambers, Hurley and Tillson), James Tobin, director of Kingston High School pupil personnel services, several members of the board of education and other interested citizens .

Dr. Earl F. Soper, superintendent of schools, presided.

To Discuss Names

It was the feeling that the nominating committee might name about eight persons believed to have the requisite qualifications to serve efficiently as members of the board. It is believed that the Committee of Fifty will review these recommendations and reduce the number to about four.

Two members of the board of education will be elected in May, succeeding Harold Darling and Mrs. John D. Schoonmaker, Jr., whose terms expire at that time. They will be elected for five-year terms.

This is the first time that the members of the board will have been named on an elective basis. Heretofore, they have been appointed by the mayor. Two will be elected annually, with exceptions in certain years.

Favors Rural Candidates

John Vines, chairman of the rural group of the Committee of Fifty, said he felt the two members to be elected should come from the rural areas, since the remaining seven will all be from the city proper.

Vines said there is no longer any difference between city and rural districts, that there are no differences now that "we can't overcome together."

He said the candidates should be individuals willing to work—"good candidates that can win."

One District: Fowler

N. Jansen Fowler, chairman of the city section of the Committee of Fifty, said "we can all agree with John. We are one district, have the same problems, similar problems."

The Committee of Fifty will

About 92 Per Cent of Rate Increases Asked by Utilities Granted Last Year

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — The Public Service Commission authorized approximately 92 per cent of the total rate increases asked last year by New York State utilities.

Utilities requested increases totaling $38,454,000. The PSC approved $35,485,500.

The figures, contained in the commission's annual report to Gov. Rockefeller and the Legislature, were made public today.

Increases in electricity rates outpaced those for other utilities, the PSC said. Electric companies were given $15,279,000 in rate increases — about 40 per cent of the total approved.

The commission said rising expenses were boosting the cost of nearly all utility services and this was being reflected in consumer rates.

The average rise in rates ranged from 1.5 per cent for Consolidated Edison Co. to 7 per cent for Rochester Gas and Electric Corp.

The cost of gas is going up again after a three-year lull.

Gas companies sought increases totaling $9,500,000 last year and were allowed $9,293,000. However, the Brooklyn Union Gas Co. reduced rates by $1,400,000 in March, 1957. This, along with smaller cuts by other firms, brought the net gain down to $7,745,000.

The commission reported that failures of small bus companies continued but declined during the year. Increasing attention is being paid to safety supervision, particularly of school buses," the PSC said.

The most pressing problems involved railroads.

The PSC said it had made "every effort, consistent with the needs of the traveling public to ease the financial situation of the railroads by authorizing discontinuance of passenger service on little-used branch lines. . ."

On the other hand, the PSC declared, it opposed vigorously enactment of the 1958 federal railroad law, under which the Interstate Commerce Commission may authorize discontinuance of losing passenger service in sections of states.

The most objectionable features of the law were eliminated because of the commission's protests, it said.

The PSC reported that it disposed of 1,779 cases during the year, held 1,470 public hearings and issued 6,222 orders to implement its decisions.

Atlas ICBM Fizzles

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — A burst of white light high in the sky early today marked the explosive ending of an Atlas ICBM after a three minute flight.

The powerful war rocket shattered to bits in a spectacular fireworks display over the Atlantic when an undetermined malfunction occurred, the Air Force announced.

The 80-foot missile was blazing at full steam on the start of what reportedly was a 4,900-mile flight test when it burst apart.

The surprise blowup broke an impressive string of seven successful launchings in the last five months for the huge missile that carries U.S. hopes of catching the Soviets in the space race in the near future.

DO YOU REMEMBER

By SOPHIE MILLER

The other day in this column there was a write-up on the Columbian Spelling Book, dated 1839. One story in it is called "The Good Boy and Girl." It described lives of children some 120 years ago and their schooling, when at the age of six a girl was supposed to know how to spell and read, and do pretty needle-work. No doubt that is where the sampler comes in, in which often the numbers and alphabet were carefully embroidered by little girls. A boy at the age of six was expected to spell all the words in his book, also read of course, and at the age of eight could read stories from his father's library. I know this seems strange in this year of 1959 when we feel we are so advanced.

In the previous column there was mention of Orlando's garden of fruits and vegetables which all the little boys in the village felt it was a privilege to visit. Only good boys were allowed to visit Orlando's garden, where Orlando let them taste of all the various kinds of fruit.

The story continues from this 120 year old speller "On first introducing any boy into his garden, he conducts him to the summer-house, in front of which he has a bed of chives planted in such a manner as to form these words: 'Let no bad boy step his foot into this garden, to pluck a flower, or to pick any fruit.' If the boy be guilty of any bad trick, he immediately hangs his head and goes of his own accord. And I have known several bad boys, who were reclaimed by this device; for they could think of nothing but the bed of chives until they became good boys," the author wrote.

The story further goes on about his sister, "Clarinda has a painting of her design, which represents a girl seated by a table, with her needle, and an open book lying before her, underneath which is the following motto: 'A good knowledge of books and of work, united to an agreeable disposition, and a virtuous mind, renders a female truly amiable.' On an embroidered cloth, she had the following verse, worked with a needle. 'Let virtue be my greatest care, And study my delight; So shall my day be always fair, And peaceable my night.' Orlando and Clarinda are beloved by all their acquaintance, and by their conduct promise to be an honor to their parents and a blessing to the world."

In this speller are given only the following states from the Census of 1830. District of Maine, New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Vermont, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York, whose capitol was Albany then, and principal cities were: New York, Hudson, Schenectady and Troy. Population of the whole state was: 1,918,608. Other states were New Jersey, Delaware, Pennsylvania, Maryland, Ohio, District of Columbia listed. Then Virginia, North Carolina, Kentucky, Tennessee, South Carolina, Georgia, Louisiana, Indiana, Illinois, Alabama, Mississippi, Missouri, Michigan Territory and Arkansa Territory."

The list of mountains in America in 1838 were: Andes or Cordilleras, Allegany, Kaatskill, Kittakinny and Oleroy. The alphabet is given in Roman letters, in Italic, Old English and also script or writing characters are given as well as German script. The double letters are also printed here. No doubt under a strict teacher even the lazy student soon learned to read and write quickly.

PERFECT: When we speak of something as a "Utopia" today we mean that it is perfect! The name was coined by Thomas More in 1516 for a book in which he describes an island where perfection was found in social life, politics and government . . . Only trouble is "Utopia" never existed.

Will Women Be Duped Again By Those Fashion Designers?

"Mink stoles are for the birds," says a New York designer.

So, now I guess all the working girls and housewives who have managed to get a mink stole by saving lunch money or stretching the family budget are supposed to give it to charity, along with any sack dresses or round-toed shoes they happen to have cluttering up their closets.

All of a sudden the mink stole, which has been held up to the American woman as the symbol of luxury, is something she ought not to be caught dead in.

If we fall for that line, we're even bigger suckers than we were when we fell for the idea that we couldn't live without a little mink wrap.

Because, mind you, the mink stole wasn't "for the birds" until just about every woman by hook or crook or layaway finally got her hands on one, telling herself in good faith that she could wear it for years—thus justifying what her good, hard common sense whispered was a luxury beyond her station in life.

But now that stenographers and housewives have mink wraps the snob appeal of mink is gone and the designers are scurrying to find another symbol to take its place.

If we're smart we won't let them pull the latest fast one on us. We'll go right on wearing our hard-to-come-by mink stoles as proudly as ever. And when told they're "for the birds" we'll just lift up our chins out of our mink collars and ask "Says who?"

Maybe the American woman was a sucker to fall so hard for mink in the first place. But now that she's got that little mink stole paid for she doesn't have to fall for the line that all of a sudden mink stinks

Ike Near End of Talks

ACAPULCO, Mexico (AP) — President Eisenhower, feted lavishly and pleased by a warm reception, turns to a final round of talks today with Mexico's President Adolfo Lopez Mateos.

Eisenhower's two-day goodwill visit to this tropical resort on the Pacific Coast ends tonight. He planned to fly overnight to Augusta, Ga., for a weekend of golf, or direct to Washington if the Augusta weather is bad.

Eisenhower and Lopez Mateos exchanged pledges of international friendship when the U.S. President arrived Thursday. Then they talked informally aboard the Mexican chief executive's yacht, the Soltavento, during a four-hour cruise.

No Comment

and told him of the speed violation.

The officer quoted Gotelli as saying he "might have been going 60 but not 70," and, Houghtaling claimed, became abusive. The officer said he reminded Gotelli that he represented the police in city court, "and that I shouldn't let him go."

Turck Stays in Car

Houghtaling's report said he followed Gotelli to his Pine Street residence. He said Officer Turck, his partner in the radio car, did not get out of the car while he was talking to Gotelli.

Turck, who filed a separate report with Acting Chief Murphy on Jan. 14, verified, in essence, Houghtaling's report.

Police Commissioner Henry P. Eighmey last week charged District Attorney Mino with lack of action against Gotelli. Mino countered that Eighmey's statement of "no action is untrue and he knows it. He cannot and does not know what action I took."

Mayor Gives Support

Mino advised that "no one person can be accuser, judge and jury." Mayor Radel supported Eighmey's charge, and held what he considered Mino's lack of action as "an inexcusable attitude. He noted that letters had been sent to the district attorney on Jan. 19 and 26 and Feb. 2, and claimed no reply was received.

The district attorney claimed telephone messages he had left when the mayor was unavailable were never answered.

The stormy controversy apparently was climaxed by the mayor's invitation to Mino to attend the police board meeting last night.

Would Change Schedule

A three-man grievance committee, representing the patrolmen's association, attended last night's meeting to discuss dissatisfaction with the present work schedule, which calls for six weeks on each shift. Mayor Radel said the police board "some time ago" encouraged the association to establish a grievance committee and a suggestion box was placed in headquarters.

The mayor today described the contents of the suggestion box as "heavy with individual requests for reconsideration of the work schedule, effected by Lt. Kenneth E. Weidenborner, assigned here last year by former Governor Harriman, to assist in the reorganization of the local department.

Weidenborner's plan was adopted by the board last month for six months trial, and Mayor Radel said the main objection deals with prolonged absence from home over a six and sometimes 12 weeks shift, "during which time normal family life is disrupted.

Patrolmen noted that if they are assigned on a 4 p. m. to 12 midnight shift, followed by a 12 midnight to 8 a. m. shift they are deprived of normal family life for a 12 week period.

To Meet Again

The board voted to meet with the committee again at a special session to compare the present work schedule with another proposed by the committee.

The latter, it was learned, calls for a total of four squads on duty, instead of the present three, which would give each man "a 56-hour swing (time off) after working five days or a total of 40 hours."

A member of the association said today the latter work schedule is operative in the Poughkeepsie Police Department and noted that "it works out very satisfactorily.

Police commissioners also discussed the condition of present patrol cars at last night's session. It was noted that the 1959 budget provides for the purchase of several new units.

Mayor Radel said it is "under advisement at present" if further repairs should be made to keep the present units in operating condition.

Levy Commended

The board unanimously directed the mayor to direct a letter of commendation to Officer Levy "for the fine work he performed in aiding Officer John Crespino" in the recent cave investigation in search of two youths who were reported lost in the area.

Levy was scheduled to receive a citation in the mayor's office at 3:30 p. m. today for his heroic efforts in saving the life of Officer Crespino.

The act of heroism was effected Feb. 9 in the blackness of an abandoned downtown lime cave where Levy and Crespino had gone on the mistaken belief that two boys were in trouble.

Levy staged a desperate fight for the life of Crespino, against despairing odds, after Crespino, while probing a water hole in the cave, back of the Esso plant on East Strand, fell in as footing gave way, and was rescued some 10 or more minutes later by Levy with the aid of Officer Bernard Fowler and the cooperation of other officers.

Egg Marketing Meetings Set Here On February 23-24

Professor O. F. "Scotty" Johndrew Jr., of the Cornell Poultry Department will lead discussions on the egg marketing program in this area on Monday and Tuesday, Feb. 23 and 24, it was announced today by Robert D. Guzewich, associate county agricultural agent.

Two meetings have been scheduled—Monday at the Agricultural Extension Service office, 74 John Street, and Tuesday at the Accord School. Each meeting will begin at 8 p. m.

Guzewich said something different in an egg marketing program is being proposed for Southeastern New York counties —a cooperative effort between producers, the Cornell Poultry Department, the New York State Department of Agriculture and Markets and the Ulster County Extension Service. Already several meetings have been held for preliminary planning of the proposal.

"Here is your opportunity to be in the know on this proposed quality egg program. Marketing a known quality egg through a program of this type could enable you producers to continue to successfully compete with western and southern egg producers," Guzewich said.

A man sentenced to five years in New York State was held in the Ulster County jail today awaiting extradiction to Georgia.

Allen Isiah Johnson, 22, had completed four years and 17 days at Napanoch Institution for the New York crime.

Johnson, known by aliases of "Sonny Boy" and "Bobby" is wanted at Atlanta, Ga., for escape from prison following sentences of 10 years and two to five years for robbery and burglary.

Johnson, a resident of Savannah, Ga., will be extradicted on a warrant signed by Governor Nelson A. Rockefeller.

Check Heater Fire

Firemen were called at 8:48 a. m. today for a fire in a pipeless hot air heater on the first floor at 23 Prospect Street, a two-story frame dwelling owned by John Belsito, of Lincoln Park. It was reported that combustible material, which dropped through a floor register onto the dome of the heater, became ignited. Some smoke was reported on the first floor, occupied by Pauline Brown. The second floor, the report said, was occupied by Roy Bruson.

Driver Hurt Slightly As Vehicle Hits Tree

Police reported that John Mertine, 20, of 138 Delaware Avenue, was injured slightly early today when the car he was driving struck a tree at Fair and Pearl Streets.

A report at headquarters said Mertine had notified police that he was driving a car owned by Robert Mertine, 52 St. James Street, which struck a tree at Fair and Pearl Streets.

Mertine suffered a slight cut on the hand and knee, police said, and the car was damaged on the right front end. The tree was scraped in the collision, the report added.

Says Effort Made

he and many other jukebox operators "have to" buy records for their jukeboxes from a firm the committee says is gangster run.

Robert F. Kennedy, counsel to the special investigating committee, told the senators he interviewed Leonetti and was told "this may have been going on—by underworld figures", but that Leonetti didn't know it at the time.

Kennedy quoted the singer as stating that he was managed for a time by "a man with underworld connection" of which Leonetti was unaware. He said Leonetti also told him he "came out rather poorly" while the man, whose name was not mentioned, was his manager.

Sharp Exchanges

The testimony capped some sharp exchanges in which Kennedy charged that Lindleoff was afraid to tell frankly of gangster infiltration of the jukebox industry in suburban Chicago.

Kennedy and Lindeloff said the firm which charged premium prices for records was the Lormar Distributing Co. of Chicago, headed by Charles English.

Lindleoff testified he and other operators pay five cents a record more than they would have to pay to buy the records from similar companies handling records of various manufacturing firms.

The probers Thursday asked a witness:

Quizzed About Threat

Had he been told he would be dropped in the river with concrete blocks tied to his feet unless the man then sitting next to him were taken into his vending machine business as a partner?

The witness, Ralph Kelly of Elgin, Ill., hesitated. The husky man sitting next to him, Rocco Pranno, glared at him.

Kelly replied: "I decline to answer because my answer might tend to incriminate me."

Committee Chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark) thundered: "Are you going to let this fellow keep you under a state of fear for the rest of your life?"

Committee counsel Robert F. Kennedy waited, then said: "This man is too frightened to talk."

The exchange came after James C. Young, a South Elgin tavern owner, said Kelly had taken in Pranno as a partner out of fear of his life. Young testified in the committee's investigation into jukebox and vending machine operations in the Chicago area.

Barney Poss, an Aurora, Ill., Jukebox operator, told the committee he stood up to threatening mobsters and lived to stay in business.

Beck Convicted

the shores of Lake Washington in Seattle.

Just three years ago he was a respected millionaire businessman, international president of the Teamsters Union—considered the largest in the country—and a vice president of the AFL-CIO.

Today he is under the shadow of two convictions. Beck was sentenced to not more than 15 years in prison after a 1957 conviction for grand larceny in the embezzlement of $1,900 from the sale of a union-owned Cadillac. The State Supreme Court is scheduled to hear his appeal next March.

Beck's big trouble began when he appeared before the Senate Labor-Management Committee in 1957 and invoked the Fifth Amendment more than 150 times. He said then he could probably clear everything up with a few minutes in the court of law.

Newburgh Base EADF Center's Inactivation Set

STEWART AFB — Headquarters, Eastern Air Defense Force, presently located at Stewart Air Force Base, Newburgh, will be inactivated on December 31, 1959, according to an announcement made today by Maj. Gen. E. H. Underhill, EADF commander.

"The inactivation of this command," the general said, "has been made possible by the activation and build-up of the SAGE divisions and air defense sectors within the present EADF geographical area." That area includes 28 states from the Mississippi River to the Atlantic coastline, and from Maine to Florida.

The orderly phase-out of the Eastern headquarters will begin in July 1959 and will result in its complete inactivation by December of this year. After that date, the three SAGE air divisions, the 26th at Syracuse, the 32nd at Dobbins AFB, and the soon to be activated 30th at Traux Field, Wisc. will then report directly to Air Defense Command headquarters at Colorado Springs.

"This will speed up the reporting processes, in that an intervening and then, no longer necessary headquarters will have been eliminated," General Underhill said.

"It should be made clear," the general remarked, "that the inactivation of this headquarters will not substantially affect the population of Stewart AFB, because as EADF phases-out, a rear echelon of the 26th Air Division at Syracuse, will phase-in to Stewart AFB. There are some other units that will be moved into Stewart to occupy the spaces now utilized by EADF personnel. These units are not yet known by designation. The presently Stewart-based headquarters of the Boston Air Defense Sector, and the 329th Fighter Group will remain at the base, according to present planning."

Russell LeRoy Miller, who was given 137 days in the county jail earlier this week on a plea of unlawful entry, has waived extradition and will be taken back to Trenton, N. J., where he is wanted for parole violation.

DR. JAMES L. ELLENWOOD

A Methodist minister, the Rev. Dr. James Lee Ellenwood, well-known in that area as a guest speaker, and a former executive secretary of the YMCA in New York State, is dead at the age of 67.

The Rev. Mr. Ellenwood died Thursday in a hospital in Syracuse, according to the Associated Press.

He was the guest speaker locally at various times at functions of the local YMCA, the Evangelical Lutheran Church of the Redeemer and at Kiwanis Club ladies' night event. An exceptional speaker, he was noted for his sense of humor and was much in demand by industrial and service clubs for speaking engagements.

He was a Navy chaplain in World War I and served as chaplain of the New York State Police in 1927 and 1928.

He was named religious work secretary of the state YMCA in 1924 and was executive secretary from 1931 to 1949.

The Rev. Mr. Ellenwood had been pastor of Methodist churches in Schenectady, Troy and Delmar, an Albany suburb. He had lived with a sister, Miss Laura Ellenwood, in recent years.

Atlas ICBM Fizzles

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — A burst of white light high in the sky early today marked the explosive ending of an Atlas ICBM after a three minute flight.

The powerful war rocket shattered to bits in a spectacular fireworks display over the Atlantic when an undetermined malfunction occurred, the Air Force announced.

The 80-foot missile was blazing at full steam on the start of what reportedly was a 4,900-mile flight test when it burst apart.

The surprise blowup broke an impressive string of seven successful launchings in the last five months for the huge missile that carries U.S. hopes of catching the Soviets in the space race in the near future.

DO YOU REMEMBER

By SOPHIE MILLER

The other day in this column there was a write-up on the Columbian Spelling Book, dated 1839. One story in it is called "The Good Boy and Girl." It described lives of children some 120 years ago and their schooling, when at the age of six a girl was supposed to know how to spell and read, and do pretty needle-work. No doubt that is where the sampler comes in, in which often the numbers and alphabet were carefully embroidered by little girls. A boy at the age of six was expected to spell all the words in his book, also read of course, and at the age of eight could read stories from his father's library. I know this seems strange in this year of 1959 when we feel we are so advanced.

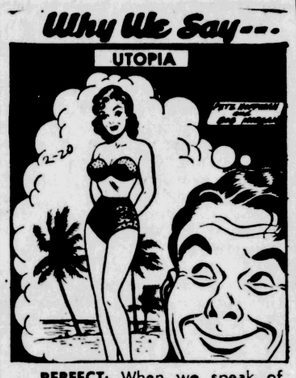

In the previous column there was mention of Orlando's garden of fruits and vegetables which all the little boys in the village felt it was a privilege to visit. Only good boys were allowed to visit Orlando's garden, where Orlando let them taste of all the various kinds of fruit.

The story continues from this 120 year old speller "On first introducing any boy into his garden, he conducts him to the summer-house, in front of which he has a bed of chives planted in such a manner as to form these words: 'Let no bad boy step his foot into this garden, to pluck a flower, or to pick any fruit.' If the boy be guilty of any bad trick, he immediately hangs his head and goes of his own accord. And I have known several bad boys, who were reclaimed by this device; for they could think of nothing but the bed of chives until they became good boys," the author wrote.

The story further goes on about his sister, "Clarinda has a painting of her design, which represents a girl seated by a table, with her needle, and an open book lying before her, underneath which is the following motto: 'A good knowledge of books and of work, united to an agreeable disposition, and a virtuous mind, renders a female truly amiable.' On an embroidered cloth, she had the following verse, worked with a needle. 'Let virtue be my greatest care, And study my delight; So shall my day be always fair, And peaceable my night.' Orlando and Clarinda are beloved by all their acquaintance, and by their conduct promise to be an honor to their parents and a blessing to the world."

In this speller are given only the following states from the Census of 1830. District of Maine, New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Vermont, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York, whose capitol was Albany then, and principal cities were: New York, Hudson, Schenectady and Troy. Population of the whole state was: 1,918,608. Other states were New Jersey, Delaware, Pennsylvania, Maryland, Ohio, District of Columbia listed. Then Virginia, North Carolina, Kentucky, Tennessee, South Carolina, Georgia, Louisiana, Indiana, Illinois, Alabama, Mississippi, Missouri, Michigan Territory and Arkansa Territory."

The list of mountains in America in 1838 were: Andes or Cordilleras, Allegany, Kaatskill, Kittakinny and Oleroy. The alphabet is given in Roman letters, in Italic, Old English and also script or writing characters are given as well as German script. The double letters are also printed here. No doubt under a strict teacher even the lazy student soon learned to read and write quickly.

PERFECT: When we speak of something as a "Utopia" today we mean that it is perfect! The name was coined by Thomas More in 1516 for a book in which he describes an island where perfection was found in social life, politics and government . . . Only trouble is "Utopia" never existed.

Will Women Be Duped Again By Those Fashion Designers?

"Mink stoles are for the birds," says a New York designer.

So, now I guess all the working girls and housewives who have managed to get a mink stole by saving lunch money or stretching the family budget are supposed to give it to charity, along with any sack dresses or round-toed shoes they happen to have cluttering up their closets.

All of a sudden the mink stole, which has been held up to the American woman as the symbol of luxury, is something she ought not to be caught dead in.

If we fall for that line, we're even bigger suckers than we were when we fell for the idea that we couldn't live without a little mink wrap.

Because, mind you, the mink stole wasn't "for the birds" until just about every woman by hook or crook or layaway finally got her hands on one, telling herself in good faith that she could wear it for years—thus justifying what her good, hard common sense whispered was a luxury beyond her station in life.

But now that stenographers and housewives have mink wraps the snob appeal of mink is gone and the designers are scurrying to find another symbol to take its place.

If we're smart we won't let them pull the latest fast one on us. We'll go right on wearing our hard-to-come-by mink stoles as proudly as ever. And when told they're "for the birds" we'll just lift up our chins out of our mink collars and ask "Says who?"

Maybe the American woman was a sucker to fall so hard for mink in the first place. But now that she's got that little mink stole paid for she doesn't have to fall for the line that all of a sudden mink stinks

Ike Near End of Talks

ACAPULCO, Mexico (AP) -- President Eisenhower, feted lavishly and pleased by a warm reception, turns to a final round of talks today with Mexico's President Adolfo Lopez Mateos.

Eisenhower's two-day goodwill visit to this tropical resort on the Pacific Coast ends tonight. He planned to fly overnight to Augusta, Ga., for a weekend of golf, or direct to Washington if the Augusta weather is bad.

Eisenhower and Lopez Mateos exchanged pledges of international friendship when the U.S. President arrived Thursday. Then they talked informally aboard the Mexican chief executive's yacht, the Soltavento, during a four-hour cruise.

No Comment

and told him of the speed violation.

The officer quoted Gotelli as saying he "might have been going 60 but not 70," and, Houghtaling claimed, became abusive. The officer said he reminded Gotelli that he represented the police in city court, "and that I shouldn't let him go."

Turck Stays in Car

Houghtaling's report said he followed Gotelli to his Pine Street residence. He said Officer Turck, his partner in the radio car, did not get out of the car while he was talking to Gotelli.

Turck, who filed a separate report with Acting Chief Murphy on Jan. 14, verified, in essence, Houghtaling's report.

Police Commissioner Henry P. Eighmey last week charged District Attorney Mino with lack of action against Gotelli. Mino countered that Eighmey's statement of "no action is untrue and he knows it. He cannot and does not know what action I took."

Mayor Gives Support

Mino advised that "no one person can be accuser, judge and jury." Mayor Radel supported Eighmey's charge, and held what he considered Mino's lack of action as "an inexcusable attitude. He noted that letters had been sent to the district attorney on Jan. 19 and 26 and Feb. 2, and claimed no reply was received.

The district attorney claimed telephone messages he had left when the mayor was unavailable were never answered.

The stormy controversy apparently was climaxed by the mayor's invitation to Mino to attend the police board meeting last night.

Would Change Schedule

A three-man grievance committee, representing the patrolmen's association, attended last night's meeting to discuss dissatisfaction with the present work schedule, which calls for six weeks on each shift. Mayor Radel said the police board "some time ago" encouraged the association to establish a grievance committee and a suggestion box was placed in headquarters.

The mayor today described the contents of the suggestion box as "heavy with individual requests for reconsideration of the work schedule, effected by Lt. Kenneth E. Weidenborner, assigned here last year by former Governor Harriman, to assist in the reorganization of the local department.

Weidenborner's plan was adopted by the board last month for six months trial, and Mayor Radel said the main objection deals with prolonged absence from home over a six and sometimes 12 weeks shift, "during which time normal family life is disrupted.

Patrolmen noted that if they are assigned on a 4 p. m. to 12 midnight shift, followed by a 12 midnight to 8 a. m. shift they are deprived of normal family life for a 12 week period.

To Meet Again

The board voted to meet with the committee again at a special session to compare the present work schedule with another proposed by the committee.

The latter, it was learned, calls for a total of four squads on duty, instead of the present three, which would give each man "a 56-hour swing (time off) after working five days or a total of 40 hours."

A member of the association said today the latter work schedule is operative in the Poughkeepsie Police Department and noted that "it works out very satisfactorily.

Police commissioners also discussed the condition of present patrol cars at last night's session. It was noted that the 1959 budget provides for the purchase of several new units.

Mayor Radel said it is "under advisement at present" if further repairs should be made to keep the present units in operating condition.

Levy Commended

The board unanimously directed the mayor to direct a letter of commendation to Officer Levy "for the fine work he performed in aiding Officer John Crespino" in the recent cave investigation in search of two youths who were reported lost in the area.

Levy was scheduled to receive a citation in the mayor's office at 3:30 p. m. today for his heroic efforts in saving the life of Officer Crespino.

The act of heroism was effected Feb. 9 in the blackness of an abandoned downtown lime cave where Levy and Crespino had gone on the mistaken belief that two boys were in trouble.

Levy staged a desperate fight for the life of Crespino, against despairing odds, after Crespino, while probing a water hole in the cave, back of the Esso plant on East Strand, fell in as footing gave way, and was rescued some 10 or more minutes later by Levy with the aid of Officer Bernard Fowler and the cooperation of other officers.

Egg Marketing Meetings Set Here On February 23-24

Professor O. F. "Scotty" Johndrew Jr., of the Cornell Poultry Department will lead discussions on the egg marketing program in this area on Monday and Tuesday, Feb. 23 and 24, it was announced today by Robert D. Guzewich, associate county agricultural agent.

Two meetings have been scheduled—Monday at the Agricultural Extension Service office, 74 John Street, and Tuesday at the Accord School. Each meeting will begin at 8 p. m.

Guzewich said something different in an egg marketing program is being proposed for Southeastern New York counties —a cooperative effort between producers, the Cornell Poultry Department, the New York State Department of Agriculture and Markets and the Ulster County Extension Service. Already several meetings have been held for preliminary planning of the proposal.

"Here is your opportunity to be in the know on this proposed quality egg program. Marketing a known quality egg through a program of this type could enable you producers to continue to successfully compete with western and southern egg producers," Guzewich said.

Allen Isiah Johnson, 22, had completed four years and 17 days at Napanoch Institution for the New York crime.

He was taken from Napanoch to the local jail by Ulster County Investigator Arthur H. Brown to await the arrival of southern officers.

Johnson, known by aliases of "Sonny Boy" and "Bobby" is wanted at Atlanta, Ga., for escape from prison following sentences of 10 years and two to five years for robbery and burglary.

Johnson, a resident of Savannah, Ga., will be extradicted on a warrant signed by Governor Nelson A. Rockefeller.

Deaths

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Miss A. Adelaide Browne, 101, a former Presbyterian missionary in India, died Thursday. Miss Browne spent 33 years in India before returning to this country in 1927. She was born in Newark, N.J.

DAVENPORT, Iowa (AP)—J. S. Dillon, 88, founder of a chain that operates 51 supermarkets in Kansas and Colorado, died Thursday. He opened his first grocery store at Sterling, Kan., in 1913 and sold his interest to his sons nearly 35 years ago when there were only four or five stores in the chain.

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP)—John J. Louis, 63, a Chicago advertising executive, died Thursday, apparently of a heart attack. He was a major stockholder in radio station KTAR, Phoenix, Ariz.

Check Heater Fire

Firemen were called at 8:48 a. m. today for a fire in a pipeless hot air heater on the first floor at 23 Prospect Street, a two-story frame dwelling owned by John Belsito, of Lincoln Park. It was reported that combustible material, which dropped through a floor register onto the dome of the heater, became ignited. Some smoke was reported on the first floor, occupied by Pauline Brown. The second floor, the report said, was occupied by Roy Bruson.

Forced Feedings

Camel drivers of Yemen stuff bundles of fodder into the mouths of their animals before starting a long journey since the camels do not eat enough for a prolonged journey unless forcefed.

Driver Hurt Slightly As Vehicle Hits Tree

Police reported that John Mertine, 20, of 138 Delaware Avenue, was injured slightly early today when the car he was driving struck a tree at Fair and Pearl Streets.

A report at headquarters said Mertine had notified police that he was driving a car owned by Robert Mertine, 52 St. James Street, which struck a tree at Fair and Pearl Streets.

Mertine suffered a slight cut on the hand and knee, police said, and the car was damaged on the right front end. The tree was scraped in the collision, the report added.

Says Effort Made

he and many other jukebox operators "have to" buy records for their jukeboxes from a firm the committee says is gangster run.

Robert F. Kennedy, counsel to the special investigating committee, told the senators he interviewed Leonetti and was told "this may have been going on—by underworld figures", but that Leonetti didn't know it at the time.

Kennedy quoted the singer as stating that he was managed for a time by "a man with underworld connection" of which Leonetti was unaware. He said Leonetti also told him he "came out rather poorly" while the man, whose name was not mentioned, was his manager.

Sharp Exchanges

The testimony capped some sharp exchanges in which Kennedy charged that Lindleoff was afraid to tell frankly of gangster infiltration of the jukebox industry in suburban Chicago.

Kennedy and Lindeloff said the firm which charged premium prices for records was the Lormar Distributing Co. of Chicago, headed by Charles English.

Lindleoff testified he and other operators pay five cents a record more than they would have to pay to buy the records from similar companies handling records of various manufacturing firms.

The probers Thursday asked a witness:

Quizzed About Threat

Had he been told he would be dropped in the river with concrete blocks tied to his feet unless the man then sitting next to him were taken into his vending machine business as a partner?

The witness, Ralph Kelly of Elgin, Ill., hesitated. The husky man sitting next to him, Rocco Pranno, glared at him.

Kelly replied: "I decline to answer because my answer might tend to incriminate me."

Committee Chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark) thundered: "Are you going to let this fellow keep you under a state of fear for the rest of your life?"

Committee counsel Robert F. Kennedy waited, then said: "This man is too frightened to talk."

The exchange came after James C. Young, a South Elgin tavern owner, said Kelly had taken in Pranno as a partner out of fear of his life. Young testified in the committee's investigation into jukebox and vending machine operations in the Chicago area.

Barney Poss, an Aurora, Ill., Jukebox operator, told the committee he stood up to threatening mobsters and lived to stay in business.

Beck Convicted

the shores of Lake Washington in Seattle.

Just three years ago he was a respected millionaire businessman, international president of the Teamsters Union—considered the largest in the country—and a vice president of the AFL-CIO.

Today he is under the shadow of two convictions. Beck was sentenced to not more than 15 years in prison after a 1957 conviction for grand larceny in the embezzlement of $1,900 from the sale of a union-owned Cadillac. The State Supreme Court is scheduled to hear his appeal next March.

Beck's big trouble began when he appeared before the Senate Labor-Management Committee in 1957 and invoked the Fifth Amendment more than 150 times. He said then he could probably clear everything up with a few minutes in the court of law.

Newburgh Base EADF Center's Inactivation Set

STEWART AFB — Headquarters, Eastern Air Defense Force, presently located at Stewart Air Force Base, Newburgh, will be inactivated on December 31, 1959, according to an announcement made today by Maj. Gen. E. H. Underhill, EADF commander.

"The inactivation of this command," the general said, "has been made possible by the activation and build-up of the SAGE divisions and air defense sectors within the present EADF geographical area." That area includes 28 states from the Mississippi River to the Atlantic coastline, and from Maine to Florida.

The orderly phase-out of the Eastern headquarters will begin in July 1959 and will result in its complete inactivation by December of this year. After that date, the three SAGE air divisions, the 26th at Syracuse, the 32nd at Dobbins AFB, and the soon to be activated 30th at Traux Field, Wisc. will then report directly to Air Defense Command headquarters at Colorado Springs.

"This will speed up the reporting processes, in that an intervening and then, no longer necessary headquarters will have been eliminated," General Underhill said.

"It should be made clear," the general remarked, "that the inactivation of this headquarters will not substantially affect the population of Stewart AFB, because as EADF phases-out, a rear echelon of the 26th Air Division at Syracuse, will phase-in to Stewart AFB. There are some other units that will be moved into Stewart to occupy the spaces now utilized by EADF personnel. These units are not yet known by designation. The presently Stewart-based headquarters of the Boston Air Defense Sector, and the 329th Fighter Group will remain at the base, according to present planning."

County Court Cases

Acil Lent, Town of Marlborough, charged with burglary, third degree, and unlawful entry, entered a plea of guilty to unlawful entry in County Court today and was sentenced by Judge Louis G. Bruhn to 36 days in the county jail. That was the time he had already served. Hugh Elwyn, counsel, moved for dismissal of the first count of the indictment.

Russell LeRoy Miller, who was given 137 days in the county jail earlier this week on a plea of unlawful entry, has waived extradition and will be taken back to Trenton, N. J., where he is wanted for parole violation.

Commuter Panel For Tri-State Area Endorsed

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y. (AP)—The Metropolitan Regional Council has unanimously endorsed a plan to set up a five-member commuter panel to deal with the problems of saving existing rail services in New York, New Jersey and Connecticut.

A recommendation that the council be given official status by the legislatures of the three states was referred for further study.

Accepted Thursday by the council was the report submitted by Mayor Charles S. Witkowski of Jersey City, N. J., who heads the group's traffic and transportation committee.

The council is an unofficial tri-state organization formed 2½ years ago to work out mutual problems in the metropolitan area. It is composed of 75 elected officials from 21 counties.

The Witkowski report suggested that the proposed panel be composed of representatives from the three states involved, plus one from the council and one from New York City.

Among highlights of the Witkowski report:

First task of the panel to be "a determination, railroad by railroad, of actual operating deficits if any" in the tristate area.

Recommendations for a "proper and equitable sharing" of these deficits from among the various levels of government having a stake, so that the burden does not fall too heavily on any of these levels.

Ways and means by which the panel "might run some or all of the lines on a leasing arrangement. . .to give better, swifter service to commuters and save money."

Exploration by the panel into ways in which the state and federal governments might take part in the council's commuter program.

Film Star's Final Role For Heart Fund Seen Here

Completed shortly before his own fatal heart attack on Nov. 15, a filmed appeal in behalf of the 1959 Heart Fund by the late Tyrone Power is being shown this week at Reade Theatres in the city.

William S. Keyser, chairman of the Heart Fund, said arrangements for the film were made through the cooperation of Michael J. Dorso, local manager of the Reade Theatres.

The film, described by Keyser as 'a brief yet moving appeal for support of the nationwide fight against heart disease, is being shown with the approval of Power's family. The final version of the filmed appeal includes a prologue and epilogue narrated by David Niven.

Time Is Precious

Holding a large hour-glass, Power declares in the film:

"For all of us, the most precious element we have is time. But time runs out too soon for millions because of a health enemy that takes more lives than all other diseases combined —heart disease."

Power reviews some of the drastic achievements of heart research during the past decade and continues:

"Even greater heart-saving victories lie ahead of us—if we all do our share. So give generously to your Heart Chapter, knowing that your Heart Fund dollars will come home to help safeguard your heart and the hearts you love."

Niven says in the epilogue:

"As it did for Ty Power, time does run out too soon for millions because of heart disease. Right now, during American Heart Month, I know that Tyrone Power would want me to repeat his words—'the best way to fight heart disease is through your Heart Fund.'"

Gasoline Goes Up 2 Cents Today in Central New York

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP) — The price of gasoline goes up two cents a gallon today at more than 900 service stations in central New York.

Another two cent boost is scheduled for March 1, when the state raises its gasoline tax from four to six cents.

The Central New York Gasoline Retailers Assn. said Thursday night that today's increase resulted from higher prices charged by major oil companies. The association's members have been charging 26.9 cents a gallon for regular gasoline and 30.9 cents for premium fuel.

Many retailers in eastern New York recently raised gasoline prices two cents a gallon.

The kicker is that the 100 shoes stolen are all for the left foot.

Force May Be Heart of Crisis

Searching Examination Of West Berlin Problem

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—It's just a simple question ir philosophy right now—What is force? But in a few months it may be the heart of a crisis over West Berlin.

This is a brief version of the problem:

Not only is East Germany Communist-run, under the thumb of the Soviet Union, but so is the Eastern Zone of Berlin which is the capital of the East German government. The Soviets have troops there. Berlin is 100 miles inside East Germany.

Western Showpiece

But the 2,200,000 civilians in West Berlin consider themselves citizens of West Germany whose capital is in Bonn. West Berlin is a Western showpiece. Its high prosperity is a glaring contrast to the drabness of East Berlin.

Since World War II days, through agreements with the Soviet Union, the Western Allies have had troops in West Berlin. They are supplied from West Germany—by plane, rail and road—through or over 110 miles of East Germany.

But since last November the Soviet Union has made a number of demands and proposals which compel the West to face or avert a crisis. The Soviets in effect set a deadline around May 27.

They call for making West Berlin a free city; they want Western military forces withdrawn; they want a settlement of unifying the two Germanys; they talk of making a separate peace settlement with East Germany.

Lot Could Happen

And they talk of turning over to the East German government full control of what can enter East Germany. To put it another way, the East German Communists would be free to refuse to let the Allies send military supplies to West Berlin.

What would happen if they did that? A lot of things could happen. For one: The Allies can hardly abandon the West Berliners whose "free zone" would become a small island completely surrounded in the sea of Communist East Germany.

The Allies at this point apparently don't know what to expect. They decided to try talking before the May 27 deadline. They proposed that the United States, the Soviet Union, Britain and France have a foreign ministers conference.

This proposal had hardly reached the Kremlin when Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev threw another log on the fire Tuesday.

Referring to the idea that the Soviet Union might let the East Germans refuse to permit passage of military supplies to West Berlin, he said:

Khrushy Warns of War

"Any violation of the German Democratic Republic's sovereignty will be fittingly rebuffed, regardless of how the violation is made: by water, ground or air."

Then Khrushchev suggested that if the Allies tried to shoot their way through East Germany to West Berlin it would mean war.

"Everyone realizes that if anyone starts shooting that would mean the beginning of war," he said.

President Eisenhower, asked about the Khrushchev comments at his Wednesday news conference, replied: "We are not saying that we are going to shoot our way into Berlin."

He said if the Western powers were prevented from carrying out their obligations to the people of West Berlin "It will be somebody else using force."

He said Khrushchev "must be talking about shooting to prevent us from doing our duty. After all, that is what is going to happen, if it happens."

That brings back the question which may have to be settled on the East German frontier: What is force?

May Go to UN

Is it force if the United States—arguing it has a right and duty to ship supplies to West Berlin and has agreements with the Soviet to let the supplies through—insists on going through? Is that force?

The West would argue: No. But the Soviets, who now claim the old agreements are outdated, would insist any attempt by the Allies to send military supplies through East Germany against the East German government's will is force.

Perhaps this will happen, if the situation gets that far: The first time the East Germans refuse to let Allied supplies through, the West—instead of seeking a showdown there and then—may stop short of trying to ram through and take the case to the United Nations, at least for discussion.

Keating, Javits Asking for More Defense Contracts

WASHINGTON (AP)—A war of words between two states — California and New York—loomed today over which should get the larger share of government aircraft and missile contracts.

The California congressional delegation will "oppose the placing of contracts by the Defense Department on a political basis in New York and elsewhere," the West Coast legislators said in a resolution yesterday.

Bill will be introduced in Congress to require that more defense contracts be awarded on the basis of competitive bidding, New York's senators have said.

The conflict was touched off when Sens. Kenneth B. Keating and Jacob K. Javits, New York Republicans, contended that 20 per cent of all defense contracts were going to California.

That complaint was designed to apply political pressure so that Defense Department procurement officers will place more contracts in New York, Sen. Clair Engle (D-Calif) retorted Thursday.

Engle said many defense contracts, particularly those in aircraft and missiles, must be negotiated because they involved work in the experimental field. They do not include items suitable for competitive bidding, he said.

The 30-member California delegation said it believed that defense contracts "should be placed on the basis of merit and not awarded as a political matter."

When informed of the California action, Keating said it was "preposterous to suggest that New York State is seeking defense contracts on a political basis."

He said the New York congressional delegation only wanted to alert New York industries to their opportunities to obtain a more equitable share of defense contracts and clear communications channels between the Defense Department and potential defense contractors in New York.

General Huebner To Receive High Air Force Award

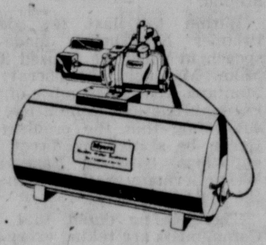

Eastern Air Defense Command will present its Air Force chief of staff appreciation award to Lieut. General C. R. Huebner, New York State Civil Defense director, Thursday at 2:30 p. m. at State Civil Defense headquarters, 124 East 28th Street, New York City. The award is the highest honor the Air Force can confer on other than Air Force personnel.

General Huebner will receive the honor for his direction of the recently completed Ground Observer Corps program in New York State and for his support of this arm of the air defense mission as an integral part of the national preparedness effort. The Ground Observer Corps program, which enlisted the devoted service of thousands of trained volunteers, was organized in 1950 and disbanded January 31 of this year when the Air Force radar defense networks were completed and fully activated.

The presentation of the award to General Huebner will be made by Major General Edward H. Underhill, chief of the Eastern Air Defense Command. Leading Air Force and Civil Defense officials will attend the brief ceremonies at the State Civil Defense headquarters.

JALOPIES AND GRADES

Much has been made of a report which shows, among high school students in a Western state, a striking connection between car ownership and poor grades. Those who made this study found that car ownership ranged from none at all among the very top students to 83 per cent among the failing students.

There is a danger, as there always is in such cases, that this study will be used to "prove" things which it does not prove. If one steers away from broad generalization, however, the study can fairly be taken to indicate that when a boy becomes too deeply involved in maintaining and showing off his jalopy his scholastic record is likely to suffer.

The study tends to support a complaint often voiced by high school teachers. The social pressure impelling youths toward ownership of an automobile are so great, they say, that many a boy works after school for the sole purpose of earning money for this purpose. Such work often cuts heavily into time the boy needs for studying. Once he has an auto, he must keep on working to pay for its operation and upkeep. He also is inclined to spend hours tinkering with the car, and to enter into a more active social life because of it.

Not all this is unqualifiedly bad. But teachers point out, quite properly, that when a boy is immersed in "car culture" he may find it increasingly hard to keep up with his class in school. Parents should not necessarily forbid their sons to own cars, but a wise parent will do everything possible to make sure that car ownership does not take precedence over school work.

WEAPON AGAINST FILTH

Filthy, licentious books and pictures continue to find a market because of the depravity and weakness of human nature. There are laws against pornography, but those who print and distribute such dirt continue to do so because they consider the profits high enough to justify the risk.

Decent citizens ordinarily have no contact with such things; they may not even be aware that such a traffic exists. Yet every now and then a decent person receives suggestive advertisements through the mail, and it is not uncommon for a shocked parent to find that a teen-age son has gotten material of this kind either as a "come-on" or as the result of his curiosity.

When such things do come in the mails, what ought to be done? Happily, more can be done than was the case awhile back. Violators of the laws against mailing pornography can be prosecuted not only at the point of origin, but at the place where the questionable mail was received. Convictions can be obtained; the distributors of filth can be fined and sent to jail.

So when pornographic books or pictures, or suggestive descriptions of such things, arrive in the mail, don't answer the promptings of disgust and throw them away or burn them. Turn the materials over to postal authorities. You may, thus, help to bring punishment to some of those who traffic in filth.

NOT MERE STATISTICS

You are speeding along a highway, not consciously aware of your driving. All at once an oncoming car swerves toward your lane. For one terrible moment, you envision a crash; then the other car rights its course and careens narrowly by.

Or you begin to pass the car ahead, which in turn is running a few lengths behind another. The car you have started to pass edges toward the left, and you realize in one frantic instant that its driver is not aware of your approach. You sound your horn; the other car lurches back; you go on past, trembling and shaken.

Most drivers tend to think of highway accident statistics in terms of the other fellow; most of us do not have full awareness, until a moment of crisis, that a crippling or fatal accident could happen to us as well as to others. Yet such awareness stimulates alertness and attention to the road as nothing else can.

THE FORMATION OF POLICY

The world is getting to be too complicated for any one man to know it all; nevertheless the formation of national policy must be centralized somewhere or it is bound to become chaotic. Woodrow Wilson and Franklin D. Roosevelt, men of sure egotism, centralized national policy in themselves, reducing the State Department to an annex of the White House. In both instances, the results for the United States were unfortunate.

President Eisenhower has thus far had the good fortune of having an excellent Secretary of State and an astonishingly capable organization in the State Department—men who are not governed by personal whim but by craftsmanly objectivity as much as that is attainable in human beings. President Eisenhower has also been fortunate in that during his term in office, thus far, the Senate Foreign Relations Committee has not permitted itself to forget that the foreign policy of the country and its conduct are constitutionally the function of the President.

The illness of Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and the elevation of Senator Fulbright to the chairmanship of the Foreign Relations Committee may force upon the President many unforseeable difficulties. The matter of appointing a successor to Dulles cannot be taken lightly at this moment when an ultimatum (May 27) stares at us. A Secretary of State today must be compatible to the British, French and West German governments, acceptable to the American people, cognizant of the whole gamut of relations with Soviet Russia, and capable of dealing with the ambitious gentlemen on the Hill who, so close to 1960, are psychologically disposed to permit their candidacies for President Eisenhower's job to affect their judgment.

It may be so that President Eisenhower will permit the office of Secretary of State to be unfilled while John Foster Dulles lives so that those who regard themselves as plausible successors must, out of respect, continue to serve in their present positions. The four top men in the State Department, Christian Herter, C. Douglas Dillon, Robert Murphy and Loy Henderson, are capable of doing the business of the Department if President Eisenhower will assume greater responsibility for policy-making. Also, John Foster Dulles can do considerable work from his hospital bed.

Murphy and Henderson are career men of exceptional ability. Both are familiar with the record during and since World War II. They command the respect of their colleagues, the career men whom the American people ought to regard more favorably than they do. Herter and Douglas have come into the Department from outside: Herter was Governor of Massachusetts; Dillon was a banker who became ambassador to France. Both are more able than such appointees usually are. The four ought to produce a working team of high order.

The President may like to appoint an outsider to succeed Dulles. Few men in the United States are capable of preparing themselves for the forthcoming negotiations over Germany in the short time available. It is doubtful whether such men as General Gruenther, Thomas E. Dewey or John J. McCloy could jump into such negotiations without devoting a prolonged period to reading the texts of our current commitments. It was unfortunate for Harry Truman that he was required to attend the Potsdam Conference so soon after President Roosevelt died, and that Prime Minister Attlee replaced Churchill in the midst of that Conference. It gave Stalin an enormous advantage to deal with the unavoidably inadequately informed.

Some stupid and self-serving suggestions have been made. Representative Emanuel Celler has proposed that the President appoint Adlai Stevenson and thus achieve a true bi-partisanship. This is a very serious moment in our history, one that causes thoughtful men to pause. Such levity as Celler's ceases to be fun when one realizes the full peril of the moment.

What must cause anyone to wonder is what Senator Fulbright will do. He regards himself as an expert on international relations. He does not come up for re-election in 1960 and therefore does not anticipate being eliminated from the Senate during the Eisenhower term. He is willful and favorably influenced by the British parliamentary system, under which he would be in charge of foreign affairs now. While he cannot be accused of being pro-Russian, he can be judged unrealistic on the subject. He may become as difficult to deal with at the present time as Senator Borah was in the Administration of Herbert Hoover.

"Golly! Not Another One!"

Washington News

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, (NEA) — To get a line on what's happening in congressional hasseling so far this year, it may be useful to recall a parallel situation on farm legislation last year.

President Eisenhower sent a farm message to Congress in January, 1958, recommending lower, flexible price supports.

To show him who was boss around here, Congress passed a bill freezing all price supports. The President promptly vetoed it and that was the last heard of that idea.

The House Agriculture Committee then cooked up what Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson called a "legislative monstrosity." It was a bill so bad that even the House couldn't stomach it. They killed it in June.

Finally, in August, Congress passed a farm bill reducing corn price supports on the 1959 crop. Rice and cotton supports were set for a cut in 1962. This didn't go whole hog with the Eisenhower-Benson plan, but it was their victory.

This year the President and secretary have just made a similar pitch to Congress. One thing they ask for specifically is an end to incentives for overproduction of wheat by basing support prices on market averages instead of on the old fixed parity principle.

DEMOCRATIC HOUSE members promptly told the secretary they would not accept the administration program.

This is in line with Democratic reaction to other administration proposals on housing, airport construction, urban renewal, aid to depressed areas and aid to education.

The Democrats' position is that they won the election, they'll control the majorities, they'll dictate programs.

But this Democratic position is weakening already. Stung by administration charges of reckless spending, the Senate Democrats cut their airport and housing bills by 100 to 150 million dollars.

The Eisenhower administration welcomes these cuts but says they are not big enough in the interest of economy, what's needed by the country or by good government.

IF PRESIDENT EISENHOWER had item veto on appropriation bills—which he has repeatedly requested but which Congress has consistently refused — excessive spending might be controlled. Lacking that power, all the President can do is hold out the threat of vetoing entire bills.

The Democratic reply that if the President resorts to this, they will balance his budget for him by cutting off his foreign aid program, is taken by Republicans as pretty small politics. As the President told his press conference, that would be "statesmanship of a very low order." This puts it as politely as possible.

The political probabilities are that in the next few months a lot of these extreme positions on both sides will be whittled down to better shape.

That is what happened on the Democratic farm program last year. It is what will likely happen to the Democratic farm and other programs this year. By the end of a session, common sense usually prevails.

SECRETARY BENSON points out that it does not make sense to go on paying high price supports on wheat. The prospect is that at present price support levels, the U. S. government will own 1½ billion bushels of surplus wheat—a full year's extra supply—by July 1, 1960. It will have cost the taxpayers 3½ billion dollars.

Secretary Benson has given the Congress two possible courses of action to eliminate this continued extravagance and political irresponsibility. One is to relax controls and let a free market determine price. The other is to tighten loopholes in existing controls.

Congress has until May 15—the date for proclaiming 1960 wheat crop marketing controls under present law—to decide which of these courses it will follow.

Chronic Constipation Can Be Traced to Childhood Habits

BY EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.
Written for NEA Service

What I fear is a stubborn problem is presented by a correspondent.

She says that she is nearing 80 and has serious trouble with chronic constipation. This has reached the point, she says, where dieting doesn't help. In spite of using many kinds of physics she thinks this will "kill" her if she doesn't get something done.

Unfortunately, such severe constipation is not easy to handle at this age; the writer will probably need professional advice.

The important thing about chronic constipation is that it should be handled early in life, since true constiption is essentially a habit. It should not be confused with what might be called the false constipation resulting from taking too many laxatives. This generally leads to alternating constipation and diarrhea and the condition known as spastic colon.

In real constipation the waste material of the digestive tract is held too long and there is delay in emptying the bowels. This results in waste material which is hard and dry.

Neglect and improper training during childhood are probably the most important causes of chronic constipation. During childhood, a regular time of day should be established and the responsibility placed on the youngster as soon as possible.

An additional cause is that many people suppress nature's call. This tends to interfere with the normal rhythm of bowel emptying.

Bad eating habits can and often do cause constipation. Some foods today are so highly refined that they do not contain the needed bulk.

Quite often, fresh fruits and vegetables make up an insufficient part of the diet. These foods not only supply a large part of the bulk necessary but also aid in producing the wavelike movements of the intestines (peristalsis) which carry the contents down through the digestive tract.

The abuse of laxatives or cathartics is a great source of trouble today. All too many people have the notion that if they clean themselves out once a week with a good strong purge it will be good for them.

However, this upsets the normal regular rhythm of bowel evacuation and the intestinal waves may not return to normal for several days. Enemas may have a place in treatment but also should not be taken regularly.

Treatment of simple constipation is usually successful. When the trouble has started in childhood, or has lasted for many years, good results are more difficult to obtain. The underlying cause, whether faulty diet, neglect, abuse of laxatives, or lack of exercise (or all of them)—should be identified and corrected.

Soviet Envoy Is Declared Meddler in U. S. Policies

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Mikhail A. Menshikov, the Soviet Ambassador to the United States, has violated diplomatic rules by a bold intervention in American politics. Heretofore, throughout American history, such an offense has meant sending the meddling ambassador home. In this instance, Sen. James William Fulbright, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, should be among the first to demand that Menshikov be expelled from this country. For the Soviet envoy has violated the confidence of the Arkansas Senator by publishing in a recent issue of "New Times" a report of alleged conversations with Mr. Fulbright dealing with American politics.

In the article, Menshikov says he was told, in effect, by Sen. Fulbright that if the Democrats win in 1960, the Soviets will have a better chance to get their way in world affairs.

Violation of Rules

No such intimation probably was given by the Arkansas Senator. The very fact that Ambassador Menshikov wrote for the government - controlled "New Times"—which is printed by the Soviet government in eight languages besides Russian and is distributed widely throughout the world—any article purporting to give his conversations with a United States Senator, is a sign that he either doesn't know the rules of diplomatic relations or chooses to disregard them. Ambassador Menshikov writes:

"To what extent is the victory of the Democratic party at the elections likely to affect the foreign policy of the Republican government? Will the Democratic opposition be able and willing to compel the State Department to relinquish its policy?

Interview in Capital

"I had an interview in Washington with Mr. James Fulbright, Democratic Senator from Arkansas. The Senator, a calm, sober-minded man of fifty-three, with a slow deliberate manner, thin hair, graying at the temples, light blue eyes, and the old professional trick of peering over his glasses as he listens to you, received me in his office in the new Senate building."

The Ambassador then quotes with approval from speeches Mr. Fulbright made during the summer of 1958, which Menshikov cites as criticizing the American government for its Far Eastern and Middle Eastern policies and as "charging that the State Department was displaying a 'dangerous apathy' in allowing itself to be run by a 'bureaucracy so fearful of change that it clings desperately to the ancient pillars of policy even as they rot away under the pressure of irresistible developments.'"

Predicted Chairmanship

The Soviet envoy went on to predict that Mr. Fulbright would become chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations committee. The Menshikov article then continues;

"My talk with him took place in late November. The Senator had just returned from a trip to Asia and was full of energy and new impressions. He expressed the opinion that war between the Soviet Union and the United States was senseless under all curcumstances and that relations between our two countries must be improved at all costs. The whole point was how to do it.

"In the Senator's opinion one splendid way to promote mutual understanding is through personal contacts and cultural ties. He said that the country was heading for a Republican defeat in the 1960 elections and a change in the government. The State Department would be obliged to some extent to reckon with the new trends in the country and in Congress.

Saw No Immediate Change

"But, he added, the President and the members of his cabinet cannot be compelled to do anything they did not want to do, and hence he, Fullbright, did not believe there would be any serious change in United States foreign policy in the next two years. He did, however, believe that if the Democratic party were to be sufficiently active in this period it could prepare the ground for such changes by the time the new elections came around."

Within the last few days, Premier Khrushchev made a speech in which he praised Sen. Mike Mansfield, Democrat of Montana, another member of the Foreign Relations Committee, for suggesting that the problem of Berlin be settled by direct negotiations between East and West Germany rather than by the big four powers.

There is no doubt that the Communists are taking every advantage of the practice which has grown up here in recent years whereby senators give the impression, perhaps unwittingly, that they speak for the people of the United States on foreign policy.

Confusing to Others

The Constitution makes the President alone the spokesman of the government in foreign affairs. But, with a divided government in Washington, the world now can't be sure who speaks for America.

As for the Soviets, they are brazenly disregarding all the amenities of diplomatic intercourse and meddling in American politics. There was a time when foreign ambassadors thought it indiscreet even to call on a member of Congress in his office and, instead, confined their contacts to social calls in the evening. But the Menshikov article shows that no such rules are being obeyed today, and hence it would be proper now, and in accord with many precedents, for the Department of State to ask Moscow to recall Stanislav Menshikov as "persona non grata" to the United States government.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

The politico-social activities of wives of electoral officers hitherto have been granted privacy on a naive assumption, ludicrous to wise Europeans, that a public man's private life is none of our business. Mrs. Roosevelt prepared us for a change of attitude. Recent conduct of the wife of Governor Rockefeller, of New York, has made an issue of the matter. This lady took part in mechanized political demonstrations in favor of David Dubinsky, an old-time Socialist, who operates, rather fitfully now, a Socialist Party in New York called the Liberal Party, and a socialist political machine in Europe, North Africa and elsewhere overseas, under the general management of an old Trotsky Communist known as Jay Lovestone. Lovestone's advocates in journalism claim that he has apostatized but offer no proof and Lovestone, himself, sayeth naught.

Mrs. Rockefeller was photographed sewing union labels in garments for the benefit of Dubinsky's union, the Garment Workers. This union notoriously deserves the official attention of the McClellan Committee but, for political reasons, has been exempt.

The type of ballyhoo to which Mrs. Rockefeller and Mrs. Meyner, the wife of the Jersey governor, lend themselves and the prestige of the husbands' offices is not spontaneous but organized. All newspaper people and all politicians know that it is a product of a sinister phenomenon called public relations.

Mrs. Rockefeller's impudence here is rather important. Her husband purports to be a Republican. Therefore, there is a careless public belief that she is a Republican, too. Mrs. Meyner's husband is a partisan Democrat and so, apparently, is she. In view of the intermingling of the Democratic Party and various socialist fronts, when Mrs. Meyner pays respect to Dubinsky's union, itself, a political force, her conduct is not surprising. However, there are upstanding, anti-Socialist Democrats who reject Dubinsky and his union and its works.

We come now to a sensible understanding of a fact of life known to all persons who have been married. The wife often is the deciding member and this plainly implies that a Socialist or Communist wife of a hypothetical Republican or a Loyalist, Jeffersonian Democrat, will make decisions for him contrary to the legitimate expectations of the public.

In Europe, the influence of women in great, often tragic, developments is well known and there is none of the boyish reticence that handicaps us in our belated recognition of the power of a soft, sweet voice on a pillow in the dead of night.

There was a lady named Pompadour, whose career reminds us that some American statesmen have had mistresses. In particular one who, in recent years, revoked his declared position and fought for the United Nations. His defection was a fateful mishap in history.

For years I have noted that not one Communist who was sentenced to prison for contempt or any of the sly disloyalties which the Supreme Court has now found amiable, was sent to Alcatraz and that some of the most malignant were quietly transferred to Danbury where one of them was given facilities to write a book. Danbury is relatively so pleasant that it is called the Country Club. One such Red was transferred from Los Angeles to Connecticut, so that he could be near his mother. He had put her to agony by his conduct but that was beside the point when the Bureau of Prisons decided on the transfer.

On the other hand, offenders who no less deserved the favor of proximity to their loved ones were railroaded to Atlanta, Leavenworth and the Rock on the caprice of persons unknown who may have been not officials with decisive authority but spouses thereof. One such wife is known to be, in a quiet way, a devotee of Mrs. Roosevelt and sympathetic with her designs and proteges.

So that time is here to make candidates qualify their wives at the nominating conventions and for the wives to submit information on their own politics and associations. To err is human but to refuse to profit by experience is nobody's fault but our own.

It was unfortunate for Harry Truman that he was required to attend the Potsdam Conference so soon after President Roosevelt died, and that Prime Minister Attlee replaced Churchill in the midst of that Conference. It gave Stalin an enormous advantage to deal with the unavoidably inadequately informed.

Some stupid and self-serving suggestions have been made. Representative Emanuel Celler has proposed that the President appoint Adlai Stevenson and thus achieve a true bi-partisanship. This is a very serious moment in our history, one that causes thoughtful men to pause. Such levity as Celler's ceases to be fun when one realizes the full peril of the moment.

What must cause anyone to wonder is what Senator Fulbright will do. He regards himself as an expert on international relations. He does not come up for re-election in 1960 and therefore does not anticipate being eliminated from the Senate during the Eisenhower term. He is willful and favorably influenced by the British parliamentary system, under which he would be in charge of foreign affairs now. While he cannot be accused of being pro-Russian, he can be judged unrealistic on the subject. He may become as difficult to deal with at the present time as Senator Borah was in the Administration of Herbert Hoover.

"Golly! Not Another One!"

Washington News

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, (NEA) — To get a line on what's happening in congressional hasseling so far this year, it may be useful to recall a parallel situation on farm legislation last year.

President Eisenhower sent a farm message to Congress in January, 1958, recommending lower, flexible price supports.

To show him who was boss around here, Congress passed a bill freezing all price supports. The President promptly vetoed it and that was the last heard of that idea.

The House Agriculture Committee then cooked up what Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson called a "legislative monstrosity." It was a bill so bad that even the House couldn't stomach it. They killed it in June.

Finally, in August, Congress passed a farm bill reducing corn price supports on the 1959 crop. Rice and cotton supports were set for a cut in 1962. This didn't go whole hog with the Eisenhower-Benson plan, but it was their victory.

This year the President and secretary have just made a similar pitch to Congress. One thing they ask for specifically is an end to incentives for overproduction of wheat by basing support prices on market averages instead of on the old fixed parity principle.

DEMOCRATIC HOUSE members promptly told the secretary they would not accept the administration program.

This is in line with Democratic reaction to other administration proposals on housing, airport construction, urban renewal, aid to depressed areas and aid to education.

The Democrats' position is that they won the election, they control the majorities, they'll dictate programs.

But this Democratic position is weakening already. Stung by administration charges of reckless spending, the Senate Democrats cut their airport and housing bills by 100 to 150 million dollars.

The Eisenhower administration welcomes these cuts but says they are not big enough in the interest of economy, what's needed by the country or by good government.

IF PRESIDENT EISENHOWER had item veto on appropriation bills—which he has repeatedly requested but which Congress has consistently refused — excessive spending might be controlled. Lacking that power, all the President can do is hold out the threat of vetoing entire bills.

The Democratic reply that if the President resorts to this, they will balance his budget for him by cutting off his foreign aid program, is taken by Republicans as pretty small politics. As the President told his press conference, that would be "statesmanship of a very low order." This puts it as politely as possible.

The political probabilities are that in the next few months a lot of these extreme positions on both sides will be whittled down to better shape.

That is what happened on the Democratic farm program last year. It is what will likely happen to the Democratic farm and other programs this year. By the end of a session, common sense usually prevails.

SECRETARY BENSON. points out that it does not make sense to go on paying high price supports on wheat. The prospect is that at present price support levels, the U. S. government will own 1½ billion bushels of surplus wheat—a full year's extra supply—by July 1, 1960. It will have cost the taxpayers 3½ billion dollars.

Secretary Benson has given the Congress two possible courses of action to eliminate this continued extravagance and political irresponsibility. One is to relax controls and let a free market determine price. The other is to tighten loopholes in existing controls.

Congress has until May 15—the date for proclaiming 1960 wheat crop marketing controls under present law—to decide which of these courses it will follow.

Chronic Constipation Can Be Traced to Childhood Habits

BY EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.
Written for NEA Service

What I fear is a stubborn problem is presented by a correspondent.

She says that she is nearing 80 and has serious trouble with chronic constipation. This has reached the point, she says, where dieting doesn't help. In spite of using many kinds of physics she thinks this will "kill" her if she doesn't get something done.

Unfortunately, such severe constipation is not easy to handle at this age; the writer will probably need professional advice.

The important thing about chronic constipation is that it should be handled early in life, since true constiption is essentially a habit. It should not be confused with what might be called the false constipation resulting from taking too many laxatives. This generally leads to alternating constipation and diarrhea and the condition known as spastic colon.

In real constipation the waste material of the digestive tract is held too long and there is delay in emptying the bowels. This results in waste material which is hard and dry.

Neglect and improper training during childhood are probably the most important causes of chronic constipation. During childhood, a regular time of day should be established and the responsibility placed on the youngster as soon as possible.

An additional cause is that many people suppress nature's call. This tends to interfere with the normal rhythm of bowel emptying.

Bad eating habits can and often do cause constipation. Some foods today are so highly refined that they do not contain the needed bulk.

Quite often, fresh fruits and vegetables make up an insufficient part of the diet. These foods not only supply a large part of the bulk necessary but also aid in producing the wavelike movements of the intestines (peristalsis) which carry the contents down through the digestive tract.

The abuse of laxatives or cathartics is a great source of trouble today. All too many people have the notion that if they clean themselves out once a week with a good strong purge it will be good for them.

However, this upsets the normal regular rhythm of bowel evacuation and the intestinal waves may not return to normal for several days. Enemas may have a place in treatment but also should not be taken regularly.

Treatment of simple constipation is usually successful. When the trouble has started in childhood, or has lasted for many years, good results are more difficult to obtain. The underlying cause, whether faulty diet, neglect, abuse of laxatives, or lack of exercise (or all of them)—should be identified and corrected.

Soviet Envoy Is Declared Meddler in U. S. Policies

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Mikhail A. Menshikov, the Soviet Ambassador to the United States, has violated diplomatic rules by a bold intervention in American politics. Heretofore, throughout American history, such an offense has meant sending the meddling ambassador home. In this instance, Sen. James William Fulbright, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, should be among the first to demand that Menshikov be expelled from this country. For the Soviet envoy has violated the confidence of the Arkansas Senator by publishing in a recent issue of "New Times" a report of alleged conversations with Mr. Fulbright dealing with American politics.

In the article, Menshikov says he was told, in effect, by Sen. Fulbright that if the Democrats win in 1960, the Soviets will have a better chance to get their way in world affairs.

Violation of Rules

No such intimation probably was given by the Arkansas Senator. The very fact that Ambassador Menshikov wrote for the government - controlled "New Times"—which is printed by the Soviet government in eight languages besides Russian and is distributed widely throughout the world—any article purporting to give his conversations with a United States Senator, is a sign that he either doesn't know the rules of diplomatic relations or chooses to disregard them. Ambassador Menshikov writes:

"To what extent is the victory of the Democratic party at the elections likely to affect the foreign policy of the Republican government? Will the Democratic opposition be able and willing to compel the State Department to relinquish its policy?

Interview in Capital

"I had an interview in Washington with Mr. James Fulbright, Democratic Senator from Arkansas. The Senator, a calm, sober-minded man of fifty-three, with a slow deliberate manner, thin hair, graying at the temples, light blue eyes, and the old professional trick of peering over his glasses as he listens to you, received me in his office in the new Senate building."

The Ambassador then quotes with approval from speeches Mr. Fulbright made during the summer of 1958, which Menshikov cites as criticizing the American government for its Far Eastern and Middle Eastern policies and as "charging that the State Department was displaying a 'dangerous apathy' in allowing itself to be run by a 'bureaucracy so fearful of change that it clings desperately to the ancient pillars of policy even as they rot away under the pressure of irresistible developments.'"

Predicted Chairmanship

The Soviet envoy went on to predict that Mr. Fulbright would become chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations committee. The Menshikov article then continues;

"My talk with him took place in late November. The Senator had just returned from a trip to Asia and was full of energy and new impressions. He expressed the opinion that war between the Soviet Union and the United States was senseless under all curcumstances and that relations between our two countries must be improved at all costs. The whole point was how to do it.

"In the Senator's opinion one splendid way to promote mutual understanding is through personal contacts and cultural ties. He said that the country was heading for a Republican defeat in the 1960 elections and a change in the government. The State Department would be obliged to some extent to reckon with the new trends in the country and in Congress.

Saw No Immediate Change

"But, he added, the President and the members of his cabinet cannot be compelled to do anything they did not want to do, and hence he, Fullbright, did not believe there would be any serious change in United States foreign policy in the next two years. He did, however, believe that if the Democratic party were to be sufficiently active in this period it could prepare the ground for such changes by the time the new elections came around."

Within the last few days, Premier Khrushchev made a speech in which he praised Sen. Mike Mansfield, Democrat of Montana, another member of the Foreign Relations Committee, for suggesting that the problem of Berlin be settled by direct negotiations between East and West Germany rather than by the big four powers.

There is no doubt that the Communists are taking every advantage of the practice which has grown up here in recent years whereby senators give the impression, perhaps unwittingly, that they speak for the people of the United States on foreign policy.

Confusing to Others

The Constitution makes the President alone the spokesman of the government in foreign affairs. But, with a divided government in Washington, the world now can't be sure who speaks for America.

As for the Soviets, they are brazenly disregarding all the amenities of diplomatic intercourse and meddling in American politics. There was a time when foreign ambassadors thought it indiscreet even to call on a member of Congress in his office and, instead, confined their contacts to social calls in the evening. But the Menshikov article shows that no such rules are being obeyed today, and hence it would be proper now, and in accord with many precedents, for the Department of State to ask Moscow to recall Stanislav Menshikov as "persona non grata" to the United States government.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

The politico-social activities of wives of electoral officers hitherto have been granted privacy on a naive assumption, ludicrous to wise Europeans, that a public man's private life is none of our business. Mrs. Roosevelt prepared us for a change of attitude. Recent conduct of the wife of Governor Rockefeller, of New York, has made an issue of the matter. This lady took part in mechanized political demonstrations in favor of David Dubinsky, an old-time Socialist, who operates, rather fitfully now, a Socialist Party in New York called the Liberal Party, and a socialist political machine in Europe, North Africa and elsewhere overseas, under the general management of an old Trotsky Communist known as Jay Lovestone. Lovestone's advocates in journalism claim that he has apostatized but offer no proof and Lovestone, himself, sayeth naught.

Mrs. Rockefeller was photographed sewing union labels in garments for the benefit of Dubinsky's union, the Garment Workers. This union notoriously deserves the official attention of the McClellan Committee but, for political reasons, has been exempt.

The type of ballyhoo to which Mrs. Rockefeller and Mrs. Meyner, the wife of the Jersey governor, lend themselves and the prestige of the husbands' offices is not spontaneous but organized. All newspaper people and all politicians know that it is a product of a sinister phenomenon called public relations.

Mrs. Rockefeller's impudence here is rather important. Her husband purports to be a Republican. Therefore, there is a careless public belief that she is a Republican, too. Mrs. Meyner's husband is a partisan Democrat and so, apparently, is she. In view of the intermingling of the Democratic Party and various socialist fronts, when Mrs. Meyner pays respect to Dubinsky's union, itself, a political force, her conduct is not surprising. However, there are upstanding, anti-Socialist Democrats who reject Dubinsky and his union and its works.

We come now to a sensible understanding of a fact of life known to all persons who have been married. The wife often is the deciding member and this plainly implies that a Socialist or Communist wife of a hypothetical Republican or a Loyalist, Jeffersonian Democrat, will make decisions for him contrary to the legitimate expectations of the public.

In Europe, the influence of women in great, often tragic, developments is well known and there is none of the boyish reticence that handicaps us in our belated recognition of the power of a soft, sweet voice on a pillow in the dead of night.

There was a lady named Pompadour, whose career reminds us that some American statesmen have had mistresses. In particular one who, in recent years, revoked his declared position and fought for the United Nations. His defection was a fateful mishap in history.

For years I have noted that not one Communist who was sentenced to prison for contempt or any of the sly disloyalties which the Supreme Court has now found amiable, was sent to Alcatraz and that some of the most malignant were quietly transferred to Danbury where one of them was given facilities to write a book. Danbury is relatively so pleasant that it is called the Country Club. One such Red was transferred from Los Angeles to Connecticut, so that he could be near his mother. He had put her to agony by his conduct but that was beside the point when the Bureau of Prisons decided on the transfer.

On the other hand, offenders who no less deserved the favor of proximity to their loved ones were railroaded to Atlanta, Leavenworth and the Rock on the caprice of persons unknown who may have been not officials with decisive authority but spouses thereof. One such wife is known to be, in a quiet way, a devotee of Mrs. Roosevelt and sympathetic with her designs and proteges.

So that time is here to make candidates qualify their wives at the nominating conventions and for the wives to submit information on their own politics and associations. To err is human but to refuse to profit by experience is nobody's fault but our own.

Measure Would Allow General Aniline Sale

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two New York Republicans say the Justice Department is preparing legislation that would enable private enterprise to purchase General Aniline and Film Corp.

Sen. Kenneth B. Keating and Rep. Howard W. Robison said Thursday the Justice Department bill was expected to be introduced soon in the Senate and House.

General Aniline, once a German firm, was seized by the government during World War II. It has properties in Johnson City and Rensselaer, N. Y.

Keating and Robison also have sponsored legislation that would allow the firm to be sold to private enterprise. They said the attorney general favored the "general approach" of their bill. The differences in the bills were not spelled out.

In a statement, the legislators said the Justice Department move "greatly enhances the probability of action on this important matter which should lead to greater expansion of General Aniline activities under private operation and therefore to increased employment."

Local Members Attend Firemen's Meeting

MODENA — Local members of the Ulster County Volunteer Firemens' Association, attended the February meeting held at Kingston Tuesday evening.

Further discussion was made of the two-way radio system for Ulster County officials and firemen, scheduled to be in operation in May.

The installations will include two base stations, according to report, one on the Tonche Mountain at Glenford and the other high on Lake Minnewaska Mountain section.

From the water tower on Golden Hill, Ulster County Hospital, microwaves will activate the sirens in any or all fire stations in the county.

The operating unit may be housed temporarily in the Court House, other locations being considered.

The fire radio, part of three in the system, will require a dispatcher each day, while the other two hook-ups in the radio system are the sheriff's office on one wave band, and the Ulster County Highway Department on a separate wave band and separate console.

This system, long worked for by association members, will add to the efficiency of each fire company by uniting manpower and apparatus.

Measure Would Allow General Aniline Sale

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two New York Republicans say the Justice Department is preparing legislation that would enable private enterprise to purchase General Aniline and Film Corp.

Sen. Kenneth B. Keating and Rep. Howard W. Robison said Thursday the Justice Department bill was expected to be introduced soon in the Senate and House.

General Aniline, once a German firm, was seized by the government during World War II. It has properties in Johnson City and Rensselaer, N. Y.

Keating and Robison also have sponsored legislation that would allow the firm to be sold to private enterprise. They said the attorney general favored the "general approach" of their bill. The differences in the bills were not spelled out.

In a statement, the legislators said the Justice Department move "greatly enhances the probability of action on this important matter which should lead to greater expansion of General Aniline activities under private operation and therefore to increased employment."

Local Members Attend Firemen's Meeting

MODENA — Local members of the Ulster County Volunteer Firemens' Association, attended the February meeting held at Kingston Tuesday evening.

Further discussion was made of the two-way radio system for Ulster County officials and firemen, scheduled to be in operation in May.

The installations will include two base stations, according to report, one on the Tonche Mountain at Glenford and the other high on Lake Minnewaska Mountain section.

From the water tower on Golden Hill, Ulster County Hospital, microwaves will activate the sirens in any or all fire stations in the county.

The operating unit may be housed temporarily in the Court House, other locations being considered.

The fire radio, part of three in the system, will require a dispatcher each day, while the other two hook-ups in the radio system are the sheriff's office on one wave band, and the Ulster County Highway Department on a separate wave band and separate console.

This system, long worked for by association members, will add to the efficiency of each fire company by uniting manpower and apparatus.

Through the street lined with early stone houses George Washington and his aide will proceed on horseback eastward toward the Hurley Four Corners. Here, at the Houghtaling house the public is invited to witness the reenactment of the speeches delivered by Matthew Ten Eyck to General Washington and Washington's response. Among those present at this scene will be direct descendents of Matthew Ten Eyck who was president of the Hurley Council of Safety during the Revolution and a trustee of the Freeholders of Hurley.

Public Reception

Following the original ceremony, Washington was invited into the Tavern for a small reception. This portion of the historic event is being commemorated by a public reception in the auditorium of the Hurley School, including not only Hurley residents but all visitors who attend Hurley's launching day.

The speakers at the reception will be Stephen Waligurski, chairman of the Hurley Hudson-Champlain Festival, Harry Rigby Jr. of the governor's committee for the Hudson-Champlain Celebration and Frederic Snyder, world traveler and lecturer. Appropriate music of the Revolutionary period will be offered by the Hurley Festival Chorus with the singing of three selections, directed by Mrs. Carolyn Waligurski.

Following this short program, the visitors will be treated to refreshments of Washington Cake and Jumbles made from original receipes of those served to Gen. Washington on his trip through this area. On this day the first issue of the Hurley Historian will be on sale.

The Hurley Hudson Champlain Committee and the Hurley Lions Club cordially invites the public to attend and enjoy this view into Hurley history and to share in the festivities of the launching day of Hurley's Hudson-Champlain Festival.

Taking Salmon (In Cans) Nets Man 180 Days

Four cans of salmon led to the arrest Thursday of a local man whose file in the local police department includes a record of 42 arrests and 39 convictions.

Edward Robbins, 49, of 84 Gage Street, was arrested shortly after 4 p. m. by Officers Meyer Levy and Edward Edwards at Manos Market, 25 Broadway, on a petit larceny count when it was charged he shoplifted four cans of salmon.

Robbins was sentenced to 180 days in the Ulster County jail when he appeared before City Judge Aaron E. Klein this morning.

Court officials reported it was the 42nd time Robbins had been arrested and the 39th time he had been convicted. His record dates back to January, 1940 and the charges vary from petit to first degree grand larceny, it was reported.

Rent Control Due

loopholes to prevent big increases on apartments carved from large houses.

Rockefeller's rent administrator, Joseph J. Caputa, outlined the proposal to the commission, which will recommend action to the GOP-ruled Legislature.

Democrats made only a token bid for a stronger law. New York's Mayor Robert F. Wagner sent a statement generally endorsing the Rockefeller plan.

Following the pattern of other recent rent hearings, virtually all the 50 speakers were from New York City, although communities in 13 counties outside the city still are under rent control.

Bring Own Rooters

Many brought their own rooting sections. The battle lines were drawn from the outset—landlords on one side and tenants on the other.

Carlino had to gavel for order several times. Once he threatened to suspend the hearing if the tumult continued. But there were repeated outbursts.

Sen. James Watson (D-Manhattan), a commission member, pleaded with the crowd to conduct itself with dignity. The hearing, he said, had turned into "a Roman circus."

Russian Premier

his purposes after his talks this weekend with British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

Khrushchev's Tula speech was regarded by experts in the State Department as taking a very tough line. He specifically warned the Western powers that if they tried to shoot their way to Berlin it would mean war.

For Western Leaders

Addressing himself to Western leaders he declared:

"Therefore, we say: be sensible! Understand our position. We do not want any acquisitions, either political or material. Let us endorse that which has happened as a result of the second World War and which has been recognized by the whole world. It is not to the liking of imperialists that after World War II socialism (communism) took root in Poland, the GDR (the East German Communist state), Czechoslovakia and other countries. Yet there is no escape from these facts."

To Recommend

give active support to the candidates which it finally proposes.

Anyone, of course, can become a candidate by obtaining 100 signatures on a nominating petition. This petition is then examined by the board of education which accepts or rejects it. If accepted, the name of the candidate is placed on the ballot. Names of candidates on the ballot will be in alphabetical order.

The two candidates receiving the most votes next May will be elected.

Invites Suggestions

Dr. Soper called attention to a large map on which Kingston proper and the five outlying attendance areas were indicated in color. He explained that the districts had been laid out tentatively, that voting districts must be finally agreed upon by April 1.

Soper said he felt a "reasonably logical definition" of the districts (Lake Katrine, Port Ewen, Chambers, Hurley and Tillson) had been laid out, but invited corrections and recommendations.

Those Who Can Vote

Soper explained that qualified voters fall into three categories:

1. Those who voted last fall in the general election.
2. Those who come to register.
3. Those who don't register before election but report to the polling place and advise authorities that they voted last fall.

Soper explained that it is a difficult problem to prepare a list of qualified voters. The rolls of the general election districts are not the same as those of the school districts.

The law requires a board of registration, composed of equal numbers of Republicans and Democrats, which prepares copies of the election register. Election inspectors will check the registration books and approve or reject the voter.

The board of education appoints the inspectors—half from each political party.

Machines Likely

It is the feeling at this time that voting machines will be used in the May election.

Principals from the five rural attendance areas were introduced and discussed briefly the educational problems in each of their areas. They were Reginald Russell of Chambers School, Ernest Myer of Hurley, Robert Graves of Port Ewen, Ernest Hopper of Tillson and Edward R. Crosby of Lake Katrine.

Dr. Soper reported that "we will need a new junior high school very very soon." He said he felt the Dietz Stadium site was a good location, that there was a considerable acreage in the park adjoining the site, the stadium field was next door and the traffic problem, he believed, would be settled by construction of the 209 bypass. He said the buses could be "dumped" satisfactorily. The board is now investigating the sewage facilities at the site.

Would Go Outside City

Kerin O'Neil, president of the Parent-Teacher Association Council, said the proposed Dietz location troubled him and suggested the possibility of locating a second junior high school outside the city.

Soper said it was his feeling that if the district placed a junior high school outside the city it would entail a costly transportation plan.

Alderman James Ryan asked if the city would have the use of the stadium if a school was located at the proposed site. Soper answered in the affirmative. Ryan suggested the possibility of locating a new school in a highly populated area, such as Roosevelt Park.

Soper pointed out that the district will probably need a third junior high school in the not too distant future and that it was the feeling that, perhaps the third one might be placed somewhere in that general area.

KHS Overcrowded

Soper said the board wants to take grade 9 out of the high school, that KHS is far too heavily loaded now.

The possibility of locating a school in the lower Broadway section, perhaps under an urban renewal plan was suggested by Fowler.

Ryan explained that a master plan would have to be prepared for submission to federal and state authorities to become eligible for funds. He did not know whether the school would have to be built at such an urban renewal site or not.

Under the present building plans of the board a new elementary school has been proposed tentatively for the Hasbrouck Park area.

Need Solidarity on Bond

Albert C. Kurdt, manager of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce, spoke briefly, pointing out that the "big hurdle" would be the bond issue. It is important, he said, that there is unanimity of feeling about the building program among the members of the Committee of Fifty so that "we can get behind it 100 per cent."

He said he felt the program is a "bare minimum" and that by the time they are completed there will be need for additional plans.

William Switzer of Perkins and Will, architects, said it would be possible to submit "average figures" by the next meeting on proposed work at the various schools — information sufficient to compile budget data.

TOWN OF ULSTER REPUBLICANS DINE —Featured speaker at the second annual dinner of the Town of Ulster Republican Club was Judge John B. Sterley, chairman of the GOP City Committee and former surrogate, who talked about Abraham Lincoln. McVey, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Kingston, who offered the invocation. President Stedge urged that all take an interest in government "because today the average man works two and one-half hours of an eight-hour day just to pay his taxes." Among guests at the Thursday dinner in Aiello's were Jesse McHugh, Town of Shawangunk supervisor, majority leader in the county board, and assistant chairman of the Ulster County Republican Central Committee; the Rev. Msgr. Joseph F. Connolly, pastor of St. Philomena's Church, Town of Ulster, who gave the benediction, and Bernhardt S. Kramer, assistant GOP chairman. Living Costs Inch Up in January; Below '58 Record

WASHINGTON (AP)—The cost of living edged up one-tenth of one per cent in January. It was still slightly below the November, 1958 record high.

The Labor Department reported today that rising food prices more than offset a slight decline in the rest of its consumer price index.

The index stood at 123.8 per cent of the 1947-49 average. This was one-tenth of one per cent below the all-time peak.

Stable Nine Months

Ewan Clague, commissioner of the Bureau of Labor Statistics, said the nine months since April 1958, have been the longest period of comparative price stability since the index was established on its present basis in 1940.

It has fluctuated within a range of four-tenths of a point on the index scale.

Although spendable earnings and the buying power of factory workers dropped from December, they were at record levels for a January. It was the first time since the onset of the recession in 1957 that a monthly earnings' record has been reached.

No Hikes for Some

The price stability of recent months means there will be no increase in wages for 1¼ million automobile, aircraft and farm implement workers whose pay is adjusted to movements of the index. They have had no cost-of-living increase since last summer.

About 82,000 workers, mostly in the aircraft industry, whose contracts have a formula on a different base, will gain a penny-an-hour pay increase. These workers had taken a one-cent drop in October.

Outlook Is Stable

Clague said the outlook for the next few months is for continued comparitive stability in living costs.

There was no sign, however, that the administration's fear of a resumption of inflation later in the year has abated.

In January lower prices for clothing, home furnishings and transportation were recorded, but these did not quite offset a three-tenths of one per cent increase in food prices and smaller gains in the cost of medical care, recreation, and such personal services as haircuts and beauty treatments.

Hurley to Reenact Washington Visit Sunday, 2:30 P.M.

The historic main street of the village of Old Hurley will be the scene of the reenactment of an event which occurred in 1782, on Sunday, Feb. 22, at 2:30 p. m.

Through the street lined with early stone houses George Washington and his aide will proceed on horseback eastward toward the Hurley Four Corners. Here, at the Houghtaling house the public is invited to witness the reenactment of the speeches delivered by Matthew Ten Eyck to General Washington and Washington's response. Among those present at this scene will be direct descendents of Matthew Ten Eyck who was president of the Hurley Council of Safety during the Revolution and a trustee of the Freeholders of Hurley.

Public Reception

Following the original ceremony, Washington was invited into the Tavern for a small reception. This portion of the historic event is being commemorated by a public reception in the auditorium of the Hurley School, including not only Hurley residents but all visitors who attend Hurley's launching day.

The speakers at the reception will be Stephen Waligurski, chairman of the Hurley Hudson-Champlain Festival, Harry Rigby Jr. of the governor's committee for the Hudson-Champlain Celebration and Frederic Snyder, world traveler and lecturer. Appropriate music of the Revolutionary period will be offered by the Hurley Festival Chorus with the singing of three selections, directed by Mrs. Carolyn Waligurski.

Following this short program, the visitors will be treated to refreshments of Washington Cake and Jumbles made from original receipes of those served to Gen. Washington on his trip through this area. On this day the first issue of the Hurley Historian will be on sale.

The Hurley Hudson Champlain Committee and the Hurley Lions Club cordially invites the public to attend and enjoy this view into Hurley history and to share in the festivities of the launching day of Hurley's Hudson-Champlain Festival.

Taking Salmon (In Cans) Nets Man 180 Days

Four cans of salmon led to the arrest Thursday of a local man whose file in the local police department includes a record of 42 arrests and 39 convictions.

Edward Robbins, 49, of 84 Gage Street, was arrested shortly after 4 p. m. by Officers Meyer Levy and Edward Edwards at Manos Market, 25 Broadway, on a petit larceny count when it was charged he shoplifted four cans of salmon.

Robbins was sentenced to 180 days in the Ulster County jail when he appeared before City Judge Aaron E. Klein this morning.

Court officials reported it was the 42nd time Robbins had been arrested and the 39th time he had been convicted. His record dates back to January, 1940 and the charges vary from petit to first degree grand larceny, it was reported.

To Recommend

give active support to the candidates which it finally proposes.

Anyone, of course, can become a candidate by obtaining 100 signatures on a nominating petition. This petition is then examined by the board of education which accepts or rejects it. If accepted, the name of the candidate is placed on the ballot. Names of candidates on the ballot will be in alphabetical order.

The two candidates receiving the most votes next May will be elected.

Invites Suggestions

Dr. Soper called attention to a large map on which Kingston proper and the five outlying attendance areas were indicated in color. He explained that the districts had been laid out tentatively, that voting districts must be finally agreed upon by April 1.

Soper said he felt a "reasonably logical definition" of the districts (Lake Katrine, Port Ewen, Chambers, Hurley and Tillson) had been laid out, but invited corrections and recommendations.

Those Who Can Vote

Soper explained that qualified voters fall into three categories:

1. Those who voted last fall in the general election.
2. Those who come to register.
3. Those who don't register before election but report to the polling place and advise authorities that they voted last fall.

Soper explained that it is a difficult problem to prepare a list of qualified voters. The rolls of the general election districts are not the same as those of the school districts.

The law requires a board of registration, composed of equal numbers of Republicans and Democrats, which prepares copies of the election register. Election inspectors will check the registration books and approve or reject the voter.

The board of education appoints the inspectors—half from each political party.

Machines Likely

It is the feeling at this time that voting machines will be used in the May election.

Principals from the five rural attendance areas were introduced and discussed briefly the educational problems in each of their areas. They were Reginald Russell of Chambers School, Ernest Myer of Hurley, Robert Graves of Port Ewen, Ernest Hopper of Tillson and Edward R. Crosby of Lake Katrine.

Dr. Soper reported that "we will need a new junior high school very very soon." He said he felt the Dietz Stadium site was a good location, that there was a considerable acreage in the park adjoining the site, the stadium field was next door and the traffic problem, he believed, would be settled by construction of the 209 bypass. He said the buses could be "dumped" satisfactorily. The board is now investigating the sewage facilities at the site.

Would Go Outside City

Kerin O'Neil, president of the Parent-Teacher Association Council, said the proposed Dietz location troubled him and suggested the possibility of locating a second junior high school outside the city.

Soper said it was his feeling that if the district placed a junior high school outside the city it would entail a costly transportation plan.

Alderman James Ryan asked if the city would have the use of the stadium if a school was located at the proposed site. Soper answered in the affirmative. Ryan suggested the possibility of locating a new school in a highly populated area, such as Roosevelt Park.

Soper pointed out that the district will probably need a third junior high school in the not too distant future and that it was the feeling that, perhaps the third one might be placed somewhere in that general area.

KHS Overcrowded

Soper said the board wants to take grade 9 out of the high school, that KHS is far too heavily loaded now.

The possibility of locating a school in the lower Broadway section, perhaps under an urban renewal plan was suggested by Fowler.

Ryan explained that a master plan would have to be prepared for submission to federal and state authorities to become eligible for funds. He did not know whether the school would have to be built at such an urban renewal site or not.

Under the present building plans of the board a new elementary school has been proposed tentatively for the Hasbrouck Park area.

Need Solidarity on Bond

Albert C. Kurdt, manager of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce, spoke briefly, pointing out that the "big hurdle" would be the bond issue. It is important, he said, that there is unanimity of feeling about the building program among the members of the Committee of Fifty so that "we can get behind it 100 per cent."

He said he felt the program is a "bare minimum" and that by the time they are completed there will be need for additional plans.

William Switzer of Perkins and Will, architects, said it would be possible to submit "average figures" by the next meeting on proposed work at the various schools — information sufficient to compile budget data.

Rent Control Due

loopholes to prevent big increases on apartments carved from large houses.

Rockefeller's rent administrator, Joseph J. Caputa, outlined the proposal to the commission, which will recommend action to the GOP-ruled Legislature.

Democrats made only a token bid for a stronger law. New York's Mayor Robert F. Wagner sent a statement generally endorsing the Rockefeller plan.

Following the pattern of other recent rent hearings, virtually all the 50 speakers were from New York City, although communities in 13 counties outside the city still are under rent control.

Bring Own Rooters

Many brought their own rooting sections. The battle lines were drawn from the outset—landlords on one side and tenants on the other.

Carlino had to gavel for order several times. Once he threatened to suspend the hearing if the tumult continued. But there were repeated outbursts.

Sen. James Watson (D-Manhattan), a commission member, pleaded with the crowd to conduct itself with dignity. The hearing, he said, had turned into "a Roman circus."

Russian Premier

his purposes after his talks this weekend with British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

Khrushchev's Tula speech was regarded by experts in the State Department as taking a very tough line. He specifically warned the Western powers that if they tried to shoot their way to Berlin it would mean war.

For Western Leaders

Addressing himself to Western leaders he declared:

"Therefore, we say: be sensible! Understand our position. We do not want any acquisitions, either political or material. Let us endorse that which has happened as a result of the second World War and which has been recognized by the whole world. It is not to the liking of imperialists that after World War II socialism (communism) took root in Poland, the GDR (the East German Communist state), Czechoslovakia and other countries. Yet there is no escape from these facts."

TOWN OF ULSTER REPUBLICANS DINE—Featured speaker at the second annual dinner of the Town of Ulster Republican Club was Judge John B. Sterley, chairman of the GOP City Committee and former surrogate, who talked about Abraham Lincoln. Seated (l-r) are Robert Stedge, president of the club; Judge Sterley and John Walker, vice president; standing, Alexander Banyo, town supervisor, and the Rev. William J. McVey, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Kingston, who offered the invocation. President Stedge urged that all take an interest in government "because today the average man works two and one-half hours of an eight-hour day just to pay his taxes." Among guests at the Thursday dinner in Aiello's were Jesse McHugh, Town of Shawangunk supervisor, majority leader in the county board, and assistant chairman of the Ulster County Republican Central Committee; the Rev. Msgr. Joseph F. Connolly, pastor of St. Philomena's Church, Town of Ulster, who gave the benediction, and Bernhardt S. Kramer, assistant GOP chairman. The club will hold annual election of officers on May 7. (Freeman photo).

Living Costs Inch Up in January; Below '58 Record

WASHINGTON (AP)—The cost of living edged up one-tenth of one per cent in January. It was still slightly below the November, 1958 record high.

The Labor Department reported today that rising food prices more than offset a slight decline in the rest of its consumer price index.

The index stood at 123.8 per cent of the 1947-49 average. This was one-tenth of one per cent below the all-time peak.

Stable Nine Months

Ewan Clague, commissioner of the Bureau of Labor Statistics, said the nine months since April 1958, have been the longest period of comparative price stability since the index was established on its present basis in 1940.

It has fluctuated within a range of four-tenths of a point on the index scale.

Although spendable earnings and the buying power of factory workers dropped from December, they were at record levels for a January. It was the first time since the onset of the recession in 1957 that a monthly earnings' record has been reached.

No Hikes for Some

The price stability of recent months means there will be no increase in wages for 1¼ million automobile, aircraft and farm implement workers whose pay is adjusted to movements of the index. They have had no cost-of-living increase since last summer.

About 82,000 workers, mostly in the aircraft industry, whose contracts have a formula on a different base, will gain a penny-an-hour pay increase. These workers had taken a one-cent drop in October.

Outlook Is Stable

Clague said the outlook for the next few months is for continued comparitive stability in living costs.

There was no sign, however, that the administration's fear of a resumption of inflation later in the year has abated.

In January lower prices for clothing, home furnishings and transportation were recorded, but these did not quite offset a three-tenths of one per cent increase in food prices and smaller gains in the cost of medical care, recreation, and such personal services as haircuts and beauty treatments.

Nicosia Reaction Differs As Independence Is Near

NICOSIA (AP) — Cypriots approached the threshold of independence today with some cheers, many wait-and-see doubts and a demonstration by Turkish teenagers opposing the peace agreement.

There was more general enthusiasm among the British at the prospect of shedding the ancient Mediterranean island than among the people they have ruled for 81 years.

Boisterous Celebration

Boisterous celebrations broke out in some towns on hearing the news that the blueprint for making Cyprus a republic had been initialed by Britain, Greece and Turkey. Thousands jammed the Greek Orthodox cathedral in Paphos for a thanksgiving service.

But in the capital for hours there was a restrained — almost ominous—feeling broken only this morning by a demonstration of young Turkish Cypriot students shouting the Turkish community's old cry for "partition or death."

The orderly crowd of 2,000 teenagers paraded around Ataturk Souare in the Turkish sector carrying placards reading "We will not accept a murderer for our president."

Turkish Schools Close

The slogans were an obvious reference to Archbishop Makarios, leader of the 400,000 Greek Cypriots who has often been denounced by the 100,000 Turkish minority on the island. Makarios appears certain to be the first president when the republic comes into being.

All Turkish schools in the capital were closed.

In the west coast port of Paphos more than 1,000 students stayed away from classes to celebrate.

Most of the newspapers in Nicosia carried the news that the pact drafted in Zurich had been approved at the London conference without editorial comment. But the left-wing Haravgi was sharply critical, saying "under choking pressure of threats and ultimatums Makarios was forced to initial Zurich agreement." The Communists were angry that Britain would keep her military bases on the island.

The 1959 conference will be held at the Waldorf Astoria, New York City, June 21-24. Over 3,000 members from the association's 141 chapters and groups and from several foreign countries are expected to attend.

Four applications for membership were submitted. Voted and approved were Kenneth George Evancie, Pawling, controller of Pawling Rubber Corp.; Eugene L. Cohan, Newburgh, auditor of Star Expansion Industries Corp.; James Henry McCormick, Poughkeepsie, accountant-office manager of L. H. Swenson Co.; Robert O. D. Dean Barbor, vice president of the National Association of Accountants and a guest at the board meeting reviewed the progress of the national organization and stressed the aims of this educational institution, comprising 43,000 members, as devoted to a better understanding of the nature, purposes and uses of accounting as applied to all types of economic endeavor by means of research, discussion and exchange of information.

Members attending were: Earl E. Bennett, Charles S. Scott Jr., Francis X. Burnes, Mrs. Mary G. Mulchaey, Mrs. Patricia Whalen, Miss Marion E. Dingee, Robert J. Fitzgerald, Robert E. Bridge Axiom: Trust Partner

BY OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

Walter Malowan of New York writes: "My three-spade bid was based on an old allergy of mine. I am allergic to being shut out.

"Boris Koytchou, my partner, had opened one club only since he knew the bidding would not die there. Naturally he was interested in seven and his four no-trump bid was made with the intention of bidding the grand slam if I showed up with an ace.

"East's double of six spades was a perfect example of the Lightner slam double convention which calls for an unusual lead. He was void of clubs and since Boris had opened one club a lead of that suit would be the most unusual lead at West's disposal.

"West knew that his partner was asking for a club lead but West was too smart for that. He only held three clubs. How could East be void? He only held two hearts. How could North be void of that suit?

"West decided that his partner was just doubling on general strength and opened the ten of hearts. Naturally enough, I had no trouble making all the tricks."

Walter fails to point out that North could not have been beaten if he had been declarer at six spades but he is very charitable about West. East and West were supposedly good players and were playing the slam double convention. West should have trusted his partner.

NEW YORK (AP) — Pat Hingle, 35, one of the leading players in the Broadway play, "JB," was critically injured early today in a plunge to the pit of an elevator shaft.

Police gave this account:

Hingle entered the elevator to go up to his apartment. A mechanical failure halted the car between the second and third floors. There was a space between the floor of the car and the ceiling of the third-floor hallway.

Hingle attempted to let himself out of the car, but instead of landing on the floor of the third-floor hallway swung inwards and plunged to the pit of the shaft.

New Teller Admits Job Has Its Hazards

NEW YORK (AP) — Johnny Gallagher, 23, only last Monday moved by proudly from clerk to teller at the Chemical Corn Exchange Bank at Seventh Avenue and 33rd Street.

Thursday Gallagher admitted that his new job has its hazards.

A well-dressed man appeared in front of Gallagher's cage, shoved four dollars' worth of rolled pennies and nickels at him, along with a note demanding $5,000.

Gallagher scooped up a wad of bills and handed them to the man, who strolled away and disappeared in the afternoon crowds by the time the teller pushed the silent alarm.

The loot amounted to $2,984—a $2,980 profit for the thief.

Gallagher said the robber had a hand tucked inside his overcoat as though he had a gun. The teller said he wasn't sure if the man had a gun, but decided to do the next best thing.

"I figured he would be satisified with anything I gave him," Gallagher said.

Space Spending Is To Be Sky High, Experts Declare

WASHINGTON (AP) — Costs of the nation's future civilian space programs will orbit at sky-high levels of billions of dollars, experts say.

A few of the price tags:

Booster program for rocket motors—more than two billion dollars.

Manned space-flight program — 200 million dollars.

Efforts to build a 1½ million-pound thrust engine of a single chamber—200 million dollars.

The costs were listed Thursday by National Aeronautics and Space Administration officials appearing before a Senate space subcommittee.

NASA and its companion military agency in the Pentagon, the Advanced Research Projects Agency, are spending 450-500 million dollars this year and will need 800 millions or more next year, testimony showed.

And Dr. T. Keith Glenna, NASA head, added:

Don't be surprised if NASA alone costs a billion or more a year after two years.

Space program costs this year and next will be propelled by the planned launching of 30 satellites and some 140 probing rockets, Glennan said.

On the plus side of the space ledger, Glennan said experts estimate the value of advances in meteorology and communications stemming from the satellite program will be in the billions of dollars.

Nicosia Reaction Differs As Independence Is Near

NICOSIA (AP) — Cypriots approached the threshold of independence today with some cheers, many wait-and-see doubts and a demonstration by Turkish teenagers opposing the peace agreement.

There was more general enthusiasm among the British at the prospect of shedding the ancient Mediterranean island than among the people they have ruled for 81 years.

Boisterous Celebration

Boisterous celebrations broke out in some towns on hearing the news that the blueprint for making Cyprus a republic had been initialed by Britain, Greece and Turkey. Thousands jammed the Greek Orthodox cathedral in Paphos for a thanksgiving service.

But in the capital for hours there was a restrained -- almost ominous—feeling broken only this morning by a demonstration of young Turkish Cypriot students shouting the Turkish community's old cry for "partition or death."

The orderly crowd of 2,000 teenagers paraded around Ataturk Square in the Turkish sector carrying placards reading "We will not accept a murderer for our president."

Turkish Schools Close

The slogans were an obvious reference to Archbishop Makarios, leader of the 400,000 Greek Cypriots who has often been denounced by the 100,000 Turkish minority on the island. Makarios appears certain to be the first president when the republic comes into being.

All Turkish schools in the capital were closed.

In the west coast port of Paphos more than 1,000 students stayed away from classes to celebrate.

Most of the newspapers in Nicosia carried the news that the pact drafted in Zurich had been approved at the London conference without editorial comment. But the left-wing Haravgi was sharply critical, saying "under choking pressure of threats and ultimatums Makarios was forced to initial Zurich agreement." The Communists were angry that Britain would keep her military bases on the island.

Bridge Axiom: Trust Partner

BY OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

Walter Malowan of New York writes: "My three-spade bid was based on an old allergy of mine. I am allergic to being shut out.

"Boris Koytchou, my partner, had opened one club only since he knew the bidding would not die there. Naturally he was interested in seven and his four no-trump bid was made with the intention of bidding the grand slam if I showed up with an ace.

"East's double of six spades was a perfect example of the Lightner slam double convention which calls for an unusual lead. He was void of clubs and since Boris had opened one club a lead of that suit would be the most unusual lead at West's disposal.

"West knew that his partner was asking for a club lead but West was too smart for that. He only held three clubs. How could East be void? He only held two hearts. How could North be void of that suit?

"West decided that his partner was just doubling on general strength and opened the ten of hearts. Naturally enough, I had no trouble making all the tricks."

Walter fails to point out that North could not have been beaten if he had been declarer at six spades but he is very charitable about West. East and West were supposedly good players and were playing the slam double convention. West should have trusted his partner.

Stage Star Injured

NEW YORK (AP) — Pat Hingle, 35, one of the leading players in the Broadway play, "JB," was critically injured early today in a plunge to the pit of an elevator shaft.

Police gave this account:

Hingle entered the elevator to go up to his apartment. A mechanical failure halted the car between the second and third floors. There was a space between the floor of the car and the ceiling of the third-floor hallway.

Hingle attempted to let himself out of the car, but instead of landing on the floor of the third-floor hallway swung inwards and plunged to the pit of the shaft.

New Teller Admits Job Has Its Hazards

NEW YORK (AP) — Johnny Gallagher, 23, only last Monday moved by proudly from clerk to teller at the Chemical Corn Exchange Bank at Seventh Avenue and 33rd Street.

Thursday Gallagher admitted that his new job has its hazards.

A well-dressed man appeared in front of Gallagher's cage, shoved four dollars' worth of rolled pennies and nickels at him, along with a note demanding $5,000.

Gallagher scooped up a wad of bills and handed them to the man, who strolled away and disappeared in the afternoon crowds by the time the teller pushed the silent alarm.

The loot amounted to $2,984—a $2,980 profit for the thief.

Gallagher said the robber had a hand tucked inside his overcoat as though he had a gun. The teller said he wasn't sure if the man had a gun, but decided to do the next best thing.

"I figured he would be satisfied with anything I gave him," Gallagher said.

Space Spending Is To Be Sky High, Experts Declare

WASHINGTON (AP) — Costs of the nation's future civilian space programs will orbit at sky-high levels of billions of dollars, experts say.

A few of the price tags:

WALLKILL NEWS

C of C Hears Talk On Phone Company

WALLKILL—At this week's meeting of the Wallkill Chamber of Commerce, three new members were introduced, Thomas K. Wilson, local bus contractor; William Young, proprietor of the Valley Coffee Shop, and James McClung.

Mrs. Lois M. Morris, gave a report on the Blood Assurance program for Wallkill, saying that it would be continued in 1959. The program entitles anyone enrolled to as much free blood as is needed, and will cover anyone enrolled anywhere in the United States. A donation was voted by the chamber to help with the canteen arrangements for the donor's when the Bloodmobile visits Wallkill.

After the business portion of the meeting, Willis Flory, manager of the Walden Telephone Company gave a talk on the program set up by the company in order that better and more modern service be given to its 4700 subscribers.

In outlining the company's aims, he noted that in 1959 they expected to spend $409,000 improving the plant, buying new equipment, tools and vehicles, and in engineering and planning channels. This he emphasized would come in time with good equipment and proper planning, the company would be providing best service as soon as possible, and thereby raising their standard and rating with the independent telephone services in New York State. They are now rated as 13th in the Class A division of New York State companies which total 75, all but 3 of them being independently owned.

A high point of his talk to the group was the disclosure of a piece of cable which had been riddled with shot on New Year's Eve as a prank. The cable was on the Main Street, and as a result 48 lines out of 61 were put out of order. This means 450 lines to individual residences were not working as a result.

As a warning to residents of the area, he also said that telephones were under the direct jurisdiction of both State and Federal Communications system, and any persons guilty of any damage to telephone property is subject to imprisonment, of 25 years, with no less than five years imprisonment in any case. No fine is applicable in such a case, and imprisonment is the only punishment, for a person found guilty, he said.

As a conclusion to the talk, Flory and his staff members took the group to the Wallkill building showing them the working areas, and explaining any questions that arose about the dial system and its maintenance.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — A drop in earnings in 1958 is being reported today by two out of three American corporations. But in the majority of cases the decline was reversed or trimmed substantially in the final months of the year.

The current first quarter of 1959 seems sure to stack up notable gains as compared to a year ago when the recession's onslaught on profits was at its worst.

430 Show Declines

So far 770 corporations have reported on net income after taxes in 1958. Combined, their earnings are 14.4 per cent lower than in 1957.

Declines are shown by 430. There are 30 reporting a net loss in 1958, against 23 in 1957.

Combined the 770 report profits of $9,174,278,000, compared with $10,730,080,000 made by the same companies in 1957.

This is only a sampling of all corporate profits. When final figures are in a couple months hence, total U. S. corporate profits are predicted to be around 36 billion dollars.

Up and Down Year

It was an up and down year for profits. In the first three months of 1958 they were running at an annual rate of less than 32 billion dollars. In the final three months of the year the pace had quickened to an estimated 45 billion annual rate.

Profits are expected to rise still further as 1959 progresses.

The swift recovery of profits since the recession is expected to play a major role in labor negotiations in coming months, as union leaders seek a larger share of gross earnings for their members.

Close Watch On Trend

The millions who own corporate stock will watch the profit trend closely too. Cash dividends paid out in 1958 came to about 12 billion dollars, a drop of some 400 million dollars from the record set in 1957. Reviving profits can reverse that trend.

Sharpest slides in profits in 1958 are reported by these industries: rail equipment, autos and suppliers, machinery and tools, steel and iron, coal, aircraft and suppliers, mining and metal working, and oil and its suppliers.

Best increases over 1957 are reported by: airlines, office equipment, farm equipment, communications, utilities and tobacco companies. As a group manufacturers of electrical equipment and appliances report the two years pretty much of a stand-off.

WALLKILL NEWS

C of C Hears Talk On Phone Company

WALLKILL—At this week's meeting of the Wallkill Chamber of Commerce, three new members were introduced, Thomas K. Wilson, local bus contractor; William Young, proprietor of the Valley Coffee Shop, and James McClung.

Mrs. Lois M. Morris, gave a report on the Blood Assurance program for Wallkill, saying that it would be continued in 1959. The program entitles anyone enrolled to as much free blood as is needed, and will cover anyone enrolled anywhere in the United States. A donation was voted by the chamber to help with the canteen arrangements for the donor's when the Bloodmobile visits Wallkill.

After the business portion of the meeting, Willis Flory, manager of the Walden Telephone Company gave a talk on the program set up by the company in order that better and more modern service be given to its 4700 subscribers.

In outlining the company's aims, he noted that in 1959 they expected to spend $409,000 improving the plant, buying new equipment, tools and vehicles, and in engineering and planning channels. This he emphasized would come in time with good equipment and proper planning, the company would be providing best service as soon as possible, and thereby raising their standard and rating with the independent telephone services in New York State. They are now rated as 13th in the Class A division of New York State companies which total 75, all but 3 of them being independently owned.

A high point of his talk to the group was the disclosure of a piece of cable which had been riddled with shot on New Year's Eve as a prank. The cable was on the Main Street, and as a result 48 lines out of 61 were put out of order. This means 450 lines to individual residences were not working as a result.

As a warning to residents of the area, he also said that telephones were under the direct jurisdiction of both State and Federal Communications system, and any persons guilty of any damage to telephone property is subject to imprisonment, of 25 years, with no less than five years imprisonment in any case. No fine is applicable in such a case, and imprisonment is the only punishment, for a person found guilty, he said.

As a conclusion to the talk, Flory and his staff members took the group to the Wallkill building showing them the working areas, and explaining any questions that arose about the dial system and its maintenance.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — A drop in earnings in 1958 is being reported today by two out of three American corporations. But in the majority of cases the decline was reversed or trimmed substantially in the final months of the year.

The current first quarter of 1959 seems sure to stack up notable gains as compared to a year ago when the recession's onslaught on profits was at its worst.

430 Show Declines

So far 770 corporations have reported on net income after taxes in 1958. Combined, their earnings are 14.4 per cent lower than in 1957.

Declines are shown by 430. There are 30 reporting a net loss in 1958, against 23 in 1957.

Combined the 770 report profits of $9,174,278,000, compared with $10,730,080,000 made by the same companies in 1957.

This is only a sampling of all corporate profits. When final figures are in a couple months hence, total U. S. corporate profits are predicted to be around 36 billion dollars.

Up and Down Year

It was an up and down year for profits. In the first three months of 1958 they were running at an annual rate of less than 32 billion dollars. In the final three months of the year the pace had quickened to an estimated 45 billion annual rate.

Profits are expected to rise still further as 1959 progresses.

The swift recovery of profits since the recession is expected to play a major role in labor negotiations in coming months, as union leaders seek a larger share of gross earnings for their members.

Close Watch On Trend

The millions who own corporate stock will watch the profit trend closely too. Cash dividends paid out in 1958 came to about 12 billion dollars, a drop of some 400 million dollars from the record set in 1957. Reviving profits can reverse that trend.

Sharpest slides in profits in 1958 are reported by these industries: rail equipment, autos and suppliers, machinery and tools, steel and iron, coal, aircraft and suppliers, mining and metal working, and oil and its suppliers.

Best increases over 1957 are reported by: airlines, office equipment, farm equipment, communications, utilities and tobacco companies. As a group manufacturers of electrical equipment and appliances report the two years pretty much of a stand-off.

Rescue Squadron Reelects Cwill

Raymond Cwill, operator of Ray's Riverside Rest on Ferry Street was reelected captain of the Riverside Rescue Squadron at the Tuesday night meeting of the group held in his establishment.

Others named were Charles Lukas, commander; Robert M. Matthews, vice commander; Donald Eigo, secretary; George Disch, treasurer; Reynolds Van Kuren, first aid man; Kenneth Tyler, steward, and Harry Zehnik, custodian.

A venison dinner was served following the meeting.

The squadron, a comparatively new organization was organized in April 1958 to aid boatmen in marine emergencies.

According to Cwill, one of the main reasons for organizing the unit was the great need created by the popularity of boating in recent years.

There have been instances when members of the volunteer group have taken part in rescue operations such as saving persons from drowning, participating in grappling operations, recovering drifting craft, helping disabled boats, aiding in rescue operations during floods and other deeds, Cwill said.

The squadron hopes to secure rescue equipment in order to cope with any eventuality, he said.

Matter of FACT

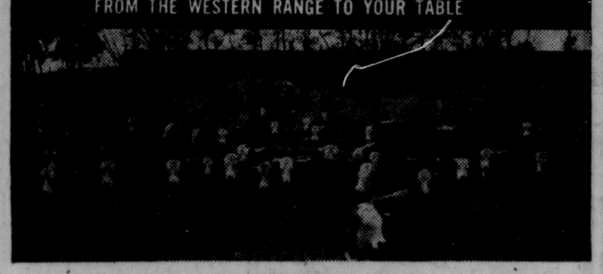

Benjamin Franklin, the youngest son in a family of 17 children, taught himself to read while he was very young. By the time he was seven, he was writing letters in verse to an uncle in England. His father, who hoped that Benjamin would become a minister, put him in school when he was eight, but could afford to keep him there for only two years.

Matter of FACT

Benjamin Franklin, the youngest son in a family of 17 children, taught himself to read while he was very young. By the time he was seven, he was writing letters in verse to an uncle in England. His father, who hoped that Benjamin would become a minister, put him in school when he was eight, but could afford to keep him there for only two years.

League Women Voters Group Attends Albany Conference

Six members of the Woodstock Provisional League of Women Voters attended the 1959 Legislative Conference of the League of Women Voters of New York State in Albany this week.

Attending for the two-day period were Mrs. H. C. Lawson, president of the Woodstock league, and Mrs. Alvin Moscowitz, secretary. Attending the Monday meeting were Mrs. Reginald Wilson, Mrs. Manuel Bromberg, Mrs. Robert Greene and Mrs. James Mulligan.

The meeting convened in the Governor's hearing hoom with Mrs. Harry Lea, state president, presiding. Gov. Rockefeller addressed the group, explaining the major points of the proposed state budget. Dr. Herbert Derman, state budget director, then opened the floor for further discussion and answered questions relating to specific points in the budget.

Mrs. George Ames, Judicial Item chairman, then explained resolutions now before the Assembly and Senate relating to Court Reorganization. The LWV has had written a resolution on Court Modernization which has been presented in the Assembly by Mr. Brooks and in the Senate by Senator Anderson. A public hearing was held in Albany on Wednesday, Feb. 18, on these resolutions.

Area Delegates Attend

Delegates from the Woodstock league attended the Monday evening meetings of the legislature. Following these meetings there was a coffee hour attended by Senator E. Ogden Bush and Assemblyman Kenneth L. Wilson, in order to meet with delegates from the Provisional Woodstock and Kingston leagues and the New Paltz league.

The second day of the meeting was devoted to discussion by various members of the state league board of bills and resolutions being supported by the LWV in the present session of the legislature. These included bills on permanent personal registration, primaries, education and judicial re-organization. Mrs. Joseph E. Bermack, second vice-president, presided at the Tuesday meeting.

SUNDAY CONCERT—Harold Kohon, brilliant young violinist, will appear with the Concerts Artist Trio in the Winter Festival Concert Sunday at 3:30 p. m. at the Guild Gallery in Woodstock.

Benson Urges State Audit for School District

Following a protracted discussion on why a $10,000 tax anticipation note which makes up two-third of former Woodstock No. 2's short-term indebtedness was not included in the 1958-59 budget, Frank Benson asked for an audit by the State Education Department before the next school tax levy.

"There are many poor people in the district who would be hard hit by a $90.00 tax rate," said Benson, who said the $10,000 note taken out after the official annexation date was in proper order.

"Nobody will be satisfied until a state audit reveals the facts and figures. It should be impressed upon the Education Department that the public is interested in the facts and that an excessive tax could not be paid by many people."

Sees Laxity

With respect to the financial situation of the district, Benson said he felt it was the result of "laxity and poor bookkeeping."

Principal Moehle of Onteora said the money was used for other purposes but there was no "shortage and nobody's integrity has been questioned."

Trustee Edward West indicated he would introduce a resolution at the next Board of Education meeting that the Education Department again be urged to conduct an audit of the Woodstock 2 books "and I hope it is passed."

West's remarks came after Trustee Marie Kleine said the taxpayers were entitled to another audit. She revealed that previous efforts by Onteora to have a state audit had encountered "some reluctance" on the part of the Education Department. "On other occasions," she said, "they gave us the impression they were too busy."

Contradictions Occur in Report On Tax Checks

A conflict in testimony marked several polite, but firm, clashes between two members of the last Woodstock District 2, Board of Trustees and representatives of the Onteora Board of Education on the subject of four tax withholding checks at the special audit meeting Wednesday night.

The discussion centered around four outstanding checks drawn to the order of the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and amounting to $5,326.90.

According to the audit, the government has never received payment for same, covering four quarterly periods one in 1954 and three in 1956.

Robert Gordon, chairman of the Woodstock board, said all four checks had been sent to the U. S. Internal Revenue department. Trustee Elbert Matthews said the checks were issued before he became a member of the board.

Supporting Statement

A mimeographical statement by Walter S. Van Wagenen, principal and administrator, supported Gordon's statement that the checks were paid to the bureau "but never turned back to the bank." The statement also added: "We offered to make out new checks to three different revenue men, but they would not accept them without the accompanying 941 form. All records go to Mr. Bennett on June 30 of each year. This can be verified with the department."

Two members of the Onteora board and Reginald R. Bennett, the district superintendent, contradicted the version given by the Woodstock spokesmen.

In reply to a series of questions posed by James Kinns, who said the duplicate forms (941) should be in Bennett's possession, the latter said:

"I never received duplicates of the Form 941 from the school."

Bennett also said that Gerald O'Neil of the Kingston division of the U. S. Internal Revenue Service had been there a half dozen times and no cancelled checks appeared and that the bank statements never showed they went through.

Bennett also stated that as late as June, 1958, the revenue department desperately wanted to accept payment in lieu of the cancelled checks — on a new forms and new checks.

Had No Material

The district superintendent went on to say:

"I talked with O'Neil in June and they just didn't have the money in the bank." Another member of the Onteora board was quoted as saying O'Neil was never offered another check.

Bennett further stated that Principal Van Wagenen had directed O'Neil to "go to Mr. Bennett . . . he has the records pertaining to those payments."

"But, actually," said Bennett, "I had none of that material and never received the duplicate forms. "In his annual reports to me, Van Wagenen had reported these checks as payments."

Trustee John Aalto, who worked closely with the auditor, Stanley Haug, said it was his opinion that the "checks were written but never distributed."

'Obfuscation' Theme Of Buttrick Letter

The following letter dealing with the theme "Technique of Obfuscation" has been submitted for publication by Helen Buttrick of Woodstock:

"The American College Dictionary defines the verb 'obfuscate'—'to confuse or stupefy, to darken or obscure, and the noun 'obfuscation" as the act of darkening an issue.

"Certainly, the technique of obfuscation has been developed to a high degree of usefulness by some politicians and others, as manifested, not only by the big boys in the Tompkins investigation, but even in local affairs, by the very small time politicians and very small others; as in the Woodstock School District No. 2 financial mess, where all is obscurity and confusion.

"Woodstock has been shamed and humiliated before its neighbors by members of its own community. People do not like being made ashamed. It takes a long time to overcome resentment and forget humiliating incidents and those who caused them. People never thereafter trust the perpetrators of such tactics. Obfuscation is a very stupid political technique. . . . . HELEN BUTTRICK."

Miss Woodstock Jayncee Guest

Miss Carol Bishop, the Miss Woodstock of 1959, was presented with a silver cup and bouquet of roses at the annual Valentine dinner-dance of the Woodstock Jayncees at the Hotel Kingston.

Mrs. Telford Graham, Jayncees president, made the presentation. Miss Bishop, a student at New Paltz State Teachers College, will represent Woodstock in the Miss Ulster County contest.

Mrs. Robert Eisele of Kingston was winner of the special award for the night.

More than 100 persons enjoyed a roast beef dinner, which was followed by entertainment and dancing.

Emergency Items Are Revealed in Special Report

A mimeographed statement by Principal Walter S. Van Wagenen was compiled, the principal said today, to assist former Woodstock 2 trustees Robert Gordon and Elbert Matthews in answering questions at the budget hearing Wednesday night.

Van Wagenen's summation set the total short-term indebtedness at $15,403.93 compared to $15,000 revealed by the special Onteora audit. The total of indebtedness items, he said, was about $36,189.00 of which about $21,805 was budgeted, leaving a balance of $14,384.90. To this balance were added three other items bringing the total to $15,403.93.

In explaining the statement, former chairman Robert Gordon pointed to an item of $543.92 not budgeted as salary for Mrs. Burger, since the need did not arise until the fall of 1957.

In another instance, a substitute's salary while Van Wagenen was in the hospital amounted to $1,206, while only $500 had been budgeted for substitute teachers.

A new Social Security law which went into effect January 1, 1958, necessitated giving retroactive coverage to as many faculty members as possible. Total cost was $2,510.85 of which $1,795.68 was not budgeted.

Emergencies Arise

An emergency situation with the boiler cost $2,986.70, but only $500 was budgeted for repairs on light, heating and plumbing. The bill was paid on time, although money was not borrowed until June.

New requirements for the Industrial Arts course to comply with junior high school requirements amounted to $1,090.22, which was not budgeted.

Three other emergency items totalled $1,106.03 and were broken down as $575 for a new piano, when old piano was damaged being moved from room to room; $244.03 for repair to flood drain pipe and $287.00 janitorial assistance during Joseph Hilton's illness.

Other items which figured in the overall indebtedness included $6,000 payment to banks on principals under new law and $5,786.47 for custodian, secretary and teachers. Many other checks were drawn and were to be paid as soon as state or tax was collected.

"These figures were taken from record of checks paid, copies of budgets, financial reports and Mr. Haug's report, borrowed from Mr. Moehle and are accurate," said Van Wagenen.

Scout Pack Sets Date for Banquet

Woodstock Pack 34 of the Boy Scouts will hold its Blue and Gold banquet at the Pack meeting on Wednesday, Feb. 25, at the Woodstock Methodist Church hall at 6 p. m.

The Carnival of Colors will be the main theme of the banquet. Each Den will depict various periods of history in costume.

During the January Pack meeting the following awards were made:

Gold Arrow—William Pierce.

Silver Arrow—Rodger Jones and William Pierce.

Bear Badge—William Blelock and Mark Wetterau.

Parents are urged to attend Pack meetings, since Cubbing is a family affair and works at its best when the family participates.

Regional Director Addresses Jayncees

Mrs. Brenda Hofler, regional director of the Mid-Hudson District, was guest speaker at the February meeting of the Woodstock Jayncees. Mrs. Hofler's talk was described as one of orientation.

Mrs. Telford Graham, the club president, asked for donations of toys for the Cerebral Palsy clinic in Kingston.

A brief discussion was held on the topic of providing summer movies for children this year.

Election of officers will be held at the next meeting, which will be a dinner meeting at Rolling Acres on Tuesday, March 3.

Building Owner Is Freed in Fire Deaths

UTICA, N. Y. (AP)—An Oneida County Court jury has acquitted an apartment building owner who was charged with first - degree manslaughter after seven of his tenants died in a fire.

Ben Jacobson was found innocent Thursday night by the jury of nine men and three women. His trial began Feb. 9.

Six children and a woman perished in the fire in Utica last Oct. 6.

Jacobson was accused of violating the multiple residence law. He had been free in $7,500 bond.

Prosecution witnesses testified that, in 1955, fire department officials had notified Jacobson of multiple residence violations. None of the tenants had been asked to move from the building, the witnesses said.

In his own defense, Jacobson testified that he had planned to turn the building into a warehouse and had tried for more than a year to get two families to vacate the second and third floors.

League Women Voters Group Attends Albany Conference

Six members of the Woodstock Provisional League of Women Voters attended the 1959 Legislative Conference of the League of Women Voters of New York State in Albany this week.

Attending for the two-day period were Mrs. H. C. Lawson, president of the Woodstock league, and Mrs. Alvin Moscowitz, secretary. Attending the Monday meeting were Mrs. Reginald Wilson, Mrs. Manuel Bromberg, Mrs. Robert Greene and Mrs. James Mulligan.

The meeting convened in the Governor's hearing hoom with Mrs. Harry Lea, state president, presiding. Gov. Rockefeller addressed the group, explaining the major points of the proposed state budget. Dr. Herbert Derman, state budget director, then opened the floor for further discussion and answered questions relating to specific points in the budget.

Mrs. George Ames, Judicial Item chairman, then explained resolutions now before the Assembly and Senate relating to Court Reorganization. The LWV has had written a resolution on Court Modernization which has been presented in the Assembly by Mr. Brooks and in the Senate by Senator Anderson. A public hearing was held in Albany on Wednesday, Feb. 18, on these resolutions.

Area Delegates Attend

Delegates from the Woodstock league attended the Monday evening meetings of the legislature. Following these meetings there was a coffee hour attended by Senator E. Ogden Bush and Assemblyman Kenneth L. Wilson, in order to meet with delegates from the Provisional Woodstock and Kingston leagues and the New Paltz league.

The second day of the meeting was devoted to discussion by various members of the state league board of bills and resolutions being supported by the LWV in the present session of the legislature. These included bills on permanent personal registration, primaries, education and judicial re-organization. Mrs. Joseph E. Bermack, second vice-president, presided at the Tuesday meeting.

SUNDAY CONCERT—Harold Kohon, brilliant young violinist, will appear with the Concerts Artist Trio in the Winter Festival Concert Sunday at 3:30 p. m. at the Guild Gallery in Woodstock.

Benson Urges State Audit for School District

Following a protracted discussion on why a $10,000 tax anticipation note which makes up two-third of former Woodstock No. 2's short-term indebtedness was not included in the 1958-59 budget, Frank Benson asked for an audit by the State Education Department before the next school tax levy.

"There are many poor people in the district who would be hard hit by a $90.00 tax rate," said Benson, who said the $10,000 note taken out after the official annexation date was in proper order.

"Nobody will be satisfied until a state audit reveals the facts and figures. It should be impressed upon the Education Department that the public is interested in the facts and that an excessive tax could not be paid by many people."

Sees Laxity

With respect to the financial situation of the district, Benson said he felt it was the result of "laxity and poor bookkeeping."

Principal Moehle of Onteora said the money was used for other purposes but there was no "shortage and nobody's integrity has been questioned."

Trustee Edward West indicated he would introduce a resolution at the next Board of Education meeting that the Education Department again be urged to conduct an audit of the Woodstock 2 books "and I hope it is passed."

West's remarks came after Trustee Marie Kleine said the taxpayers were entitled to another audit. She revealed that previous efforts by Onteora to have a state audit had encountered "some reluctance" on the part of the Education Department. "On other occasions," she said, "they gave us the impression they were too busy."

Contradictions Occur in Report On Tax Checks

A conflict in testimony marked several polite, but firm, clashes between two members of the last Woodstock District 2, Board of Trustees and representatives of the Onteora Board of Education on the subject of four tax withholding checks at the special audit meeting Wednesday night.

The discussion centered around four outstanding checks drawn to the order of the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and amounting to $5,326.90.

According to the audit, the government has never received payment for same, covering four quarterly periods one in 1954 and three in 1956.

Robert Gordon, chairman of the Woodstock board, said all four checks had been sent to the U. S. Internal Revenue department. Trustee Elbert Matthews said the checks were issued before he became a member of the board.

Supporting Statement

A mimeographical statement by Walter S. Van Wagenen, principal and administrator, supported Gordon's statement that the checks were paid to the bureau "but never turned back to the bank." The statement also added: "We offered to make out new checks to three different revenue men, but they would not accept them without the accompanying 941 form. All records go to Mr. Bennett on June 30 of each year. This can be verified with the department."

Two members of the Onteora board and Reginald R. Bennett, the district superintendent, contradicted the version given by the Woodstock spokesmen.

In reply to a series of questions posed by James Kinns, who said the duplicate forms (941) should be in Bennett's possession, the latter said:

"I never received duplicates of the Form 941 from the school."

Bennett also said that Gerald O'Neil of the Kingston division of the U. S. Internal Revenue Service had been there a half dozen times and no cancelled checks appeared and that the bank statements never showed they went through.

Bennett also stated that as late as June, 1958, the revenue department desperately wanted to accept payment in lieu of the cancelled checks — on a new forms and new checks.

Had No Material

The district superintendent went on to say:

"I talked with O'Neil in June and they just didn't have the money in the bank." Another member of the Onteora board was quoted as saying O'Neil was never offered another check.

Bennett further stated that Principal Van Wagenen had directed O'Neil to "go to Mr. Bennett . . . he has the records pertaining to those payments."

"But, actually," said Bennett, "I had none of that material and never received the duplicate forms. "In his annual reports to me, Van Wagenen had reported these checks as payments."

Trustee John Aalto, who worked closely with the auditor, Stanley Haug, said it was his opinion that the "checks were written but never distributed."

'Obfuscation' Theme Of Buttrick Letter

The following letter dealing with the theme "Technique of Obfuscation" has been submitted for publication by Helen Buttrick of Woodstock:

"The American College Dictionary defines the verb 'obfuscate'—'to confuse or stupefy, to darken or obscure, and the noun 'obfuscation" as the act of darkening an issue.

"Certainly, the technique of obfuscation has been developed to a high degree of usefulness by some politicians and others, as manifested, not only by the big boys in the Tompkins investigation, but even in local affairs, by the very small time politicians and very small others; as in the Woodstock School District No. 2 financial mess, where all is obscurity and confusion.

"Woodstock has been shamed and humiliated before its neighbors by members of its own community. People do not like being made ashamed. It takes a long time to overcome resentment and forget humiliating incidents and those who caused them. People never thereafter trust the perpetrators of such tactics. Obfuscation is a very stupid political technique. . . . . HELEN BUTTRICK."

Miss Woodstock Jayncee Guest

Miss Carol Bishop, the Miss Woodstock of 1959, was presented with a silver cup and bouquet of roses at the annual Valentine dinner-dance of the Woodstock Jayncees at the Hotel Kingston.

Mrs. Telford Graham, Jayncees president, made the presentation. Miss Bishop, a student at New Paltz State Teachers College, will represent Woodstock in the Miss Ulster County contest.

Mrs. Robert Eisele of Kingston was winner of the special award for the night.

More than 100 persons enjoyed a roast beef dinner, which was followed by entertainment and dancing.

Emergency Items Are Revealed in Special Report

A mimeographed statement by Principal Walter S. Van Wagenen was compiled, the principal said today, to assist former Woodstock 2 trustees Robert Gordon and Elbert Matthews in answering questions at the budget hearing Wednesday night.

Van Wagenen's summation set the total short-term indebtedness at $15,403.93 compared to $15,000 revealed by the special Onteora audit. The total of indebtedness items, he said, was about $36,189.00 of which about $21,805 was budgeted, leaving a balance of $14,384.90. To this balance were added three other items bringing the total to $15,-403.93.

In explaining the statement, former chairman Robert Gordon pointed to an item of $543.92 not budgeted as salary for Mrs. Burger, since the need did not arise until the fall of 1957.

In another instance, a substitute's salary while Van Wagenen was in the hospital amounted to $1,206, while only $500 had been budgeted for substitute teachers.

A new Social Security law which went into effect January 1, 1958, necessitated giving retroactive coverage to as many faculty members as possible. Total cost was $2,510.85 of which $1,795.68 was not budgeted.

Emergencies Arise

An emergency situation with the boiler cost $2,986.70, but only $500 was budgeted for repairs on light, heating and plumbing. The bill was paid on time, although money was not borrowed until June.

New requirements for the Industrial Arts course to comply with junior high school requirements amounted to $1,090.22, which was not budgeted.

Three other emergency items totalled $1,106.03 and were broken down as $575 for a new piano, when old piano was damaged being moved from room to room; $244.03 for repair to flood drain pipe and $287.00 janitorial assistance during Joseph Hilton's illness.

Other items which figured in the overall indebtedness included $6,000 payment to banks on principals under new law and $5,786.47 for custodian, secretary and teachers. Many other checks were drawn and were to be paid as soon as state or tax was collected.

"These figures were taken from record of checks paid, copies of budgets, financial reports and Mr. Haug's report, borrowed from Mr. Moehle and are accurate," said Van Wagenen.

Scout Pack Sets Date for Banquet

Woodstock Pack 34 of the Boy Scouts will hold its Blue and Gold banquet at the Pack meeting on Wednesday, Feb. 25, at the Woodstock Methodist Church hall at 6 p. m.

The Carnival of Colors will be the main theme of the banquet. Each Den will depict various periods of history in costume.

During the January Pack meeting the following awards were made:

Gold Arrow—William Pierce.

Silver Arrow—Rodger Jones and William Pierce.

Bear Badge—William Blelock and Mark Wetterau.

Parents are urged to attend Pack meetings, since Cubbing is a family affair and works at its best when the family participates.

Regional Director Addresses Jayncees

Mrs. Brenda Hofler, regional director of the Mid-Hudson District, was guest speaker at the February meeting of the Woodstock Jayncees. Mrs. Hofler's talk was described as one of orientation.

Mrs. Telford Graham, the club president, asked for donations of toys for the Cerebral Palsy clinic in Kingston.

A brief discussion was held on the topic of providing summer movies for children this year.

Election of officers will be held at the next meeting, which will be a dinner meeting at Rolling Acres on Tuesday, March 3.

Building Owner Is Freed in Fire Deaths

UTICA, N. Y. (AP)—An Oneida County Court jury has acquitted an apartment building owner who was charged with first - degree manslaughter after seven of his tenants died in a fire.

Ben Jacobson was found innocent Thursday night by the jury of nine men and three women. His trial began Feb. 9.

Six children and a woman perished in the fire in Utica last Oct. 6.

Jacobson was accused of violating the multiple residence law. He had been free in $7,500 bond.

Prosecution witnesses testified that, in 1955, fire department officials had notified Jacobson of multiple residence violations. None of the tenants had been asked to move from the building, the witnesses said.

In his own defense, Jacobson testified that he had planned to turn the building into a warehouse and had tried for more than a year to get two families to vacate the second and third floors.

ELLENVILLE NEWS

First Aid Squad Gets Over 700 Calls Since '54

ELLENVILLE—The First Aid and Rescue Squad with home quarters at the Beerkill Creek Bridge, 58 North Main Street, Ellenville, has recently installed a sign on its new building.

This local free service was organized here in 1954 and went into actual operation on Memorial Day, 1955. Since that time the organization has handled over 700 calls in Ellenville and vicinity within a radius from its quarters exceeding ten miles.

A member of the organization explaining the aim of the group said, "We want to make everyone first aid conscious and to let everyone know what not to do as well as what to do in an emergency. First aid is the immediate and temporary care given a victim of sudden accident or illness before the services of a physician can be obtained. First aid may save a life or prevent permanent injury. Knowing what to do at the right time is the basis of good judgment in any crisis."

"Within the First Aid and Rescue Squad there are now 15 instructors, 13 mobile Red Cross Units and 10 First Aid Squad Mobile Units. We feel our area is pretty well covered," he said.

"In view of the icy conditions that prevail and the recent number of falls caused by it, we feel that some helpful first aid hints on the subject may be in order. The main objectives of first aid is to prevent injury by improper handling or movement of a victim after the fall."

The representative of the squad recommended the following procedure in the event of a fall:

"If you witness a fall, keep the person in the position in which they have fallen. Ask them where they are hurt. If there is a head injury, possible fractures or suspected injuries, make the person as comfortable as possible with blankets, pillows and call his doctor. He will, if he thinks it necessary, call the First Aid Squad ambulance. If the doctor can not be contacted call Ellenville 1000 and ask for First Aid Squad, being sure to give exact location of the accident."

"If you should fall, stay in the position that you are in until you have taken stock of your condition. "Note the spots that hurt and examine extremities for possible fractures before attempting to use them. Should you suspect serious injuries or fractures, stay where you are and instruct someone to call your doctor. Meanwhile ask them to have blankets placed under and over you and a pillow under your head."

Village Board Hears Complaint On Flood Damage

The Village Board met this week for its regular audit of bills session. However, before the meeting was called to order, a large delegation of homeowners from the upper Center Street and Westwood Avenue section of the village gathered in the village hall to complain of flood damages to their homes caused by the recent hard rains coupled with inadequate street drainage sewers in the locality.

A public hearing will be called for the next meeting of the board on March 9. It was explained by members of the board that the cost of adequate storm sewers for the area would cost at least $20,000. It will be determined at the public hearing whether or not to provide for a long term bond issue to finance the cost or to spread the cost over a short period of years with capital notes. Because there is reported to be a similar bad drainage condition in the Circle Avenue area it was also determined that the subject would be also explored with suggested remedies for that locality at the same public hearing.

Edward Kleinman, owner and proprietor of Eddie's Country Fair of 168 Canal Street, a sport shop in the hub of the village, requested information from the board as to its plans in the forseeable future in taking steps to provide for municipal parking in that area. At the present time, he pointed out there is no single municipal parking area in the village.

Mayor Eugene Glusker requested that he remain patient, because he expected that the planning commission will make a report to the village within the next few weeks and he had been assured by its chairman, Deyo W. Johnson, that municipal parking recommendations were to be contained in that report. Village board member, Jerry Elkin, commenting on the parking situation in answer to Kleinman's further questions, said that Sidney Sinick, the president of the Chamber of Commerce, had very recently told him that "we are not ready for municipal parking" because of public apathy the Chamber of Commerce is leaving the subject dormant."

Elkin suggested to the board that arrangements be made to hold another full membership meeting with the Town of Wawarsing Board, on the subject of further exploring the joint operation of a village-town dump.

Wawarsing OES Meets

The Wawarsing Chapter of the Order of Eastern Star, 253 held its regular bi-monthly meeting at the Masonic Temple Monday night. It was decided to hold a bakeless bake sale early in the spring with members to be asked for contributions. Exact date and place of the sale, will be announced at a future meeting, by the Worthy Matron Ruth A. Ackerley.

It was also announced that the next meeting of the Past Matrons Club would be held at the home of Mrs. Agnes Rowan, Monday night, March 23.

Invitations were accepted to attend the following out-of-town Eastern Star meetings; Emmanuel Chapter No. 517 of Saugerties, Tuesday, Feb. 24; Kingston Chapter No. 155 of Kingston, Friday, March 6; Highland Chapter No 385 of Highland, Tuesday, March 10.

The meetings will be for the official visit of Right Worshipful Elizabeth A. Couchman, District Deputy Grand Matron of Catskill, and Right Worshipful Herman E. Story, District Grand Lecturer of Freehold.

Presided at Trial

At the impeachment trial of President Andrew Johnson, he was tried by the Senate, according to the provisions of the Constitution. Salmon P. Chase, Chief Justice of the United States, was the presiding judge.

Think It Through

E. F. HUTTON

GEORGE WASHINGTON

Washington had been dead less than ten years when Abraham Lincoln was born. Lincoln was man-grown before the last of the Revolutionary soldiers passed on. No doubt some of these older men had gone out to Indiana and Illinois, and that Lincoln knew them well.

MR. HUTTON

Most of them, of course, were gone, but as he said: "Here and there is a lonely trunk, shorn of its foliage, left to face a few more ruder storms."

To Lincoln, these venerable men were the "living histories" of the Revolution and the great ideas that gave it birth.

Lincoln looked forward with concern to the time when all "those histories are gone to be read no more forever. . . . They were the pillars of the temple of Liberty, and now that temple must fall unless we, their descendants, supply their places."

With this deep feeling, who on Washington's 227th birthday can pay him a better tribute than Lincoln did on his 110th, when Lincoln was only 33 years old?

"Washington is the mightiest name on earth, long since mightiest in the cause of civil liberty, still mightiest in moral reformation. On that name an eulogy is expected. It cannot be. To add brightness to the sun, or glory to the name of Washington is alike impossible. Let none attempt it. In solemn awe pronounce the name, and in its naked, deathless splendor, leave it shining on."

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Cummins entertained relatives from New Jersey during the weekend.

Frank Pryke was a supper guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Verlin Long and family Tuesday evening.

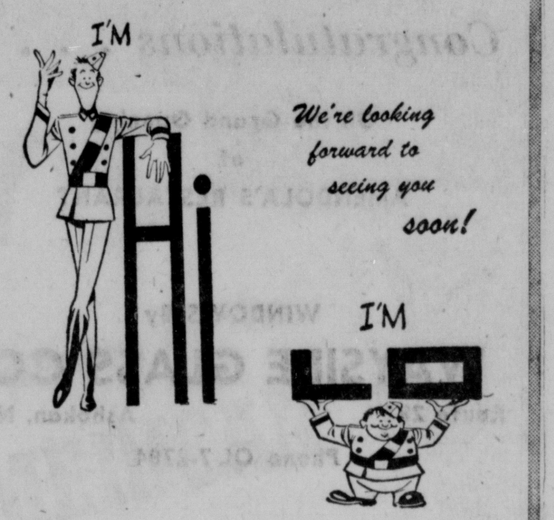

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Roosa of Middletown called recently on their cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Barley.

Recently reported has been the marriage of Miss Betty Holt of Monroe to Harold Cuddeback. The former Miss Holt will be remembered by many as a teacher at the Lyonsville grade school.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Burger made a recent trip to Waterford.

First Aid Squad Gets Over 700 Calls Since '54

ELLENVILLE—The First Aid and Rescue Squad with home quarters at the Beerkill Creek Bridge, 58 North Main Street, Ellenville, has recently installed a sign on its new building.

This local free service was organized here in 1954 and went into actual operation on Memorial Day, 1955. Since that time the organization has handled over 700 calls in Ellenville and vicinity within a radius from its quarters exceeding ten miles.

A member of the organization explaining the aim of the group said, "We want to make everyone first aid conscious and to let everyone know what not to do as well as what to do in an emergency. First aid is the immediate and temporary care given a victim of sudden accident or illness before the services of a physician can be obtained. First aid may save a life or prevent permanent injury. Knowing what to do at the right time is the basis of good judgment in any crisis."

"Within the First Aid and Rescue Squad there are now 15 instructors, 13 mobile Red Cross Units and 10 First Aid Squad Mobile Units. We feel our area is pretty well covered," he said.

"In view of the icy conditions that prevail and the recent number of falls caused by it, we feel that some helpful first aid hints on the subject may be in order. The main objectives of first aid is to prevent injury by improper handling or movement of a victim after the fall."

The representative of the squad recommended the following procedure in the event of a fall:

"If you witness a fall, keep the person in the position in which they have fallen. Ask them where they are hurt. If there is a head injury, possible fractures or suspected injuries, make the person as comfortable as possible with blankets, pillows and call his doctor. He will, if he thinks it necessary, call the First Aid Squad ambulance. If the doctor can not be contacted call Ellenville 1000 and ask for First Aid Squad, being sure to give exact location of the accident."

"If you should fall, stay in the position that you are in until you have taken stock of your condition. "Note the spots that hurt and examine extremities for possible fractures before attempting to use them. Should you suspect serious injuries or fractures, stay where you are and instruct someone to call your doctor. Meanwhile ask them to have blankets placed under and over you and a pillow under your head."

Village Board Hears Complaint On Flood Damage

The Village Board met this week for its regular audit of bills session. However, before the meeting was called to order, a large delegation of homeowners from the upper Center Street and Westwood Avenue section of the village gathered in the village hall to complain of flood damages to their homes caused by the recent hard rains coupled with inadequate street drainage sewers in the locality.

A public hearing will be called for the next meeting of the board on March 9. It was explained by members of the board that the cost of adequate storm sewers for the area would cost at least $20,000. It will be determined at the public hearing whether or not to provide for a long term bond issue to finance the cost or to spread the cost over a short period of years with capital notes. Because there is reported to be a similar bad drainage condition in the Circle Avenue area it was also determined that the subject would be also explored with suggested remedies for that locality at the same public hearing.

Edward Kleinman, owner and proprietor of Eddie's Country Fair of 168 Canal Street, a sport shop in the hub of the village, requested information from the board as to its plans in the forseeable future in taking steps to provide for municipal parking in that area. At the present time, he pointed out there is no single municipal parking area in the village.

Mayor Eugene Glusker requested that he remain patient, because he expected that the planning commission will make a report to the village within the next few weeks and he had been assured by its chairman, Deyo W. Johnson, that municipal parking recommendations were to be contained in that report. Village board member, Jerry Elkin, commenting on the parking situation in answer to Kleinman's further questions, said that Sidney Sinick, the president of the Chamber of Commerce, had very recently told him that "we are not ready for municipal parking" because of public apathy the Chamber of Commerce is leaving the subject dormant."

Elkin suggested to the board that arrangements be made to hold another full membership meeting with the Town of Wawarsing Board, on the subject of further exploring the joint operation of a village-town dump.

Wawarsing OES Meets

The Wawarsing Chapter of the Order of Eastern Star, 253 held its regular bi-monthly meeting at the Masonic Temple Monday night. It was decided to hold a bakeless bake sale early in the spring with members to be asked for contributions. Exact date and place of the sale, will be announced at a future meeting, by the Worthy Matron Ruth A. Ackerley.

It was also announced that the next meeting of the Past Matrons Club would be held at the home of Mrs. Agnes Rowan, Monday night, March 23.

Invitations were accepted to attend the following out-of-town Eastern Star meetings; Emmanuel Chapter No. 517 of Saugerties, Tuesday, Feb. 24; Kingston Chapter No. 155 of Kingston, Friday, March 6; Highland Chapter No 385 of Highland, Tuesday, March 10.

The meetings will be for the official visit of Right Worshipful Elizabeth A. Couchman, District Deputy Grand Matron of Catskill, and Right Worshipful Herman E. Story, District Grand Lecturer of Freehold.

Presided at Trial

At the impeachment trial of President Andrew Johnson, he was tried by the Senate, according to the provisions of the Constitution. Salmon P. Chase, Chief Justice of the United States, was the presiding judge.

Think It Through

E. F. HUTTON

GEORGE WASHINGTON

Washington had been dead less than ten years when Abraham Lincoln was born. Lincoln was man-grown before the last of the Revolutionary soldiers passed on. No doubt some of these older men had gone out to Indiana and Illinois, and that Lincoln knew them well.

MR. HUTTON

Most of them, of course, were gone, but as he said: "Here and there is a lonely trunk, shorn of its foliage, left to face a few more ruder storms."

To Lincoln, these venerable men were the "living histories" of the Revolution and the great ideas that gave it birth.

Lincoln looked forward with concern to the time when all "those histories are gone to be read no more forever. . . . They were the pillars of the temple of Liberty, and now that temple must fall unless we, their descendants, supply their places."

With this deep feeling, who on Washington's 227th birthday can pay him a better tribute than Lincoln did on his 110th, when Lincoln was only 33 years old?

"Washington is the mightiest name on earth, long since mightiest in the cause of civil liberty, still mightiest in moral reformation. On that name an eulogy is expected. It cannot be. To add brightness to the sun, or glory to the name of Washington is alike impossible. Let none attempt it. In solemn awe pronounce the name, and in its naked, deathless splendor, leave it shining on."

Glancing Over TV Bill of Fare

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—If anybody asked me what's pleasurable viewing on the home screen from the three major networks in the coming week, I'd say (all times eastern standard):

I never put a buck on a horse, but a good horse race is almost as exciting as a good tennis match on television. Saturday at 4:30 NBC presents the Widener Handicap from Hialeah, Fla.

Still Likes 'Gunsmoke'

I tire quickly of Westerns, but "Gunsmoke" on CBS Saturday at 10 still rides ahead of the whole passel in my opinion.

I know practically nothing about science, but I'm interested in learning "Where Science Is Taking Us." This is the subject of a new series, "The Great Challenge," making its debut on CBS Sunday at 2:30. Eric Sevareid serves as moderator. Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer is among the guests.

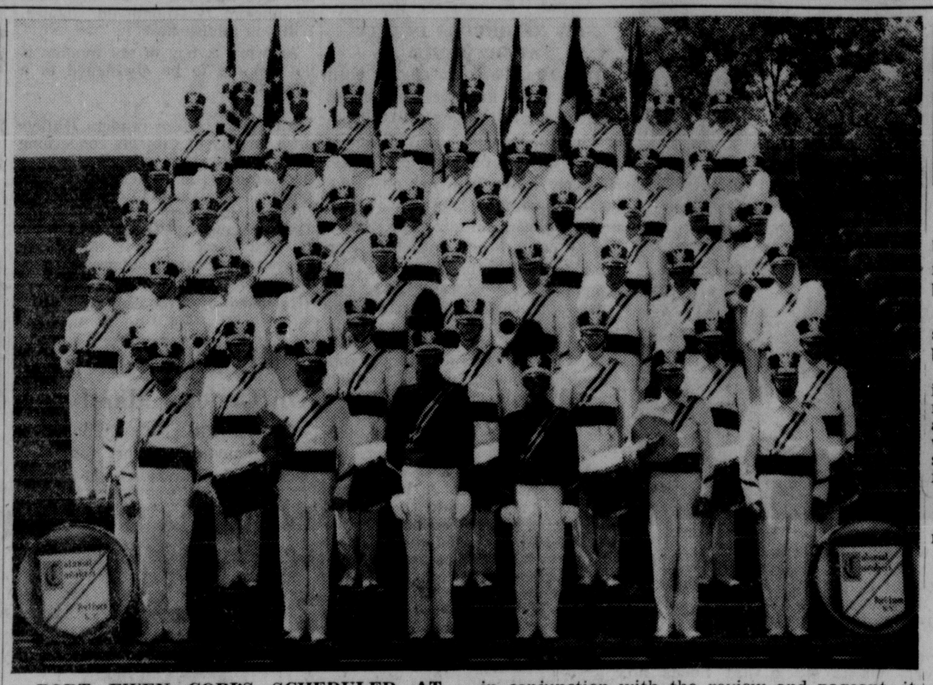

I know little more about music than science, but I thoroughly enjoy listening to the New York Philharmonic, and its conductor, Leonard Bernstein, aways instructs me. So his program at 4:30 on Sunday over CBS with the Philharmonic called "The Infinite Variety of Music" sounds absorbing.

I'm a fellow who thinks that 14 or 15 of Shakespeare's plays are among the outstanding pleasures to be found in the English language. One of them, "Hamlet," will be presented in a TV adaptation by the Old Vic Company Tuesday at 9:30 over CBS on "Du Pont Show of the Month."

Rates '90' Best

I think that the offerings of "U.S. Steel Hour" every other Wednesday at 10 over CBS are curiously uneven — up one fortnight and down the next. The only way to judge next Wednesday's is to take a look. "Trap for a Stranger," starring Teresa Wright, George C. Scott and Dick Van Dyke," concerns a small town marshal up for reelection who arrests a famous entertainer for speeding and then uses the case to further his candidacy.

I believe that "Playhouse 90" on CBS Thursdays at 9:30 is the best dramatic series of the season. Next Thursday it will present "The Dingaling Girl" by J. P. Miller. Diane Varsi stars as a housewife with three children who has acting ability. When she's offered a movie contract, her domineering husband sees a chance to further himself. And so they move to Hollywood.

PORT EWEN CORPS SCHEDULED AT REVIEW—The famed Colonial Cavaliers, Port Ewen Drum and Bugle Corps, have been added to the musical units scheduled to appear at the formal military review of the 156th Field Artillery Battalion on Feb. 23 at the state armory here. The unit will present a concert and drill in conjunction with the review and pageant, it was announced by Lt. Col. Frank W. Harkin, commanding officer of the 156th, who described the addition of the Port Ewen corps to the program "as a special added treat." (Freeman photo).

Reed Services Are Scheduled Sunday

WASHINGTON (AP) — Funeral services will be held here Saturday and in Dunkirk, N. Y., Sunday for Rep. Danie' A. Reed (R-NY), who died of a heart attack Thursday in Walter Reed Army Hospital.

Reed, 83-year-old veteran of nearly 30 years in Congress, had been under treatment 14 weeks for an infected foot.

Saturday's service will be held at the Hines Funeral Home. The body will be shipped to Dunkirk for service Sunday in Adams Memorial Church.

Burial will be in Sheridan, N.Y., his birthplace.

Twenty - five House members were named to attend the funeral.

Colonial Cavaliers Added To 156th FA Music Feb. 23

The famed Colonial Cavaliers, senior unit of the Port Ewen Drum and Bugle Corps, will join two other musical groups at the formal military review of the 156th Field Artillery Battalion, scheduled Feb. 23 at the state armory.

Lt. Col. Frank W. Harkin, commanding officer, praised the Port Ewen unit "as one of the most outstanding in the Hudson Valley area."

The Cavaliers will join with their junior corps, the Colonial Cadets, and the Cardinal Farley Military Academy Band in providing a gala evening of drum corps and band music for the review, Col. Harkin said.

A 12-piece orchestra, under the direction of Harry Maisenhelder, will be provided through the courtesy of the Local 215, American Federation of Musicians transcription fund, for dancing following the review ceremonies. A pageant, "Muskets to Missiles," depicting the history of the famed unit will be presented as a feature of the review.

Organized in 1929 by the Port Ewen Fire Department, the Cavaliers have 50 members, and each year present an entirely new repertoire of music and drill. The corps has many trophies to indicate their successful participation in parades and competing maneuvering and marching events.

Several years ago the corps introduced the popuar "Pageant of Champions," a drum and bugle corps competition held each year at Dietz Stadium.

The corps is associated with the Inter-State American Legion Circuit and the Yankee Circuit, which conducts competition events in the eastern United States.

The corps represents Town of Esopus Post 1298, American Legion in the Legion Circuit competitions, and the colorful unit has received wide acclaim for its musicianship and deft precision drills.

The formal military review will honor Congressman J. Ernest Wharton of the 29th District and Brig. Gen. John J. Fitzgerald, II Corps Artillery Commander, will be the reviewing officer. Brig. Gen. Jacob J. Herzog, adjutant general, State of New York, will be among the honored guests.

Leaves From Boyle's Notebook

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — America's best-dressed men today aren't its movie stars or television idols—but its business executives.

The tired business man got this surprise pat on his well-attired back from Pat Caruso, a tailor.

"The business executive today is highly style-aware," said Caruso. "Years ago he would wear anything. Now he knows exactly what he wants. Some even draw sketches of the styles they prefer."

Jockeys Rate High

Professional athletes also are more clothes-conscious, and the best-dressed among them are the jockeys, who also rate as the wealthiest of athletes. The reason: Most jockeys have to wear custom garments or buy children's wear.

"But very few people in public life dress well," said Caruso. He added: "What can you do with a politician?

"However, President Eisenhower and Vice President Nixon are exceptions."

"What about Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller?"

A look of sorrow crossed Caruso's face but he maintained a discreet silence. It is an open secret among custom tailors that New York's multimillionaire chief executive patronizes a store featuring ready-made clothing.

The custom industry now suffers more from a shortage of fine tailors than customers, Caruso says.

Must Import Tailors

"It takes 10 to 15 years to become a good tailor," said Caruso "I first picked up the needle at the age of 9 in my father's shop in Italy. In this country nobody wants to work that young. You can't go to college and then start to be a tailor.

"We have to import our tailors."

Here are a few other observations he made:

"In Europe they laugh at the Ivy League look. They say it looks like it was sprayed on.

"A man can be well-dressed with a wardrobe of a dozen suits. But he has to buy three or four a year to keep it up.

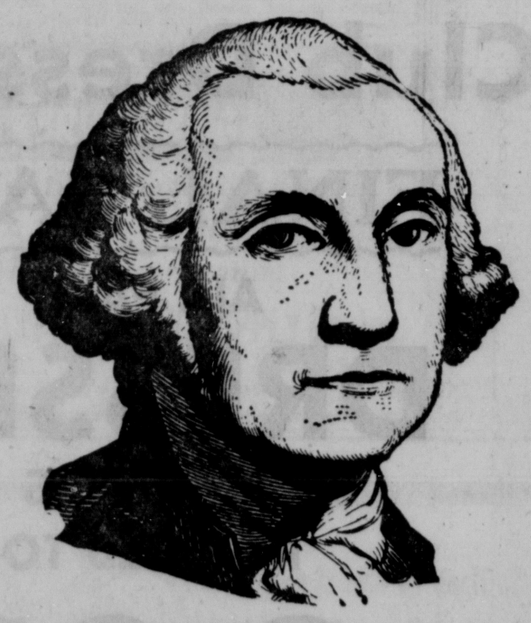

"The things a man needs most to look well in clothes are a good tailor and a flat belly.

"The British used to be the world's best-dressed men. But most Englishmen today aren't well-dressed. They have fine fabrics but not enough good tailors.

"The best-dressed men in the world now are probably wealthy South Americans. They are the male peacocks today.

"Most doctors don't dress well. Their cars look better than their clothes."

The famed Colonial Cavaliers, senior unit of the Port Ewen Drum and Bugle Corps, will join two other musical groups at the formal military review of the 156th Field Artillery Battalion, scheduled Feb. 23 at the state armory.

Lt. Col. Frank W. Harkin, commanding officer, praised the Port Ewen unit "as one of the most outstanding in the Hudson Valley area."

The Cavaliers will join with their junior corps, the Colonial Cadets, and the Cardinal Farley Military Academy Band in providing a gala evening of drum corps and band music for the review, Col. Harkin said.

A 12-piece orchestra, under the direction of Harry Maisenhelder, will be provided through the courtesy of the Local 215, American Federation of Musicians transcription fund, for dancing following the review ceremonies. A pageant, "Muskets to Missiles," depicting the history of the famed unit will be presented as a feature of the review.

Organized in 1929 by the Port Ewen Fire Department, the Cavaliers have 50 members, and each year present an entirely new repertoire of music and drill. The corps has many trophies to indicate their successful participation in parades and competing maneuvering and marching events.

Several years ago the corps introduced the popuar "Pageant of Champions," a drum and bugle corps competition held each year at Dietz Stadium.

The corps is associated with the Inter-State American Legion Circuit and the Yankee Circuit, which conducts competition events in the eastern United States.

The corps represents Town of Esopus Post 1298, American Legion in the Legion Circuit competitions, and the colorful unit has received wide acclaim for its musicianship and deft precision drills.

The formal military review will honor Congressman J. Ernest Wharton of the 29th District and Brig. Gen. John J. Fitzgerald, II Corps Artillery Commander, will be the reviewing officer. Brig. Gen. Jacob J. Herzog, adjutant general, State of New York, will be among the honored guests.

Leaves From Boyle's Notebook

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — America's best-dressed men today aren't its movie stars or television idols—but its business executives.

The tired business man got this surprise pat on his well-attired back from Pat Caruso, a tailor.

"The business executive today is highly style-aware," said Caruso. "Years ago he would wear anything. Now he knows exactly what he wants. Some even draw sketches of the styles they prefer."

Jockeys Rate High

Professional athletes also are more clothes-conscious, and the best-dressed among them are the jockeys, who also rate as the wealthiest of athletes. The reason: Most jockeys have to wear custom garments or buy children's wear.

"But very few people in public life dress well," said Caruso. He added: "What can you do with a politician?

"However, President Eisenhower and Vice President Nixon are exceptions."

"What about Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller?"

A look of sorrow crossed Caruso's face but he maintained a discreet silence. It is an open secret among custom tailors that New York's multimillionaire chief executive patronizes a store featuring ready-made clothing.

The custom industry now suffers more from a shortage of fine tailors than customers, Caruso says.

Must Import Tailors

"It takes 10 to 15 years to become a good tailor," said Caruso "I first picked up the needle at the age of 9 in my father's shop in Italy. In this country nobody wants to work that young. You can't go to college and then start to be a tailor.

"We have to import our tailors."

Here are a few other observations he made:

"In Europe they laugh at the Ivy League look. They say it looks like it was sprayed on.

"A man can be well-dressed with a wardrobe of a dozen suits. But he has to buy three or four a year to keep it up.

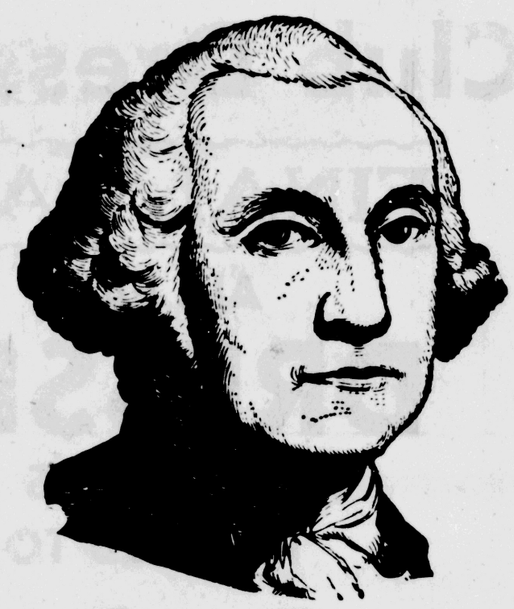

"The things a man needs most to look well in clothes are a good tailor and a flat belly.

"The British used to be the world's best-dressed men. But most Englishmen today aren't well-dressed. They have fine fabrics but not enough good tailors.

"The best-dressed men in the world now are probably wealthy South Americans. They are the male peacocks today.

"Most doctors don't dress well. Their cars look better than their clothes."

Dear Mrs. Post: Our son will be christened soon. At the date of the christening he will be six months old. I would like to know if it would be proper to dress him in a long christening dress. The reason I ask is because I have been told that a long christening dress is not suitable for a child this age and that it is only worn by one-or two-month-old babies. Will you advise me?

Answer: A boy of six months is not too old to be christened in a long dress.

'No Change' Is Report On General Marshall

FT. BRAGG, N.C. (AP) — The latest medical report on Gen. George C. Marshall says simply, "No change." It meant the retired soldier-statesman was holding his own against the weakening influences of age, two strokes and mild pneumonia.

The last full report, late Thursday contained a faint note of optimism—but only a note. Col. George B. Powell, the general's physician, cautioned that Marshall's "condition still is considered serious and the prognosis still is guarded."

Marshall, 78, entered the Army hospital here after his first stroke Jan. 15. The second stroke came Tuesday night along with the pneumonia.

Today's Gardeners

The one-stop garden shop is an interesting business today, one perhaps considered as a business venture by many individuals. According to the Department of Commerce, there are few one-stop garden shops in upstate New York. The possibilities are tremendous, the boom just burgeoning—who knows, it may be your "business of your own."

Gardening has taken a whirlwind trend upward according to buying habits of Mr. and Mrs. Suburbia. It has whisked through the backyard garden and is reaping a brand new business.

One thing is certain, both Mary and Mr. Contrary are buying their supplies in a new and different fashion. Remember the nostalgic winter evenings spent pouring over the highly colored seed catalogues and the resultant orders dispatched by mail? The nostalgic evenings and the brilliant catalogs are still with us, but the buying picture is changing.

Today's garden shopper prefers to buy over the counter and the new shop offers him his every gardening need in one spot. The range is terrific — azaleas and aerators, bulbs and barbecue supplies, mowers, nursery stock and novelties — right down the alphabet to weed killers and zinnias. Even portable greenhouses that lean companionably against the dining room window are part of the over-all picture.

And a very rosy picture it is! Back in 1950, American home owners spent about one and a half billion dollars on lawns and gardens. Today, a brief five years later, the estimates indicate an expenditure of over four billion—almost treble in five years.

What's behind these figures? First, a new way of living Suburbia has come into its own—and that means front lawns, garden patches and outdoor cooking. It means fences, slates for patios and paths, garden furniture, barbecues and all the gadgets that go with them. Today's young marrieds are buying their own homes and buying them earlier in life. They're raising bigger families, living casually in houses that let outdoors in and indoors out. Practically all of them own cars, no matter what the vintage; and they have more time for outdoor living. Most of them have free Saturdays and daylight savings gives them extra light with their leisure, too. It's a part of the do-it-yourself movement.

Variety Available

The home gardener today has a tremendous selection from which to choose. Since the buying trend upwards, the gardening businesses have even made changes in the packaging of items. All shops carry seeds, seedlings, plants, shrubs, hose, tools—both hand and power, fertilizers, insecticides, weed killers, chemicals. But today the merchandise is attractively packaged. Bulbs and rhizomes come in look-through plastic bags; perennials (dormant or sprouting) are three or six to the convenient carton; dormant rose bushes are root-wrapped or moss packed in award-winning boxes or in readily absorbable pots and all carry true-color pictures of dreams realized come June, July or August. The biggest change is in the fertilizer, chemical, weed killer field. Going are the 100 pound sacks, the dusty bags. Newly arrived are the slick easy-to-handle packages in smaller sizes; (mama does a lot of the upkeep work); the aerosol cans; the shaker top boxes and cans; the dust guns or spray top "mist" bottles or jars.

More Changes

Nor are these the only changes. New-type housing demands new-type shrubs, smaller trees, in many cases, fruit bearing or flowering ones. Also, your do-it-yourself-er is no expert. He wants stock that needs no pampering — rugosa or floribunda roses, disease resistant fruits, new strains in both flowers and vegetables. He wants them bigger and better, and he is willing to pay for sound plants sold with an honest look in the eye.

Outdoor living, too, emphasizes other needs and different stock. Furniture of rustic wood, sophisticated aluminum or decorator-type wrought iron; special tableware and serving accessories, make up part of the new stock-in trade.

For the indoor gardener, there are extensive lines of house plants and such accessories as bulb sprayers; miniature plant ers and window boxes; windowsill gardens as well as tiny watering pots and flower containers in every known material.

'No Change' Is Report On General Marshall

FT. BRAGG, N.C. (AP) — The latest medical report on Gen. George C. Marshall says simply, "No change." It meant the retired soldier-statesman was holding his own against the weakening influences of age, two strokes and mild pneumonia.

The last full report, late Thursday contained a faint note of optimism—but only a note. Col. George B. Powell, the general's physician, cautioned that Marshall's "condition still is considered serious and the prognosis still is guarded."

Marshall, 78, entered the Army hospital here after his first stroke Jan. 15. The second stroke came Tuesday night along with the pneumonia.

Mother Mary Edwards then took the telephone and chatted briefly with her former student.

Washington P-TA Pays Tribute to George Katcher

The George Washington School Parent-Teachers Association in celebration of founders' month made a contribution to the Jenkin's Memorial Scholarship Fund in memory of George P. Katcher, seventh grade teacher in the Washington School, who died while in service in the school.

Henry Haltermann, president of the Parent-Teachers Association unit presented a check to Mrs. Raymond Gilkey, Ulster County director of the district, in memory of Katcher. Mrs. Gilkey in accepting the contribution to the Jenkin's Memorial Scholarship paid tribute to Katcher's memory. She said, "The best a person can be is in giving his own self to service for others. A person who makes his whole life one of training for and using that training for the shaping and developing youth to their fullest capacity, does so with great spirit of devotion and dedication that goes over and beyond his own concerns."

She went on to say, "It is in this frame of mind that we pauses to reflect a moment on this singleness of purpose displayed by one of your very own teachers, the late George Katcher, whom your George Washington School P-TA has chosen to receive this honor of a memorial life membership to P-TA."

Mrs. Gilkey further said, "Mrs. Katcher will be pleased to know that in her husband's name, the George Washington School P-TA has made a contribution to aid future teachers-in-training who will be carrying on the inspiring and dedicated life with boys and girls that was displayed always and forever by Mr. Katcher."

Saugerties Church Offers Color Film On Middle East

The latest film from the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago will be shown Sunday, 7:30 p. m. at First Baptist Church, Partition Street, Saugerties.

According to the Rev. Montreville Seely, DD, pastor of the church, "The Quest," a colored moving picture with sound, is concerned with matters in the turbulent Middle East. Colossal ruins of once-glorious cities have been uncovered. Civilizations whose art and architecture surpass the 20th century have flourished and fallen into dust. It is possible that the sordid, idolatrous history of proud Syria, Lebanon and Egypt mirrors our own future, he said. The film is as up to date as tomorrow's newspaper. Now that the Middle East is so much in our news this film will be worth seeing, the Rev. Mr. Seely said.

Minus Eddie, Now

Critics See '59 Big Year For Debbie

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Debbie Reynolds, 26, the film colony's latest divorcee, was swept up in the activities of a busy career today.

The ex-Mrs. Eddie Fisher surprised friends on the 20th Century-Fox lot by showing up immediately after the divorce was granted Thursday although she'd been given the day off.

Debbie explained she's anxious to finish the picture, "Say One For Me," as soon as possible. Plans call for her to leave next week for Spain on location for another movie.

Critics have predicted that 1959 will be the biggest year of her career for the petite actress.

Fisher, meantime, has been busy denying reports that he intends to marry Elizabeth Taylor very shortly in Mexico, presumably after the singer obtained a quickie Mexican divorce.

Fisher and Miss Taylor, admittedly very much in love with each other, both branded the reports "ridiculous."

Under California law, the decree entered in Los Angeles will not be final for a year. Should Fisher wed again before that time, the marriage would not be recognized in this state.

Casinos Open Again

HAVANA (AP)—The action was lively at eight Havana casinos which were allowed to reopen Thursday night.

The tables in six luxury hotels and two nightclubs were given 30-day permits by Fidel Castro's revolutionary regime. The rebels closed down all gambling when they took over.

Saugerties Church Offers Color Film On Middle East

The latest film from the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago will be shown Sunday, 7:30 p. m. at First Baptist Church, Partition Street, Saugerties.

According to the Rev. Montreville Seely, DD, pastor of the church, "The Quest," a colored moving picture with sound, is concerned with matters in the turbulent Middle East. Colossal ruins of once-glorious cities have been uncovered. Civilizations whose art and architecture surpass the 20th century have flourished and fallen into dust. It is possible that the sordid, idolatrous history of proud Syria, Lebanon and Egypt mirrors our own future, he said. The film is as up to date as tomorrow's newspaper. Now that the Middle East is so much in our news this film will be worth seeing, the Rev. Mr. Seely said.

Minus Eddie, Now

Critics See '59 Big Year For Debbie

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Debbie Reynolds, 26, the film colony's latest divorcee, was swept up in the activities of a busy career today.

The ex-Mrs. Eddie Fisher surprised friends on the 20th Century-Fox lot by showing up immediately after the divorce was granted Thursday although she'd been given the day off.

Debbie explained she's anxious to finish the picture, "Say One For Me," as soon as possible. Plans call for her to leave next week for Spain on location for another movie.

Critics have predicted that 1959 will be the biggest year of her career for the petite actress.

Fisher, meantime, has been busy denying reports that he intends to marry Elizabeth Taylor very shortly in Mexico, presumably after the singer obtained a quickie Mexican divorce.

Fisher and Miss Taylor, admittedly very much in love with each other, both branded the reports "ridiculous."

Under California law, the decree entered in Los Angeles will not be final for a year. Should Fisher wed again before that time, the marriage would not be recognized in this state.

Casinos Open Again

HAVANA (AP)—The action was lively at eight Havana casinos which were allowed to reopen Thursday night.

The tables in six luxury hotels and two nightclubs were given 30-day permits by Fidel Castro's revolutionary regime. The rebels closed down all gambling when they took over.

Kingston High Cagers in 'Must' Contest at Monticello Tonight

By ED PALLADINO
Freeman Sports Staff

While Newburgh Free Academy attempts to lock up the DUSO championship, Kingston High School players travel to Monticello tonight for a "must" contest. The Maroon has to win its last two league contests in order to insure at least a tie with Poughkeepsie for the second spot in the intersectionals.

A full slate of games is on tap tonight. Other DUSO attractions find Poughkeepsie at Middletown and Fallsburgh at Liberty. In the UCAL, Onteora seeks the pennant clincher at home against Highland while Rondout Valley is at New Paltz and Wallkill at Marlboro.

In the Dutchess County Scholastic circuit, Roosevelt plays at Arlington and Beacon is at Wappingers Falls. Saugerties hosts Catskill in a non-circuit engagement.

DUSO

KINGSTON at MONTICELLO—The locals have played two straight good games and have lost both of them. If the club can get a few breaks tonight, it should defeat the Monties. The score here was only 58-51 in favor of Kingston, with Joe Uhl in the lineup. He will not play tonight. A win is vitally needed if KHS is to gain a spot in the intersectionals.

PORT JERVIS at NEWBURGH—The Goldbacks rate as solid favorites to all but wrap up the crown. Port was soundly trounced in the first meeting at the Raiders' court. A win today for NFA will clinch no worse than a tie with two weak teams remaining to be played.

UCAL

HIGHLAND at ONTEORA—Coach Ed Witko's boys have their second straight championship within easy reach. Highland is an improved club but does not figure to handle the Indians at their own court. Look for Bruce Wiederspiel to make the pennant official tonight.

RONDOUT at NEW PALTZ—If the Huguenots are to win a league game, this could be the time. Rondout was forced to go all out in the first meeting between the two rivals. New Paltz has looked good in recent starts and may have enough to win its first loop engagement in two seasons.

WALLKILL at MARLBORO—The visitors need a win to insure second place. Marlboro is hot and cold and will be troublesome. Wallkill might suffer a natural letdown after the big meeting with Onteora last week. This will be a close one.

ROBERTS REPORTS EARLY—Robin Roberts, veteran Philadelphia Phillies hurler, chats with team's manager Eddie Sawyer at Clearwater, Fla. The big righthander, who hadn't thrown a ball since last fall, reported to the training camp early and began loosening up his arm. He had a 17-14 record last year. (AP Wirephoto)

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Ron Davis, Oswego's prolific basketball scorer, exploded for 49 points—half his team's total—as Oswego whipped Potsdam State 98-73 Thursday night.

Davis, ranked ninth last week among NCAA small-college scorers, whipped in 15 field goals and 19 foul shots in the game at Potsdam. He has averaged approximately 25 points per game.

Oswego gained its 17th victory in 18 starts. Potsdam has won two of 15.

In other games involving Upstate teams, St. John's of New York defeated Niagara 87-78, Hobart upset Clarkson 70-64, Brockport trimmed Fredonia State 74-48, Middlebury edged RPI 63-61 and St. Peter's of Jersey City trounced Siena 75-51.

St. John's fast break was too much for the Purple Eagles as Al Seiden scored 31 points and Tony Jackson netted 27 at New York City. Niagara's Al Butler led his team with 19. The Eagles have won 15 and lost five.

Jim Upper and John Adams led Hobart with 23 points each and Clarkson's Bob Shepard dumped in 21 at Geneva. The victory was Hobart's fifth in 15 games. Clarkson has won nine and lost six.

St. Peter's scored 26 straight points at Jersey City, N. J., to belt Siena with its 13th loss in 16 games.

Blue Skies Greet Skiers in First Olympic Trails

SQUAW VALLEY, Calif. (AP)—The weatherman came up with a promise of blue skies for Saturday's start of the North American Ski Championships, all important Olympic dress rehearsal in the initial qualifying show for U. S. Olympic hopefuls.

Competitors from 14 nations took full advantage of Thursday's sunshine to ski, skate on the new quartermile speed oval and jump off the mammoth 80 meter (262 foot) jumping hill.

The climate was such that Willy Schaeffler, director of Olympic ski events, planned to take another look today at the men's downhill course off 9,100-foot Squaw Peak to see if it can be put in shape.

The heavy snow — 104 inches in 11 days — has forced the men's downhill to be switched to the giant slalom mountain, KT22. If necessary, two runs off that 8,100-foot peak will be made with the best combined time the winner.

Excess snow brought one more change. The slalom, originally scheduled Sunday, will be run as the opening event Saturday on the lower part of KT22. Changing this race from Sunday gives work crews an additional day to prepare the upper part of the mountain for Sunday's giant slaloms.

Accident May End Art Devlin's Career

LEAVENWORTH, Wash. (AP)—Art Devlin, 36, one of the nation's outstanding ski jumpers, says his career may be over because of the third in a series of misfortunes that have plagued him here.

Devlin suffered a dislocated shoulder Thursday while leaving the ski area after completing a practice jump for Sunday's national championship. His ski caught in a rut and flipped him onto the shoulder.

He said he may have to quit because "I'm too old." He had hoped to make the U. S. Olympic team for the fourth time.

Devlin suffered the worst accident of his career in 1947 when he fell in making the longest competitive jump recorded on this course—286 feet. In 1955, he broke a wrist while competing in the nationals.

Montreal's Moore Threat to Bathgate

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Dickie Moore, the Montreal Canadiens' swashbuckling center, isn't taking Andy Bathgate's threat to the National Hockey league scoring crown sitting down.

Moore, who won last year, trails the New York ace by two points, after racking up a goal and two assists in Montreal's 7-0 belting of the Detroit Red Wings Thursday night.

Moore now is tied with teammate Boom Boom Geoffrion and Chicago's Ed Litzenberger for second place. But he has 31 goals, compared to Bathgate's 30, and final determinant in case of a tie for most points scored at the end of the season.

Montreal's victory brought goalie Jacques Plante his eighth shutout and also brought Detroit its 28th loss, the most in the club's history.

New Second Baseman Certain for Braves

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The Milwaukee Braves may have to start the 1959 baseball season with Felix Mantilla or Casey Wise at second base.

Red Schoendienst, who underwent major surgery Thursday to speed his recovery from tuberculosis, definitely is out for the start of the season and it is unlikely that he can play all this year.

Fifth Straight Win

MJM Juniors in 64-55 Win Over Roosevelt

PARAMUS, N. J. (AP)—Former heavyweight boxer Lee Savold, 43, has been taken off the critical list at Bergen Pines Hospital where he was admitted Tuesday with a high fever.

The nature of his illness was not disclosed. He once fought Joe Louis and in 1950 held the British version of the heavyweight championship after knocking out Bruce Woodcock.

Clicking beautifully with jump shots from the outside, the Myron J. Michael Junior High cagers whipped Roosevelt High, 64-55 for their fifth straight victory Thursday.

With Bob Hatcher and Frank Allen hitting a steady barrage of long shots, Coach Ronnie Cole's charges were in front all the way, leading by 18 points at one stage of the game.

Allen finished with 19 points and Hatcher had 17. Individual honors went to Banks of Roosevelt with 20 points.

Ford Likes New Pact

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—Holdout Whitey Ford said today he is satisfied with the latest salary terms offered by the New York Yankees but doubts he will sign the contract.

The star left-hander objects to a set of conditions imposed by the front office, relating to his health, behavior and ability to keep his pitching arm in shape.

Ford conferred with Asst. General Manager Roy Hamey for an hour Thursday but left the proffered $35,000 contract unsigned when Hamey insisted on a behavior clause.

The offer represented a $3,000 raise over last year. The Yankees' original offer was $27,000.

"They (Yankee officials) claim I didn't take care of myself last year and that's why my health suffered," said Ford. "They say they want to guard against my getting a sore arm again.

"All I know is I'm in better shape now than I was last spring."

The 30-year-old Ford posted a 14-7 record last season that included 7 shut-outs, the most in the majors, and a 2.01 earned run average, lowest in the American League.

St. Bonaventure, already selected for the NIT, has won 15 of 17 games to date. The Bonnies are regarded as one of the East's strongest quintets. A preliminary will start at 2 p. m.

Here is a rundown of the top engagements:

DUSO

KINGSTON at MONTICELLO—The locals have played two straight good games and have lost both of them. If the club can get a few breaks tonight, it should defeat the Monties. The score here was only 58-51 in favor of Kingston, with Joe Uhl in the line-up. He will not play tonight. A win is vitally needed if KHS is to gain a spot in the intersectionals.

PORT JERVIS at NEWBURGH—The Goldbacks rate as solid favorites to all but wrap up the crown. Port was soundly trounced in the first meeting at the Raiders' court. A win today for NFA will clinch no worse than a tie with two weak teams remaining to be played.

UCAL

HIGHLAND at ONTEORA—Coach Ed Witko's boys have their second straight championship within easy reach. Highland is an improved club but does not figure to handle the Indians at their own court. Look for Bruce Wiederspiel to make the pennant official tonight.

RONDOUT at NEW PALTZ—If the Huguenots are to win a league game, this could be the time. Rondout was forced to go all out in the first meeting between the two rivals. New Paltz has looked good in recent starts and may have enough to win its first loop engagement in two seasons.

WALLKILL at MARLBORO—The visitors need a win to insure second place. Marlboro is hot and cold and will be troublesome. Wallkill might suffer a natural letdown after the big meeting with Onteora last week. This will be a close one.

ROBERTS REPORTS EARLY—Robin Roberts, veteran Philadelphia Phillies hurler, chats with team's manager Eddie Sawyer at Clearwater, Fla. The big righthander, who hadn't thrown a ball since last fall, reported to the training camp early and began loosening up his arm. He had a 17-14 record last year. (AP Wirephoto)

Oswego Hotshot Bags 49 Points

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Ron Davis, Oswego's prolific basketball scorer, exploded for 49 points—half his team's total—as Oswego whipped Potsdam State 98-73 Thursday night.

Davis, ranked ninth last week among NCAA small-college scorers, whipped in 15 field goals and 19 foul shots in the game at Potsdam. He has averaged approximately 25 points per game.

Oswego gained its 17th victory in 18 starts. Potsdam has won two of 15.

In other games involving Upstate teams, St. John's of New York defeated Niagara 87-78, Hobart upset Clarkson 70-64, Brockport trimmed Fredonia State 74-48, Middlebury edged RPI 63-61 and St. Peter's of Jersey City trounced Siena 75-51.

St. John's fast break was too much for the Purple Eagles as Al Seiden scored 31 points and Tony Jackson netted 27 at New York City. Niagara's Al Butler led his team with 19. The Eagles have won 15 and lost five.

Jim Upper and John Adams led Hobart with 23 points each and Clarkson's Bob Shepard dumped in 21 at Geneva. The victory was Hobart's fifth in 15 games. Clarkson has won nine and lost six.

St. Peter's scored 26 straight points at Jersey City, N. J., to belt Siena with its 13th loss in 16 games.

Blue Skies Greet Skiers in First Olympic Trails

SQUAW VALLEY, Calif. (AP)—The weatherman came up with a promise of blue skies for Saturday's start of the North American Ski Championships, all important Olympic dress rehearsal in the initial qualifying show for U. S. Olympic hopefuls.

Competitors from 14 nations took full advantage of Thursday's sunshine to ski, skate on the new quartermile speed oval and jump off the mammoth 80 meter (262 foot) jumping hill.

The climate was such that Willy Schaeffler, director of Olympic ski events, planned to take another look today at the men's downhill course off 9,100-foot Squaw Peak to see if it can be put in shape.

The heavy snow — 104 inches in 11 days — has forced the men's downhill to be switched to the giant slalom mountain, KT22. If necessary, two runs off that 8,100-foot peak will be made with the best combined time the winner.

Excess snow brought one more change. The slalom, originally scheduled Sunday, will be run as the opening event Saturday on the lower part of KT22. Changing this race from Sunday gives work crews an additional day to prepare the upper part of the mountain for Sunday's giant slaloms.

Accident May End Art Devlin's Career

LEAVENWORTH, Wash. (AP)—Art Devlin, 36, one of the nation's outstanding ski jumpers, says his career may be over because of the third in a series of misfortunes that have plagued him here.

Devlin suffered a dislocated shoulder Thursday while leaving the ski area after completing a practice jump for Sunday's national championship. His ski caught in a rut and flipped him onto the shoulder.

He said he may have to quit because "I'm too old." He had hoped to make the U. S. Olympic team for the fourth time.

Devlin suffered the worst accident of his career in 1947 when he fell in making the longest competitive jump recorded on this course—286 feet. In 1955, he broke a wrist while competing in the nationals.

Montreal's Moore Threat to Bathgate

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Dickie Moore, the Montreal Canadiens' swashbuckling center, isn't taking Andy Bathgate's threat to the National Hockey league scoring crown sitting down.

Moore, who won last year, trails the New York ace by two points, after racking up a goal and two assists in Montreal's 7-0 belting of the Detroit Red Wings Thursday night.

Moore now is tied with teammate Boom Boom Geoffrion and Chicago's Ed Litzenberger for second place. But he has 31 goals, compared to Bathgate's 30, and final determinant in case of a tie for most points scored at the end of the season.

Montreal's victory brought goalie Jacques Plante his eighth shutout and also brought Detroit its 28th loss, the most in the club's history.

New Second Baseman Certain for Braves

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The Milwaukee Braves may have to start the 1959 baseball season with Felix Mantilla or Casey Wise at second base.

Red Schoendienst, who underwent major surgery Thursday to speed his recovery from tuberculosis, definitely is out for the start of the season and it is unlikely that he can play all this year.

Fifth Straight Win

MJM Juniors in 64-55 Win Over Roosevelt

PARAMUS, N. J. (AP)—Former heavyweight boxer Lee Savold, 43, has been taken off the critical list at Bergen Pines Hospital where he was admitted Tuesday with a high fever.

The nature of his illness was not disclosed. He once fought Joe Louis and in 1950 held the British version of the heavyweight championship after knocking out Bruce Woodcock.

Clicking beautifully with jump shots from the outside, the Myron J. Michael Junior High cagers whipped Roosevelt High, 64-55 for their fifth straight victory Thursday.

With Bob Hatcher and Frank Allen hitting a steady barrage of long shots, Coach Ronnie Cole's charges were in front all the way, leading by 18 points at one stage of the game.

Allen finished with 19 points and Hatcher had 17. Individual honors went to Banks of Roosevelt with 20 points.

Ford Likes New Pact

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—Holdout Whitey Ford said today he is satisfied with the latest salary terms offered by the New York Yankees but doubts he will sign the contract.

The star left-hander objects to a set of conditions imposed by the front office, relating to his health, behavior and ability to keep his pitching arm in shape.

Ford conferred with Asst. General Manager Roy Hamey for an hour Thursday but left the proffered $35,000 contract unsigned when Hamey insisted on a behavior clause.

The offer represented a $3,000 raise over last year. The Yankees' original offer was $27,000.

"They (Yankee officials) claim I didn't take care of myself last year and that's why my health suffered," said Ford. "They say they want to guard against my getting a sore arm again.

"All I know is I'm in better shape now than I was last spring."

The 30-year-old Ford posted a 14-7 record last season that included 7 shut-outs, the most in the majors, and a 2.01 earned run average, lowest in the American League.

Denver Cagers are Headed For First NCAA Tournament

Pioneers Within Half Game of Lead

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The University of Denver usually is associated with the best in college hockey and skiing. Now the Pioneers may come up with a championship basketball team and get into the NCAA tourney for the first time to help celebrate the state of Colorado centennial. The Pioneers delighted a howling Crowd of 2,900 Thursday night at the Denver fieldhouse as they snapped Utah's 11-game winning streak 67-62 and moved within half a game of the first place Utes in the Skyline Conference. Denver now has a conference record of 8-2 compared to Utah's 8-1. The Pioneers have four conference games left and Utah five.

The game highlighted a slim national program.

NYU beat Villanova 78-60 and St. Johns (NY) defeated Niagara 87-78 in a doubleheader before 10,125 at New York's Madison Square Garden. Butler, which beat Notre Dame Monday in three overtimes, had its seven-game winning streak snapped by Indiana State 88-87 in two overtimes.

Belmont Abbey's 18-game winning streak went by the boards at the hands of Presbyterian 56-53. Wheaton chalked up its 55th straight in the College Conference of Illinois by drubbing Elmhurst 81-54. In other games Massachusetts scored its second upset of the week, a 68-65 victory over Boston College, and Montana walloped New Mexico 84-59 in a Skyline Conference fray.

Junior Scores 30

Jim Peay, a 6-2 junior from Rye, N.Y., sparked Denver to its must win over Utah. He scored 30 points on 12 field goals and six free throws and snared 15 rebounds.

NYU's hopes for a bid to the NIT soared after the Violets drubbed Villanova, already picked for the tourney. Tom Sanders was high with 28 points and Cal Ramsey collected 13 to become the highest scorer in NYU history with 1,105 points. St. Johns, led by Al Seiden, with 31 points, and Tony Jackson, with 27, piled up a 70-56 lead before Niagara made a futile rally.

Indiana State beat Butler on a free throw by Warren Ross that broke an 87-87 tie. The regulation game ended 74-74 and the first overtime 80-80. It was good foul shooting, too, that gave Massachusetts its victory over Boston College. Curt Teeter flipped in three charity tosses in the final minute.

Jack Sullivan's free throw with three seconds left to play gave the Quantico Marines a 51-50 overtime victory over Providence.

Group Pressing for Flat Track Near Canandaigua

CANANDAIGUA, N. Y. (AP)—It's a pretty good wager that bettors will be lined up at pari-mutuel windows at a Thoroughbred track near here in the not-too-distant future.

There were indications today that the State Racing Commission would award a license to one of two groups seeking to operate a flat track, seven miles north of here, near the Thruway.

However, three church agencies have announced opposition to the track and plan to protest at a public hearing Saturday.

Racing Commissioner Ashley T. Cole of New York City said Thursday the two applicants had submitted acceptable plans, were reputable and had good financial backing.

The Finger Lakes Racing Assn. Inc., and a group headed by Joseph C. O'Dea, a Rochester-area veterinarian, are seeking a license to operate the track. If approved, the track would be located on 400 acres in the Town of Farmington.

Early Decision

Cole said the decision might be made within a matter of days after the hearing.

Three chapters of the State Council of Churches oppose the plan.

The Syracuse and Onondaga County councils called the growth of racetracks a "creeping malignancy that is all about us."

The Genesee County council said it also would fight the track.

Cole said the testimony of residents of Farmington and Canandaigua would carry the greatest weight in the commission's decision.

He said the county would be entitled to levy a 15 per cent admissions tax and that employment during the track's construction would be heavy. He said, also, that 300 to 400 persons would be employed during the race season.

Illinois Pinmen In ABC Top Ten

ST. LOUIS (AP) —Four Illinois teams crowded into the top 10 of the American Bowling Congress Tournament open team division Thursday night.

But none could unseat Metropolitan Clothing of Dayton, Ohio, which took first place in the 72-day tourney on opening night.

East End Tavern of Monticello started off with 914, got warmer with 1081 and then rolled 1040 for a total of 2935. That gave East End second place, just 20 pins short of the Ohio leaders.

The other Illinois teams which made the top 10 were Old Style Lager of Decatur, 2923, fourth place; Norm's Camera Shop, Decatur, 2899, seventh place and C & E Super Valu, Galesburg, 2850.

Standings in the singles, doubles, all-events and booster team division remained unchanged.

Operation to Speed Schoendienst Case

ST. LOUIS (AP) —Red Schoendienst was reported in good condition today after an operation expected to speed his recovery from tuberculosis but it remained unlikely he can play baseball this season.

The operation is not an unusual one for tubercular patients. The diseased portion of his right lung was removed in a three-hour operation.

Dr. William A. Werner, one of Red's physicians, said everything went according to plan.

Olmedo Seeks Pro Assistance

NEW YORK (AP) — Alejandro Olmedo said today he plans to call on Jack Kramer's pros, so instrumental in his Australian triumphs, to help hone him in shape for the Wimbleton Tennis Championship this summer.

"School will take so much of time that I will have little chance to play or 'practice,'" the 22-year-old Peruvian said. "I will practice with Pancho Gonzalez and Pancho Segura every chance I get. They are a big help to my game."

These two pros, plus promoter Jack Kramer, whipped the pride of the Incas into the shape in which he almost single handedly won the Davis Cup and later took the Australian national title.

Olmedo made his debut on hardwood here Thursday night in the national indoor championships and won over Henry Jungle Jr., of Colorado Springs, an Air Force officer, 6-4, 6-3. Olmedo played after a delayed cross - country plane flight from Los Angeles with little benefit of sleep.

Olmedo will have to be better tonight if he survives his second-round duel Julius Heldman, who eliminated Kosei Kamo, Japanese Davis Cup star, 6-2, 6-3.

Barry MacKay, Olmedo's Davis Cup mate from Dayton, Ohio, defeated Mike Franks of Los Angeles, 24-22, 4-6, 6-3.

Jaroslav Drobyny of Egypt, top-seeded foreigner, rallied for a 10-12, 6-4, 7-5 decision over Grant Golden of Wilmette, Ill., and Australia's Warren Woodcock, was pushed to beat Charles Masterson of Brooklyn, 2-6, 6-3, 6-4.

The favored Dick Savitt of New York, defending champion, breezed past Wilbert Davis of New York, 6-1, 6-1. Earl Buchholz Jr., of St. Louis, seeded No. 4, will play two matches today.

Fullmer Is 2-1 Pick Over Wilfie Greaves at Garden

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Confident, young Wilfie Greaves believes he has improved enough in two years to reverse his loss to former middleweight champion Gene Fullmer.

The 23-year-old Canadian champ now fighting out of Detroit, will get the chance to square accounts with the 27-year-old Mormon from West Jordan, Utah, in the televised (NBC, 10 p.m. EST) 10-rounder at Madison Square Garden tonight.

Fullmer is the 12-5 favorite.

"I've improved 100 per cent since I fought him last (Jan. 28, 1957)," said Greaves, a poised, handsome blond native of Edmonton, Alta. "I had only 16 fights when I fought Gene. Since that fight, I've learned to put my punches together and get more power behind them. I think I can beat him now for No. 14."

He has a winning streak of 13, started 14 months ago. Fullmer has won eight in a row.

"He's a good kid," said Fullmer. "He gave me a real good workout that first time. But I've got too much at stake to lose to him. I'm still hoping to get another shot at the middleweight title and I know I'll never get the chance if I lose this one. I won't."

Detroit Hints Trade With A's

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Tigers said today there is a possibility of a three-way player deal that would involve the Kansas City Athletics and the Cleveland Indians.

Acting Gen. Mgr. Rick Ferrell said in a telephone interview with The Associated Press from the Tiger training base in Lakeland, Fla., that "a three-way deal is one of the things that interests us."

However, Ferrell said there is no truth to a published report that the Detroit club has offered outfielder Harvey Kuenn, pitcher Bill Hoeft and third baseman Eddie Yost to Kansas City for outfielder Roger Maris and infielder Hector Lopez.

But he readily stated that Maris is the player the Tigers would like most to get. He also would like to land Larry Doby from Cleveland.

Wesley Ellis Fires 66 But Faces Ancient Hex

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Young Wesley Ellis Jr. showed off for his home town Thursday — he shot a 5-under-par 66 for the first round lead in the $20,000 Texas Open. But he said it may have been the worst thing he could have done.

Golfers along the tour say the toughest tournament to win is in your home town.

So Ellis, who grew up in San Antonio, played golf at the University of Texas, and now follows the weary tour out of Aldecress, N.J., quaked as he set out at the head of the pack in the second round of the ancient Texas Open today.

Ellis was magnificent as he strode through a drizzle of rain and biting cold to a 2-stroke lead over the 150-man field in the opening round. He was getting the job done largely with a putter he borrowed from a fellow professional Gil Cavanaugh, last summer.

Stars like Gene Littler, Marty Furgol and Jimmy Demaret found Brackenridge Park's 6,490-yard layout difficult to handle and so did most of the others trying for the $2,800 first money. Only five players managed to better par compared to 15 on opening day last year.

Bill Johnston of Provo, Utah, who won the tournament last year, had a 68 for second place. Joe Jimenez of Manhattan, Kan., another former San Antonio resident, shot a 69, including an eagle in doing the front nine in 3-under-par 32—the best nine of the day.

Tied at 70 were Don Whitt of Barrego Springs, Calif., and Al Balding of Markham, Canada.

BURLINGAME, Calif. (AP) — Arthur Knight, former owner of the Rome, N. Y., baseball team in the defunct Canadian-American League, is dead at 54. He died Wednesday night after suffering a heart attack in his home.

Knight, who had been associated with baseball since his boyhood, purchased the Rome club after serving as an umpire in the Canadian - American League in 1936. He was born in Rome.

Knight operated a news service called "Player Periscope," containing information about promising players. He also had been sports editor of the Columbus, Ohio, Citizen, the San Mateo Times and of radio station KSMO.

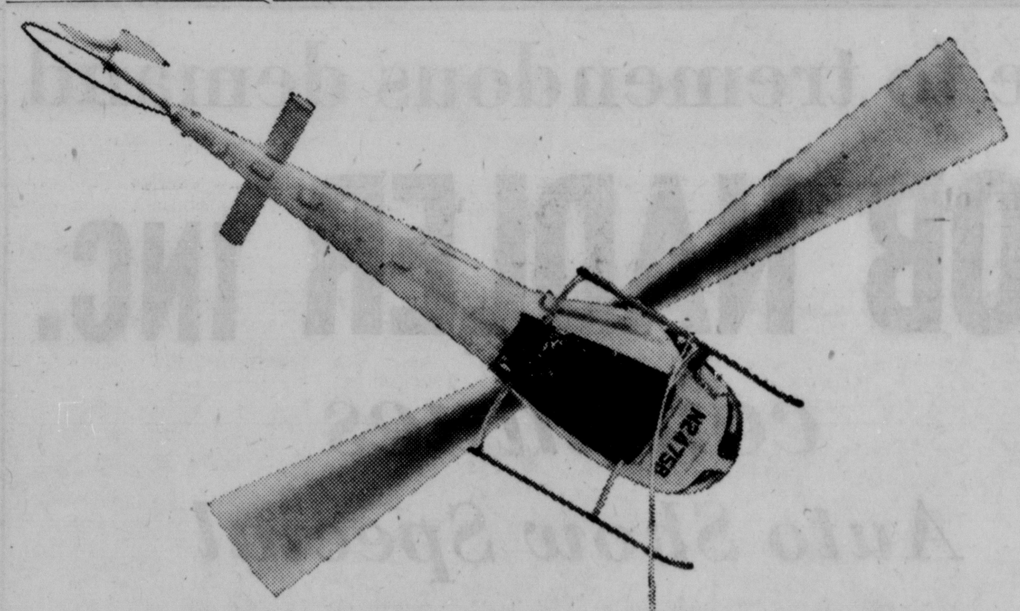

Survivors include his widow, Flora, who is deputy city treasurer of Burlingame.

Denver Cagers are Headed For First NCAA Tournament

Pioneers Within Half Game of Lead

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The University of Denver usually is associated with the best in college hockey and skiing. Now the Pioneers may come up with a championship basketball team and get into the NCAA tourney for the first time to help celebrate the state of Colorado centennial. The Pioneers delighted a howling Crowd of 2,900 Thursday night at the Denver fieldhouse as they snapped Utah's 11-game winning streak 67-62 and moved within half a game of the first place Utes in the Skyline Conference. Denver now has a conference record of 8-2 compared to Utah's 8-1. The Pioneers have four conference games left and Utah five.

The game highlighted a slim national program.

NYU beat Villanova 78-60 and St. Johns (NY) defeated Niagara 87-78 in a doubleheader before 10,125 at New York's Madison Square Garden. Butler, which beat Notre Dame Monday in three overtimes, had its seven-game winning streak snapped by Indiana State 88-87 in two overtimes.

Belmont Abbey's 18-game winning streak went by the boards at the hands of Presbyterian 56-53. Wheaton chalked up its 55th straight in the College Conference of Illinois by drubbing Elmhurst 81-54. In other games Massachusetts scored its second upset of the week, a 68-65 victory over Boston College, and Montana walloped New Mexico 84-59 in a Skyline Conference fray.

Junior Scores 30

Jim Peay, a 6-2 junior from Rye, N.Y., sparked Denver to its must win over Utah. He scored 30 points on 12 field goals and six free throws and snared 15 rebounds.

NYU's hopes for a bid to the NIT soared after the Violets drubbed Villanova, already picked for the tourney. Tom Sanders was high with 28 points and Cal Ramsey collected 13 to become the highest scorer in NYU history with 1,105 points. St. Johns, led by Al Seiden, with 31 points, and Tony Jackson, with 27, piled up a 70-56 lead before Niagara made a futile rally.

Indiana State beat Butler on a free throw by Warren Ross that broke an 87-87 tie. The regulation game ended 74-74 and the first overtime 80-80. It was good foul shooting, too, that gave Massachusetts its victory over Boston College. Curt Teeter flipped in three charity tosses in the final minute.

Jack Sullivan's free throw with three seconds left to play gave the Quantico Marines a 51-50 overtime victory over Providence.

Group Pressing for Flat Track Near Canandaigua

CANANDAIGUA, N. Y. (AP)—It's a pretty good wager that bettors will be lined up at pari-mutuel windows at a Thoroughbred track near here in the not-too-distant future.

There were indications today that the State Racing Commission would award a license to one of two groups seeking to operate a flat track, seven miles north of here, near the Thruway.

However, three church agencies have announced opposition to the track and plan to protest at a public hearing Saturday.

Racing Commissioner Ashley T. Cole of New York City said Thursday the two applicants had submitted acceptable plans, were reputable and had good financial backing.

The Finger Lakes Racing Assn. Inc., and a groun headed by Joseph C. O'Dea, a Rochester-area veterinarian, are seeking a license to operate the track. If approved, the track would be located on 400 acres in the Town of Farmington.

Early Decision

Cole said the decision might be made within a matter of days after the hearing.

Three chapters of the State Council of Churches oppose the plan.

The Syracuse and Onondaga County councils called the growth of racetracks a "creeping malignancy that is all about us."

The Genesee County council said it also would fight the track.

Cole said the testimony of residents of Farmington and Canandaigua would carry the greatest weight in the commission's decision.

He said the county would be entitled to levy a 15 per cent admissions tax and that employment during the track's construction would be heavy. He said, also, that 300 to 400 persons would be employed during the race season.

Costello Loses Citizenship

NEW YORK (AP)—The citizenship of Frank Costello was revoked today by U.S. Dist. Judge Archie O. Dawson.

Costello, 68, currently is serving a five-year sentence for federal income tax evasion.

The government has waged a long legal battle to strip from Costello the U.S. citizenship it claimed he obtained through fraud and misrepresentation in 1925.

Judge Dawson's action paved the way for what is expected to be the government's next move—to deport Costello to his native Italy.

The government had tried once before to denaturalize him. The case was thrown out by a federal court in 1956 on the ground that the government evidence was "permeated with the fruit of illegal wire taps."

The government then set out again to achieve its goal employing evidence it said was not obtained by wiretaps.

Costello long has been regarded as one of the topmost men in the underworld, and at one time was tabbed its "prime minister."

His voice became familiar to many millions of Americans a few years ago during the nationally televised New York hearings on crime conducted by the U. S. Senate committee headed by Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.).

Only Costello's voice was heard during his witness chair appearance because of his demand that his face not be shown. Viewers now and then caught a glimpse of his hands as he dueled verbally with Rudolph Halley, chief counsel of the committee.

Road Test of Car Stirs Boys' Imagination

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Here's what a pair of vivid imaginations can do to a set of facts.

Two 10-year-old boys rushed to police in suburban Darby. They said they saw four men beat a man in a white apron, throw him in the trunk of a car and drive off.

A little police checking brought out the facts. First, there were only two men, Angelo De Natale, 23, a mechanic, and his shop foreman, John Romanchick, 33. Second, they hadn't tossed a fist in anger.

Third, they were road-testing a customer's car and De Natale crawled into the trunk to check for noises.

Nats and Celts In Lively Brawl

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Maurice Podoloff, president of the National Basketball Assn., has that old bugaboo, deportment of fans, officials and players, to contend with again today.

The latest incident occurred Thursday night in Syracuse, N.Y. where the Syracuse Nats downed the Boston Celts, 113-105.

Many times this season, Podoloff and the league have been taken to task for the lack of supervision and support given game officials in keeping the play within order. Thursday night's brawling occurred in the fourth quarter.

Referee Sid Borgia, became embroiled after remarks from a spectator. Ushers and police intervened after a brief exchange.

With five minutes to go, Syracuse George Dempsey and Boston's Bill Russell began swinging and Frank Ramsey also took up with Dempsey.

Three minutes later, Boston's Tom Heinsohn and Syracuse's Dolph Schayes began a slugging match. Syracuse Coach Paul Seymour tried to break it up, and got embroiled with Heinsohn.

That invited everyone and it took police five minutes to restore order.

Schayes led Syracuse with 33 points and Heinsohn had 24 for Boston.

Tessie—What is your brother in college?

Jessie—A half-back.

Tessie—I mean in his studies.

Jessie—Oh, in his studies he's away back.

First Girl—I had a date with a soldier last night. He's been overseas and this is his first liberty.

Second Girl—You mean furlough, liberty is what a sailor takes. Soldiers never take liberties.

First Girl—Are you kidding?

In window of a reducing salon in Chicago: "Come in and Shoo the Fat."

LAMENT

Whenever I'm stuck by a borrowing friend,
No one but myself is to blame.
I know it's more blessed to give than to lend,
And the cost is most always the same.
—S. Omar Barker

She—I don't like all these flies.

He—Pick out the ones you like—and I'll kill the rest.

Suitor (sighing) — Well, since you don't want to marry me after all, perhaps you'll return my ring.

Girl (acidly) — If you must know, your jeweler has called for it already.

Rich Aunt — I'm sorry you don't like your gift, but I did ask you if you wanted a large or small check.

Nephew—Yes, but I didn't know you were talking about neckties!

No Idle Threat

My daughter cried: "I'll get it!"
When our telephone was shrill.
And unless she soon gets off it,
She definitely will.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

Is Appointed Co-Chairman of Cancer Crusade

DR. STEPHEN McGRATH

The appointment of Dr. Stephen McGrath, local dentist, as general co-chairman of the Cancer Crusade for 1959 was announced today by George Svirsky, Crusade chairman.

Dr. McGrath said he was delighted to be asked to serve.

He is a graduate of Harvard College and the Harvard School of Dental Medicine and is currently the president-elect of the Third District Dental Society of the State of New York and third vice-president of the Kingston Lions Club.

He is also active on the board of directors of the Ulster County Cerebral Palsy Center, the Kingston Boys Club and the Sight Conservation Society of Northeast New York.

He issued this statement today:

"If in this attempt to attain our monetary quota we can also instill in the citizenry of Ulster County a sense of cancer awareness, we would have attained our goal. At present the best treatment for cancer lies in its prevention, i.e., prompt recognition of dangerous symptoms, early diagnosis, and immediate care by adequate medical authorities.

"There are no panaceas — no quick cures. The monies obtained by this and similar drives in the month of April throughout the country are allocated, not only locally in terms of cancer therapy, but also nationally in terms of cancer research. By this means it is hoped that cancer will at some time be curable or preventable."

Could Have Been First Argument in 75 Years

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Crafton celebrated their 75th wedding anniversary Thursday and almost had their first argument.

Crafton, 93, is a retired railroad man. Mrs. Crafton is 89.

A reporter asked, "Have you ever had an argument?"

"Nope," he said.

"Not even a little one?"

"Nope."

"Who is boss in the family?" the reporter asked.

"He is," he said.

"She is," he said.

With an argument looking them in the face, Crafton quickly smoothed it over.

"We both are," he said.

Peace returned.

DR. STEPHEN McGRATH

Is Appointed Co-Chairman of Cancer Crusade

The appointment of Dr. Stephen McGrath, local dentist, as general co-chairman of the Cancer Crusade for 1959 was announced today by George Svirsky, Crusade chairman.

Dr. McGrath said he was delighted to be asked to serve.

He is a graduate of Harvard College and the Harvard School of Dental Medicine and is currently the president-elect of the Third District Dental Society of the State of New York and third vice-president of the Kingston Lions Club.

He is also active on the board of directors of the Ulster County Cerebral Palsy Center, the Kingston Boys Club and the Sight Conservation Society of Northeast New York.

He issued this statement today: "If in this attempt to attain our monetary quota we can also instill in the citizenry of Ulster County a sense of cancer awareness, we would have attained our goal. At present the best treatment for cancer lies in its prevention, i.e., prompt recognition of dangerous symptoms, early diagnosis, and immediate care by adequate medical authorities.

"There are no panaceas — no quick cures. The monies obtained by this and similar drives in the month of April throughout the country are allocated, not only locally in terms of cancer therapy, but also nationally in terms of cancer research. By this means it is hoped that cancer will at some time be curable or preventable."

"Nope," he said.

Settlement Made In Negligence

Settlement for an undisclosed amount yesterday ended a negligence action brought by Mrs. Olive S. Moon, Kingston, to recover $185,000 from Albany Hospital. The settlement was announced in Supreme Court in Albany where the trial had been commenced before Justice Herbert D. Hamm, just prior to the taking of testimony.

Mrs. Olive S. Moon contended the hospital was negligent in administering a hypodermic injection on her husband, Edwin T. Moon, 68, before a scheduled operation on November 16, 1956. The injection allegedly struck the sciatic nerve, resulting in permanent paralysis to his left leg.

She also contended that injection of a "foreign substance" contributed to his death August 18, 1957.

There is no Mrs. Olive S. Moon listed in the city directory for 1956.

Smaller Paychecks

Bay State Starts Withholding Plan

BOSTON (AP)— Beginning this week virtually everybody in Massachusetts with a job will collect a smaller pay check.

That's because a newly enacted state law withholding personal income taxes went into effect Feb. 15.

But it will affect more than those who work for wages and salaries.

Other Complications

Each quarter, it will reach into the pockets of the self-employed and those living on unearned incomes. Such persons are faced with the knotty problem of estimating how much they will earn, or whether the stock they own will pay any dividends in the year ahead — and how much. If they guess too high, it will be many months before they can get the money back.

Adjustments on overpayments must come after income tax returns for 1959 are filed next year.

Meantime, there are other complications.

Double Deductions

The withholding provision is retroactive to Jan. 1. Therefore, there will be double withholding deductions each pay day until the taxes in arrears are made up.

That's not all. On April 15, income taxpayers must plank down their Massachusetts income tax for last year.

If the taxpayer works in Massachusetts but lives in an adjoining state, he still has to pay. Considerable numbers of Massachusetts workers have homes in Rhode Island, Connecticut, New Hampshire or Vermont.

A spot check showed some taxpayers thought the withholding principle would be a relief in solving the annual problem of finding the money for the state income tax.

Some Indignant

But many other taxpayers were openly indignant. Some objected to the fact that within one calendar year they would have to turn over to the state two years' tax money. Some were suspicious that withholding would be a prelude to increased income taxation, as it was with Federal taxes. Some felt that retroactive taxation was illegal.

Ford Blames Labor

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — Henry Ford II has accused big labor of slowing down America's economic progress.

The Ford Motor Company president said labor is thus "thwarting the very improvement in productivity and the increased economic growth that it says it wants."

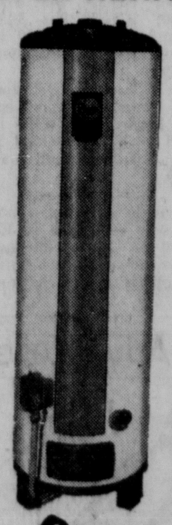

He said labor might be controlled by legislation similar to the Sherman Antitrust Act, which controls business power and size.

Ford's speech Thursday night was part of a Yale University lecture series.

Ford said organized labor is obstructing a "new productive explosion in the American economy."

Panama Upheaval

Junta Installs Councilmen by Defying Leader

PANAMA (AP) — An orderly crowd of thousands early today defied President Ernesto de La Guardia Jr. and installed 11 new city councilmen for the Panamanian capital.

The crowd seized control of City Hall Wednesday after the blackjacking of a radio commentator who accused the council of mishandling city funds. The council refused to resign, and the president said he had no legal power to remove it since the councilmen's elected four-year terms do not end until next year.

De La Guardia has appealed for the people to wait until an investigation could be made of the financial charges.

Leaders of the popular movement announced a general strike would be called if necessary to put the new council in full control.

The march on the municipal building Wednesday came after office hours and there was no violence. Leaders of the demonstration constituted themselves as a "Revolutionary Municipal Junta" and said they would run the city until the council was replaced.

Thursday the crowd around city hall alternately diminished and grew but remained orderly. All municipal offices except the courts stayed shut.

Sentence Given On One Charge

One defendant charged with burglary, third degree, and unlawful entry was sentenced to jail before County Judge Louis G. Bruhn. On a plea of guilty to unlawful entry, the sentence was suspended and he was held for New Jersey authorities. Two others involved in the same act were adjudged eligible for treatment under the Youthful Offender statute.

Russell Lee Miller, entered a plea of guilty to unlawful entry. Charles Saccoman appeared for defendant and moved for dismissal of the burglary charge. Judge Bruhn imposed a 137 day jail sentence and gave credit for time served. Miller was wanted in New Jersey for violation of parole and was held for New Jersey authorities.

Clarance Leonard Jackson and Raymond Marshall, involved in the same offense, will be treated under the Youthful Offender statute. Charles Saccoman appeared as counsel for them.

Schlesinger Indicted For Murder, Second

NEW YORK (AP)—A Manhattar grand jury has indicted ex-convict Lee Schlesinger on second-degree murder charges in the slaying of the assistant manager of Birdland, a Broadway Jazz center.

The indictment was handed up Thursday to General Sessions Judge Mitchell D. Schweitzer.

The victim, Zachariah (Irving) Levy, 36, was stabbed to death Jan. 26 while a 15-piece band was playing. The slayer fled the club with a woman.

Dog Doomed

Arthur had to be rescued by a nightbor who smashed through ice for 15 feet.

Thursday a speeding car struck and killed the dog.

Settlement Made In Negligence

Settlement for an undisclosed amount yesterday ended a negligence action brought by Mrs. Olive S. Moon, Kingston, to recover $185,000 from Albany Hospital. The settlement was announced in Supreme Court in Albany where the trial had been commenced before Justice Herbert D. Hamm, just prior to the taking of testimony.

Mrs. Olive S. Moon contended the hospital was negligent in administering a hypodermic injection on her husband, Edwin T. Moon, 68, before a scheduled operation on November 16, 1956. The injection allegedly struck the sciatic nerve, resulting in permanent paralysis to his left leg.

She also contended that injection of a "foreign substance" contributed to his death August 18, 1957.

There is no Mrs. Olive S. Moon listed in the city directory for 1956.

Smaller Paychecks

Bay State Starts Withholding Plan

BOSTON (AP)— Beginning this week virtually everybody in Massachusetts with a job will collect a smaller pay check.

That's because a newly enacted state law withholding personal income taxes went into effect Feb. 15.

But it will affect more than those who work for wages and salaries.

Other Complications

Each quarter, it will reach into the pockets of the self-employed and those living on unearned incomes. Such persons are faced with the knotty problem of estimating how much they will earn, or whether the stock they own will pay any dividends in the year ahead — and how much. If they guess too high, it will be many months before they can get the money back.

Adjustments on overpayments must come after income tax returns for 1959 are filed next year.

Meantime, there are other complications.

Double Deductions

The withholding provision is retroactive to Jan. 1. Therefore, there will be double withholding deductions each pay day until the taxes in arrears are made up.

That's not all. On April 15, income taxpayers must plank down their Massachusetts income tax for last year.

If the taxpayer works in Massachusetts but lives in an adjoining state, he still has to pay. Considerable numbers of Massachusetts workers have homes in Rhode Island, Connecticut, New Hampshire or Vermont.

A spot check showed some taxpayers thought the withholding principle would be a relief in solving the annual problem of finding the money for the state income tax.

Some Indignant

But many other taxpayers were openly indignant. Some objected to the fact that within one calendar year they would have to turn over to the state two years' tax money. Some were suspicious that withholding would be a prelude to increased income taxation, as it was with Federal taxes. Some felt that retroactive taxation was illegal.

Ford Blames Labor

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — Henry Ford II has accused big labor of slowing down America's economic progress.

The Ford Motor Company president said labor is thus "thwarting the very improvement in productivity and the increased economic growth that it says it wants."

He said labor might be controlled by legislation similar to the Sherman Antitrust Act, which controls business power and size.

Ford's speech Thursday night was part of a Yale University lecture series.

Ford said organized labor is obstructing a "new productive explosion in the American economy."

Panama Upheaval

Junta Installs Councilmen by Defying Leader

PANAMA (AP) — An orderly crowd of thousands early today defied President Ernesto de La Guardia Jr. and installed 11 new city councilmen for the Panamanian capital.

The crowd seized control of City Hall Wednesday after the blackjacking of a radio commentator who accused the council of mishandling city funds. The council refused to resign, and the president said he had no legal power to remove it since the councilmen's elected four-year terms do not end until next year.

De La Guardia has appealed for the people to wait until an investigation could be made of the financial charges.

Leaders of the popular movement announced a general strike would be called if necessary to put the new council in full control.

The march on the municipal building Wednesday came after office hours and there was no violence. Leaders of the demonstration constituted themselves as a "Revolutionary Municipal Junta" and said they would run the city until the council was replaced.

Thursday the crowd around city hall alternately diminished and grew but remained orderly. All municipal offices except the courts stayed shut.

Sentence Given On One Charge

One defendant charged with burglary, third degree, and unlawful entry was sentenced to jail before County Judge Louis G. Bruhn. On a plea of guilty to unlawful entry, the sentence was suspended and he was held for New Jersey authorities. Two others involved in the same act were adjudged eligible for treatment under the Youthful Offender statute.

Russell Lee Miller, entered a plea of guilty to unlawful entry. Charles Saccoman appeared for defendant and moved for dismissal of the burglary charge. Judge Bruhn imposed a 137 day jail sentence and gave credit for time served. Miller was wanted in New Jersey for violation of parole and was held for New Jersey authorities.

Clarance Leonard Jackson and Raymond Marshall, involved in the same offense, will be treated under the Youthful Offender statute. Charles Saccoman appeared as counsel for them.

Schlesinger Indicted For Murder, Second

NEW YORK (AP)—A Manhattar grand jury has indicted ex-convict Lee Schlesinger on second-degree murder charges in the slaying of the assistant manager of Birdland, a Broadway Jazz center.

The indictment was handed up Thursday to General Sessions Judge Mitchell D. Schweitzer.

The victim, Zachariah (Irving) Levy, 36, was stabbed to death Jan. 26 while a 15-piece band was playing. The slayer fled the club with a woman.

Dog Doomed

SMITHFIELD, R.I. (AP) — Ten days ago, Arthur Laprade, 11, risked his life plunging into an ice-encrusted lake to rescue his mongrel dog, Pepper.

Arthur had to be rescued by a nightbor who smashed through ice for 15 feet.

Thursday a speeding car struck and killed the dog.
